

ROOSEVELT'S FOUR MAIN OBJECTIVES MISS -- MUSSOLINI

President's Principles Not Fascist Nor Communist — Too Early To Say Experiment Is Total Loss.

MILAN, Italy, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini's newspaper Popolo D'Italia today said President Roosevelt has failed to achieve his four fundamental objectives, but it is too soon to conclude that experiments he is undertaking are unsuccessful.

The newspaper's estimate of the Roosevelt administration is believed to have been written in Duce himself. Its editorial comment is inspired by the president's recent writings, which Mussolini is reading.

Not Fascist
"Roosevelt's principles are not fascist, and even less are they communist," the Popolo D'Italia said.

"When one reads his address of May 4, 1933, to the United States chamber of commerce we must admit its guiding spirit is fascist."

"Roosevelt set up for himself four fundamental principles, reduction of armaments, lowering of tariff barriers, stabilization of currencies and development of friendly relations with other nations."

"None of these objectives has been reached. On the contrary there has been a drastic departure from them. Their opposites have been reached."

No Disarmament
"Instead of disarmament there is an increase in armaments. Second, instead of a lowering of tariff barriers there has been a universal elevation of them. Third, instead of stabilization, the warring currencies have continued to be more or less volatile. Fourth, instead of reciprocal trust and confidence among nations, there exists suspicion and alarm."

"But one must not believe that the Roosevelt experiment has failed, because it has not attained its four great objectives, even though they are fundamentally important. The experiment is still in the course of being carried out. We must wait."

The editorial gives tribute to the "ardor, tenacity and action with which Roosevelt set about to extricate the country from the depth to which it had fallen."

INVENTORS DEVICE WILL AID ONE-ARMED PEOPLE

YORK VILLAGE, Me.—(UP) Chas. Young, aged York resident, has invented a device which he figures should prove a boon to a one-armed man.

It's a gadget with a foot pedal which, when shoved down, causes a mechanical fork to descend and hold a steak firmly while the one-armed consumer casually cuts it with a knife.

Love and Hot Cakes and Everything

IN the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love but in September it's a different story. With the first tinge of Autumn comes that longing for good old fashioned Hot Cakes.

They say "the way to a man's heart is via the stomach" so it may be just a continuation of the spring malady after all. Anyway love never flew out the window with a plate of good old fashioned Hot Cakes and Country Style Sausage on the table.

I know girls—and I'm telling you.
