

BODY RECOVERED FROM CRATER

News Behind The News
By PAUL MALLON.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 28.—Certain private negotiations now are under way which may make the election of Mr. Byrnes to the speakership less certain, than anyone, including Mr. Byrnes, has been predicting.
All that can be said about it now is that the two other candidates (Messrs. Rayburn and Bankhead) are not stepping on each other in the backstage scramble.
Indeed, there are reasons for believing Messrs. Rayburn and Bankhead will ultimately pool their resources so that one will become speaker and the other floor leader of the house. That purpose will naturally be denied now, and forever hereafter, up to the hour of the vote. However, it is such a natural potential alliance that it can hardly be avoided.
The only difficult thing about it is to find some suitable promotion for Byrnes, who commands the respect of all. A major federal appointment might help solve that angle.

TWO RISK DEATH ON MOUNT HOOD TO GET REMAINS

Rescuers Unconscious When Hauled to Surface—Boy Falls to Death While Looking In Gaseous Depth

PORTLAND, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The body of Victor F. Von Normann, Seattle, Wash., youth, who plunged into the crater of Mount Hood yesterday was recovered at 11:53 a. m. today. The two men who braved death to recover the body became unconscious from the gas fumes and had to be revived by Portland fire department men stationed at the brink, when they were hauled to the surface.
Gary Leach of Government camp and Paul Williams, United States forest lookout stationed on the southern slope of Mount Hood, descended into the crater to make the rescue. Leach became unconscious and had to be hauled to the surface by ropes suspending him. Williams continued the work of securing the body and was unconscious when he was hauled to the surface.
The body of Von Normann will be taken down the mountain to Timberline, where it will be turned over to coroner's officers.

WINDSTORM CUTS LOCAL PEAR CROP BY 15 TO 20 CARS

Less Damage Than First Believed, Shown in Cursory Survey — More Storms Predicted for Foot Hills

A gusty 45 mile-per-hour wind that broke over the Rogue river valley Monday evening, between eight and nine o'clock, caused "less damage than one would expect," in the orchards of the valley.
Consensus of growers and packers, some of whom had made cursory surveys this morning, conservatively estimated the loss at between 15 and 20 cars of pears, and the same number of apples. The loss was widely scattered.
Comice pears were the hardest hit. It was estimated that two cars of that variety were blown down at the Hillcrest orchard, and the same number at the Hollywood orchards. The Comice variety are now being picked.
Bulk of Crop Picked
A saving grace is that the bulk of the pear crop has been picked. The boxes have practically all been harvested, and the D'Anjou are 75 per cent gathered.
The wind which came at the end of a muggy day, of low humidity, and a high temperature of 96 degrees, was accompanied by gusts of rain. The wind varied in velocity from the high point of 45 miles per hour.
It is estimated that the apple crop, chiefly Newtowns suffered more than the pears. Picking and packing of apples is scheduled to start next week.
Reports indicate that the wind was higher in the Central Ulnit district. In that city the front of Damon's restaurant was blown in.
Robert K. Norris, horticulturist for the Primate Packing company said he would not attempt to make an estimate of the loss until he had made a survey.
Loss Estimate Vary
Some fruitmen estimated that the loss would run from half a box to five boxes of pears and apples per tree.
County Horticulturist Lyle P. Wilcox and Field Inspector Warner were engaged today in making a survey of the orchards.
Thunderstorms are predicted for today in the high hills, and a lively breeze from a generally westerly direction was blowing over the valley.

Frat Pin Bars Student to Job Drury College

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 28.—(AP)—A fraternity pin may offer an entree to a co-ed's heart, but it will close the door to Drury college students seeking jobs this fall.
Guy Barnes, executive secretary of the college—one of the oldest educational institutions in the Missouri Ozarks—has announced that college and fraternity employment will not be available to members of Greek-letter organizations.
The ruling is based on the supposition that those able to afford a fraternity membership are not badly in need of campus jobs. Barnes has denied a student charge that the college is trying to "break up the fraternities."

JOHNSON'S SALARY HIKE TO $15,000 AS CHIEF OF NRA

Advance Over Former Pay of $6000 Made July 1 Is Just Disclosed—Code Realigning Brings Optimism

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The salary of Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, has been boosted by President Roosevelt from $6000 to $15,000 a year.
The increase began last July 1, but was not disclosed by NRA until today.
At NRA it was said the action was taken to give Johnson a salary more nearly in line with his worth and to enable him to meet heavy living expenses.
When Johnson became NRA head he set his own salary, at $6000. Several times since then, however, he has said publicly that he could not live on that amount, and that was one of the reasons for his wish to return to private life.
The increase was directed by special order of President Roosevelt before Johnson went on his recent trip to the west coast.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—NRA hailed its far reaching realignment.

