

PORTLAND LABOR SEEKS FARM HELP FOR THIRD PARTY

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 1.—(AP)—The state federation of labor today assumed the initiative in attempting to weld "farm organizations and other progressive groups" into a third political party to gain control in Oregon.

At the closing session of its annual convention here the state federation instructed its state committee to join the other groups in building:

"A political party separate and distinct from the two older major parties, dominated by big business and the financiers, for the purpose of gaining control of the state and establishing collective ownership of the financial institutions and the basic industries of the state."

While the first open statement for such a party came from labor members, other groups have been allied in the movement.

Ben T. Osborne, executive secretary of the state federation of labor and a familiar figure in legislative lobbies, today said he did not know how soon plans would come to fruition. Nor would he predict what effect the movement would have on the Oregon general election in November.

D. E. Nickerson, secretary of the Portland building council, and Vern Haybarker, Portland, retiring vice-president, were nominated for the state presidency from which William Cooper of Portland is retiring. Vote will be by mail.

Next year's convention will be at Klamath Falls.

Another resolution adopted by the convention censured Governor Julius L. Meier, Mayor Joseph Carson of Portland, and Sheriff Martin Pratt of Multnomah county for the activities during the recent waterfront strike.

RUSSIA PLANS TO FORCE L OF N MOVE FAR EAST TANGLE

LONDON, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Once Russia becomes a member of the League of Nations she will ask that body to examine the tense political situation in the Far East, authoritative sources here said today.

They expect Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet commissar for foreign affairs, to call to the league's attention the delicate relations between Russia and Japan growing out of Russia's operation of the Chinese Eastern railway in Manchukuo.

The arrest of Russian employes of the C. E. R., for the purchase of which Japan has been negotiating recently, last week provoked Moscow to vigorous diplomatic protest in notes delivered to the governments at Tokyo and Hanking, Manchukuo.

Litvinoff's action, it is taken place would force far eastern problems to the forefront of the league's program when the assembly meets at Geneva in September. Russia's entry into the league at the September meeting is definitely assured, as the powers favoring her candidacy have been advised that several smaller nations have withdrawn active opposition.

England, France and Italy joined in sounding out league members as to their attitude on Moscow's admission.

In addition to possible consideration of the far eastern situation, the league will be asked to study the financial and economic plight of strife-torn Austria, official quarters indicated.

BUDGET DIRECTOR QUILTS HIGH POST

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 1.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today confirmed the resignation of Lew Douglas as director of the budget, by announcing the appointment of Daniel W. Bell, commissioner of accounts and deposits, to serve as acting director.

This was the first official intimation the president had given of receipt of Mr. Douglas' resignation, which was handed to Mr. Roosevelt Thursday evening, while Mr. Douglas paid a brief call at Hyde Park house. The call was described at the time as purely social.

The president announced the appointment of a temporary successor to Mr. Douglas at the conclusion of a round of conferences, during which he approved an extension of the existing NIA automobile code for two months to November 3, received a report of progress on the housing program from James A. Moffett, administrator, and watched developments in the textile strike.

His acceptance of the resignation was made known also within two hours after Marvin H. McIntyre, presidential secretary had told newspaper correspondents that "there is nothing to say" about the Douglas resignation.

Beer Parlor Owner Succeeds. CLEVELAND—(UP)—While hilarity reigned in a beer parlor, its proprietor, J. J. Kuder, 55, committed suicide in his automobile in a garage because his life was joyless. "Life has been nothing but struggle and disappointment for me," he said in a note signed "J. J." which he left.

NAZIS MEDDLING IN SAAR REGION VOTE IS CHARGE

GENEVA, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Nazi Germany stood formally accused tonight of providing military training for 16,000 German residents of the Saar in preparation for the plebiscite in that region January 13.

The Saar will vote, early next year to rejoin Germany, join France or remain under League of Nations mandate.

The League of Nations commission now governing the Saar today advised the league's home offices that it had discovered documentary proof that Saarlanders are being given military training in German labor camps.

So serious did it consider the situation, the commission said, that it had drafted an order banning the German labor organization from the Saar and instructing youths now enrolled to report to police for surveillance.

A Nazi "pitch" to force a pro-German vote in the plebiscite was hinted at in some league quarters here.

Documents seized in the office of the German front organization's voluntary labor service in the Saar proved the German front "is maintaining constant relations with the reich authorities and promoting their interference in Saar affairs," the governing commission reported.

A letter to the German minister of the interior was included in correspondence seized, the commission added, which said "the reich directorate is quite aware of the weighty political and national reasons underlying the request to put Saarlanders in German camps."

PARAGUAY OPENS NEW OFFENSIVES AS TRUCE FAILS

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Paraguay pushed offensives in three sectors of the Chaco tonight as yesterday's hope that an armistice in the long struggle was near faded.

Though would-be peacemakers admitted that the Argentine government had accepted "general" proposals for cessation of hostilities and continued efforts to secure Bolivia's acceptance, they insisted on pointing to the many difficulties in the way of any effective agreement.

While Argentina, Brazil and the United States continued telegraphic exchanges in efforts to halt the fighting, Waldemar Saavedra Lema, Argentine foreign minister and prime mover in the negotiations, refused any comment until something definite is accomplished.

Already far into territory long held by Bolivia, Paraguay's picked regiments today continued driving ahead in the Caradaitz, Inyati and Canada Carmen sectors.

Fighting was expected to be feverish all through the month, since the Paraguayans are so far advanced from their bases that they must hasten to establish strong positions and prepare communications for the rainy season starting in October.

FREAKISH EASTERN OREGON WEATHER

PENDLETON, Ore., Sept. 1.—(AP)—For weather extremes, eastern Oregon can hold its own.

Less than a week after much of this section was baked with 100-and-up weather, the thermometer touched freezing Thursday night at Albee, in the Blue mountains south of Pendleton. Temperatures continued high here.

UNIFORM TAX FOR COAST AREA AIM

OLYMPIA, Wash., Sept. 1.—(AP)—State tax commissioners of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and California will meet at Salem, Ore., September 14 and 15 to discuss a uniform tax system for the four states. T. M. Jenner, member of the Washington commission, announced today.

Property, occupation, sales and income taxes and their proper relationship to each other will form a major topic, Jenner said.

Remodeling Work To Be Finished In Three Weeks

Work is progressing rapidly on the remodeling of the house at 1535 West Main street. In line with the federal modernizing program, according to Mr. Fletcher, manager of the Jackson County Building and Loan association, owners of the property.

Mr. Fletcher says interest is increasing in the project and many home owners are visiting the house, which is open for inspection. The plans call for completion of the work in three weeks. All work is being done by local labor and local firms will install fixtures and furnishings. The house was old and in a very bad condition and a complete coat of the remodeling has been kept and will be available as soon as the work is finished.
