

MANY CANDIDATES GET BALLOT SPOTS SANS PARTY HELP

group of so-called communists and a group of socialists. The state and district lists include candidates for congress state offices state legislatures, judicial positions and district attorneys. County and city candidates are not required to file with the secretary of state.

The race for governor was reduced to six at five o'clock last night when the secretary of state failed to receive a certified certificate of nomination for H. H. Stallard of Portland. Several other certificates received are in the hands of the attorney general but unless he rejects them, they will be listed as filed.

Among the latter are those of J. E. Bennett, Portland, independent for congress from the third district, and the list of communists.

The list for governor therefore includes Joe E. Dunne, republican; Charles H. Martin, democrat; Peter Zimmerman, progressive-independent; H. E. Wirth, independent-liberal; A. M. Silverman, independent and Harry J. Correll, communist.

Four candidates seek election to congress from the first district, James W. Mott, republican; R. R. Turner, democrat; W. S. Richards, socialist, and Kenneth W. Gulley, independent. In the second district only one other, a socialist, entered to compete against the two regular nominees. He is O. D. Teel of Echo to oppose Jay H. Upton, republican, and Walter M. Pierce, democrat.

In the third district embracing Multnomah county, the fight appears a hard one, at least the congressional seat most desirable. Those seeking election are W. A. Ekwall, republican; Walter B. Gleason, democrat; Albert Streiff, socialist; J. E. Bennett, independent; Phillip Eckler, independent; Louis Olson, communist; and Grace Wick, independent.

Radicals enter race. Two others added their names for secretary of state in addition to Earl Spill, republican and Horace E. Walter, democrat. They are Harlin Talbert, socialist, and Earl C. Stewart, communist.

Blanch H. Meyer, and Lawrence Waer, socialist, filed for superintendent of public instruction and labor commissioner respectively to oppose the regular nominees.

Other candidates filed for state senator in the second, third, fourth, seventh, thirteenth, fourteenth and seventeenth districts. In the latter district T. R. Gillenwaters and N. G. Wallace were named by central committee for the seat vacated by Jay H. Upton in the senate.

Twenty-six new candidates filed for the 13 seats in the house from Multnomah county. Filings were also listed for seats in the lower branch of the legislature from the first, sixth, seventh and fourteenth districts. District attorney nominees were added in Multnomah, Jefferson, Willamette and Linn counties.

Colored members of the CCC from mid-western states received good news this week with the announcement that all will be returned to camps near their homes.

The colored men, most of whom in this district are from Chicago, have felt isolated in this state because of the absence of a colored population. They will be returned to the corps areas of their origin not later than November 15 and their places will be taken by white men from the same states, according to Major Clara H. Armstrong, district commander.

The war department has announced its policy to transfer no more colored men out of the corps areas in which they are enlisted.

Radio Call For Doctor's Advice Stirs Up Ether

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—(AP)—A broken arm sent radio stations in Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific coast ports on a merry-go-round chase for a sinking ship early this morning.

The supposedly distressed ship was the freighter Hawaiian, bound from New York to Los Angeles. And the "doctor's call" was the request for a doctor's advice on how to treat a broken arm.

A hodge podge of radio confusion was clarified at 7:45 this morning when the Mackay radio station here talked to the steamer Santa Catalina, which was alongside.

2500 PICK HOPS IN LOCAL REGION

According to Lewis Ulrich, manager of the local national re-employment office, who has made a survey this morning of the hop-picking industry in the Applegate and Josephine counties, 2500 pickers are at work in the fields, harvesting a good crop this year over a large acreage.

The industry is comparatively new in this area, on a large scale, and means a great deal to Josephine county's financial returns from agriculture. The picking crews, who are doing well for themselves by camping at the fields, where facilities are generally furnished free, appear well satisfied with wages, Ulrich stated.

Prices are also satisfactory to growers, he said, and together with wages paid pickers, have shown an increase over those of last season.

1351 CARLOADS PEARS SHIPPED

Pear shipments to date from the Rogue River valley total 1351 carloads. Of this number, 719 cars were packed and 648 were dispatched to Willamette valley and California canneries. The above figures are from the records of the Southern Pacific freight department.

It is estimated that approximately half the valley pear crop has moved. The total crop has been figured at between 2800 and 3000 cars. The crop is now moving, according to railroad aides, at the rate of 15 cars per day from storage.

Apple shipments so far aggregate 25 cars. Picking and packing of the Newtown variety is now underway. Harvesting of the Winter Nellis variety of pears is now starting. It is expected that the crop will be off the trees by the first week in October.

BEEBE RETURNED TO COUNTY JAIL

Irwin L. Beebe, mill worker, under a suspended sentence for reckless driving of an auto, was scheduled to have a hearing today before Justice of the Peace William R. Coleman to explain alleged attempts to leave the city without fulfilling promises to pay his fine, repairs to the auto he was driving at the time of the crash, or the porch of the house on North Riverside avenue damaged when the vehicle left the crowded Saturday night traffic.

Beebe was returned to the county jail last evening. Justice Coleman was advised by telephone that Beebe had checked his baggage on an auto bus for Oakland, Calif., and had made other preparations for departure. He was arrested by state police at the request of Justice Coleman.

It is also charged that Beebe promised to pay a $54 repair bill to the auto he was driving, and that he quit his employment a week ago at a local plant. The auto belonged to a Miss Cowan and the car is held by a garage for the bill.

The court indicated that unless Beebe could make a satisfactory explanation of his movements, the original sentence would be enforced.

MIDNIGHT ENDS DANCE HALL FUN

Notice will be served on all operators of dance halls in the county, under the jurisdiction of the county, reminding them of the Oregon law providing that dance halls cease operations between the hours of midnight and 6 o'clock in the morning, and advising that strict compliance with the statutes is required. All dance halls are licensed and under bonds to observe the closing hours.

The district attorney states that there are only a few violations, and that they were due to a misunderstanding. The official says that the impression has gone forth that dance halls could operate between midnight and one o'clock. This is wrong. The dancing stops at midnight. Selling of beer is permissible until one o'clock—the legal hour.

Written notices have been prepared for mailing to all dance hall operators.

INVITE DELEGATES W.C.T.U. CONCLAVE

Invitations are being sent out this morning by B. E. Harder, president of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce, to all the county chairmen in Oregon extending an invitation for delegates to attend the W. C. T. U. convention which will be held in this city October 23-27.

Within two weeks another letter will be sent the county chairmen by Cole Holmes, chairman of the convention committee of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce also extending an invitation for delegates to come to Medford.

It has been the policy of the Chamber of Commerce during the past year to give every assistance to those organizations sponsoring conventions especially in encouraging attendance.