INTEREST CENTERS ON SINCLAIR'S BID FOR DEMOS' FAVOR

Novelist Would Be Nominee for Governor—Five Oppose Him — Hiram Johnson Seeks 4 Nominations

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Voting in today's primary election gave evidence that one of the heaviest ballots in history would be cast before the polls close tonight at 8 p. m.
In several districts early balloting was light but picked up and by noon predictions of the size of the vote were quickly revised.
By the Associated Press.
Primaries today in California, South Carolina and Mississippi are nominating candidates for two seats in the senate, 33 seats in the house of representatives and one governorship.
The center of interest is the effort of Upton Sinclair, novelist, to obtain the democratic nomination for governor of California. He is opposed by George Creel and four others. The republican nomination is sought by Acting Governor Frank Merriam, former Governor C. G. Young and John R. Quinn, past national commander of the American Legion. Senator Hiram W. Johnson, republican, is after four nominations—republican, democratic, progressive and commonwealth.
South Carolina is voting as to whether sale of liquor in the state shall be legalized, but the result is only for the legislature to take as a guide and is not mandatory. Cole L. Blease, former senator and governor, is one of eight candidates for the democratic nomination for governor. In Mississippi Senator Hubert D. Stephens, democrat, seeking a third term, is opposed by former Governor Theodore G. Bilbo and two others.

Coddling to determine if any criminal responsibility was involved in the auto accident early Sunday morning at Bybee's corner on the Jacksonville highway, that resulted in injuries to Edith Wright, 21, of Central Point, necessitating amputation of her arm yesterday and left her in a critical condition.
George Haas, 19, and Kenneth Sutherland, 21, of this city, occupants of the Buick, were arrested.

The rebellion stopped all work except in the kitchen. At the Graterford prison farm, scene of Saturday's riot, about 1400 prisoners refused to work and to eat.
Three hundred prisoners in the weaving, tailor, shoe and print shops were the first to strike at "Cherry Hill," the main unit of the penitentiary. They were joined by 300 more, known as yard and maintenance men.

FAITH HEALERS DANGER LIFE OF ALABAMA BOY

PORT PAYNE, Ala., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Surgeon's instruments glinting in the flickering light of a kerosene lamp—a mother's lament best in the world chant of the Holiness cult's "unknown tongue"—a boy with a "90-50 chance for life."
Dr. W. T. Miller, one of two surgeons who operated on 8-year old Wallace Doyle Sharp, Jr., straightened from his work and said:
"He has an even chance."
"For my Wallace's parents had refused to permit an operation on his twisted leg. "The Lord will heal him through faith," they said.

TROPICAL GALE STRIKES TEXAS GULF HARD BLOW

FREEPORT, Tex., Aug. 28.—(AP)—A tropical gale which lashed this section of the Texas gulf coast for 24 hours with high winds and torrential rains abated today. No deaths were reported.
Shortly after 8 a. m. the wind had fallen to about 40 miles an hour and the barometer was rising steadily. The storm apparently headed inland.
From midnight until 3 a. m. the wind velocity ranged from 65 to 75 miles, coast guardmen estimated.
The wind, which blew out of the north yesterday, shifted to the north-northeast and blew the water out, keeping the tide to a minimum. For that reason Highway 19, inland to Angleton and Houston was open throughout the night.
Two newspapermen made a hasty survey by automobile today and the only damage they found was one small tree broken down. They were told that a 25-foot boat, anchored in the ship channel, sank.

SMASHUP VICTIMS ALL RECOVERING

The condition of Edith Wright of Central Point, whose arm was amputated yesterday at the Sacred Heart hospital, as the result of an auto accident early Sunday morning at Bybee's corner on the Jacksonville highway, is reported much improved by hospital attendants this afternoon.
The conditions of Al Davis, of Medford, driver of the car, which turned over several times after leaving the highway at George Haas, 19, and Kenneth Sutherland, 21, another passenger in the auto, was treated Sunday for minor injuries to his right arm.
Dr. C. T. Sweeney attended the injured.

PROSPECT BLAZE DUE TO DISCARDED BOTTLE IS CLAIM

With exception of one fire in the Little Chiniquapin mountain district, southeast of Lake of the Woods, which is still burning over approximately 100 acres, the 25 or 30 forest fires started in the Greensprings and Cascade mountains near Medford in Sunday evening's electric storm are all under complete control, forest service officials stated this afternoon.
The Chiniquapin mountain fire is being successfully corralled by fifty CCC men sent from Lake of the Woods by Ranger Hugh Ritter, and by firefighters from the Klamath County Protective association, the forest service said.
Rays of the sun, shining through the many sided angles of a discarded and empty salad dressing bottle, which acted as a magnifying glass, started the fire Saturday in the pasture adjoining the California-Oregon Power company sub-station. At Prospect, which swept over about 500 acres of grass and brush before it was checked in the gorge of Rogue river, and brought under control late Sunday.
Forest service and power company aides looking for clues yesterday, visited the pasture, which is also used as a diamond by the Prospect ball club, and came to the conclusion that the cast-off salad bottle was the innocent cause of the conflagration. There were no signs of lightning, cigarettes, firebugs, or other generally attributed causes of forest fires, so the blame was placed upon the salad bottle.
Sun Was Hot
The sun was hot and the bottle was lying in just the right position to ignite the tinder-like grass and brush.

OREGON INDUSTRY DROPS WORKERS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The federal reserve bank of San Francisco reported today its Oregon employment survey showed 112 industrial establishments decreased employment six per cent from June 15 to July 15.
"All industrial groups shared in the decrease," the survey said, "although ordinarily there is little change between those two months."
The actual decline in total employment was the first this year. It was also the first since January on a seasonal adjusted basis.
Payrolls also were reduced by substantially more than the usual June-July decrease. Both employment and payrolls showed the first year-period decrease in more than a year, partly because of the relatively high level of July, 1933.
