A Double Dose of 'Hooey

THIS nomination of ex-Governor Bilbo of Mississippi, for the U.S. senate (equivalent to election) is another significant straw in the political gale.

Bilbo proudly claims he "is a better hell raiser than Huey Long", and according to reports from the south, the former governor is about right.

With a voice like the Bull of Bashan, a fist like a Virginia ham, a past master of mob psychology and no scruples concerning either principles or manners, Brother Bilbo promises to please no one in the Upper House but the boys in the press gallery.

He will please THEM however. For Bilbo will be front page copy, no matter how he may offend the dictates of good taste and common sense.

However, here is one paper, that would prefer less front page copy and more constructive action in the senate. One 'HOOEY" Long was bad enough, but with TWO of them !- !!-!!!

There is only one ray of hope, namely:-that a double dose of "Hooey" will act like a double dose of any other poison,serve as its own antidote!

Not So Good for League

THE League of Nations may benefit Russia, but Russia will not benefit the League.

The League for some time, has been declining in prestige and influence, because of its domination by France and her allies. The entrance of Russia, politically increases this dominance. For while France and Russia are no longer allies, in the Triple Entente sense, they will automatically work together in opposition to Hitler and Mussolini, and further alienate the confidence of the smaller independent powers, in Europe and South America.

Furthermore Soviet Russia will capitalize on this recognition just as she has capitalized on her recognition by this country. It will be interpreted at home, as a great diplomatic victory for communism-the return of Russia as a great world power-and the end of Muscovite isolation. It will be utilized secretly, and insidiously, but no less effectively, as an entering wedge, to spread communistic propaganda throughout the world.

THE plain truth is the Russian government, as at PRESENT constituted can't be trusted! Paul Mallon, in this paper's Column Left, recently confirmed this statement. He declared that the Roosevelt administration already questions its wisdom in falling so readily for Litvinoff's palaver.

Recognition was supposed to mark an end to communistic agitation and propaganda in this country, as far as assistance or encouragement from Moscow is concerned. It HASN'T. In the files of the U. S. secret service, there is said to be ample evidence that the Reds are not only working in this country as before, but their leaders are financed and receive their orders, from the Kremlin.

RECOGNITION was also supposed to bring in a flood of business to this country from Russia, and result in a speedy settlement of the Russian debt. It has done neither,

Trade with Russia instead of increasing has declined. Even as fair and mild mannered a man as Secretary of State Hull, declined to consider such proposals for debt settlement as the Soviet ambassador in Washington proposed, and plain intimations filtered from the state department, that the oleaginous and resourceful Litvinoff had again put over a "fast one."

THE trouble with Russia appears to be her zeal for communism and a world dictatorship of the proletariat, overshadows every other consideration. Fair play and fair dealing in the Anglo-Saxon sense, have no standing in the inner circles of the U. S. S. R. In the Soviet political creed, the end justifies any means; Stalin and his aides have only one real concern, that is

And this realistic policy, appears to be working very well. To date we should say the self appointed dictators of Russia, have made monkeys out of the conventional diplomats of Europe and America,-in their well brushed morning coats and their well dusted top hats. They have known just what they wanted because: (a) they made it: (b) it is from the start, and they have taken the shortest cut to get it.

Recognized by the United States, and now in good standing in the League of Nations, the sovietized "bear that walks like a It's fine for a playful autoist to pretend, he is going to run over a man' is certainly marching on!
