DETROIT TIGERS WIN FLAG AGAIN AFTER 25 YEARS (By the Associated Press.) For the first time in 25 years, the Detroit Tigers have won the American League pennant, but whether their world series rivals would be the New York Giants or the St. Louis Cardinals none could say today. The tide "backed" into the flag yesterday when the New York Yankees were shut out 5-0 by John Merena, a Boston Red Sox rookie right-hander, and thus lost their last mathematical chance of overthrowing Detroit in the race to the wire. While Mickey Cochrane's inspired club thus was sewing up its championship, developments in the National League served to indicate that if the world champion Giants are to win again they'll have to do so on their own behalf. They'll get scant help from the Cardinals. While the Giants were idle, the Cards beat down the Chicago Cubs, 3-1, and headed for home only two games out of first place. With the season ending Sunday, the Giants have four games yet to play—two with the Phillies today and tomorrow and two with Brooklyn Saturday and Sunday. The Cardinals still have six on their slate, two with Pittsburgh today and tomorrow, and four with Cincinnati on the last four days of the season, all at home. If the Giants win all four of their games, they will take the pennant, no matter what St. Louis accomplishes. If they win three while the Cards capture six, the race will end in a tie and a special series of three games will be necessary to decide the league champion. Any combination of New York victories and St. Louis defeats which adds to four will automatically give the Giants the flag.

SCIENTIST MAKES SUN DO WORK FOR WIFE IN COTTAGE Patch of Sunshine Large As Table-Spread Bakes Loaf of Bread - Will Retain Heat for Several Days MOUNT WILSON, Calif., Sept. 25.—(AP)—Building a solar stove and a hot water heater for his wife at their summer cottage here, Dr. Charles G. Abbot, of the Smithsonian Institution, is proving himself a handy man about the house. The stove is rather complicated, but the hot water heater is simple. He puts a 150-foot coil of garden hose on the roof and it heats five gallons at a time. In cloudy weather, of course, it isn't of much use. Mrs. Abbot showed a loaf of bread baked in the stove by a patch of sunshine no larger than a table spread and her scientist-husband suggested that every similar patch of sunshine on the earth could cook as well as this one, if it were put to work. Heat All Night "After the sun goes down," Dr. Abbot explained, "the temperature inside the oven will drop slowly during the night, but there is still ample heat to broil bacon and bake biscuits in the morning." He discussed improvements whereby he expects to obtain a mid-day temperature of approximately 400 degrees Fahrenheit. At 5 o'clock on a fairly cool afternoon the stove thermometer showed 345 degrees. This is the way the sun stove works: Upon the glass cover top of a trough shaped "furnace" sunlight falls. An ordinary cork keeps the face of the furnace turned toward the sun throughout the day. Due to the curvature of the trough, light is brought to a focus along a copper tube, which extends lengthwise through the furnace. The tube is surrounded by a larger tube of a special glass, thermos-bottle fashion, the space between the tubes being a vacuum. Oil Circulates The inner tube is filled with heavy machine oil, which does not boil at ordinary furnace heat. When heated by the focused rays of the sun, the oil rises and circulates around three sides of the oven, which looks something like a sawed-off water tower. Leaving from 300 to 400 degrees of heat in the oven, the cooled air gravitates back into the furnace to be re-charged again, and thus a lazy circulation of about 60 gallons is automatically maintained. Barring leakage, the oil lasts indefinitely. The oven is surrounded by a packing of silico-el, a chalky formation found at Lompoc, Calif. It is almost as impervious to heat as the thermos-bottle arrangement of tubes in the furnace. Since only 9 degrees of heat escape during the night, this little sun stove would be warm at the end of two weeks of cloudy weather.

Sams Valley SAMS VALLEY, Sept. 25.—(Sp.)—At the meeting of the Sams Valley Grange, September 15, it was decided to celebrate booster night September 29 with a program and refreshments. The county home demonstrator will conduct the meeting of the Sams Valley Extension unit at the school house Thursday beginning at 10:00 o'clock. The day will be spent in cutting and fitting suits for members of the unit. A covered dish luncheon at noon. Everyone welcome. Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tonn of Lake Creek last week were Miss Eva Frink, Stephen Wilson, Mrs. O. T. Wilson and son, Dean. The occasion was honoring the birthdays of Miss Frink and Harry Tonn. Between forty-five and fifty patrons attended the teachers' reception, sponsored by the Ladies' club at the school house Friday night. Mrs. Seagriff, president, opened the meeting with a short program, after which Miss Ruth Bigham took charge of the recreational games. Refreshments of iced tea and cake were served, during which Hime Principal E. W. Empey spoke to the boys and the teachers, thanking the patrons for the cooperative spirit shown and expressed his appreciation of the students' attitude towards the progress of the school. Trophies won by the golfers Sunday were: Hams: Larry Porter of Ashland, with a blind bogey of 72; H. B. Bentley of Medford, with a low net score of 78; and Skillman S. VanCott of Grants Pass, with a blind bogey of 73. Sides of bacon: Charles J. Barnes of Medford, with a blind bogey of 71; and Leland Clark of Medford, with another 71. Cakes of cigarettes: Leland Clark, with the low score of No. 4, hole, a 3; Clarence Ford of Grants Pass, with high score on No. 9, of 10 strokes. Golf balls: H. B. Bentley for longest put on No. 3 green, a 16-footer; and S. McQuate for the high score on 18 holes of 119 strokes. While good scoring was almost impossible in the steady rain, Bentley's medal of 7 was exceptional. During the afternoon, when the rain had nearly ceased, several other Medford players appeared too late to enter the tournament and staged a Scotch "fourome" in which 12 golfers alternated strokes on four or five balls in play.

MEDFORD ENTRANTS CAPTURE PRIZES IN G. P. GOLF TOURNEY GRANTS PASS, Sept. 25.—(Sp.)—Sunday's blind bogey golf tournament fought its way around soggy fairways in a deluge at the Grants Pass Country Club Sunday when 27 golfers turned out for the event in spite of the inclement weather. Half of the players, 18 to be exact, made the trip from Medford and Ashland to take part in the competition in a display of inter-city cooperation that repaid the local club for its liberal attendance at tournaments staged in the cities to the south, and six of the ten trophies awarded went to the visiting players. Rotary club of Medford and Grants Pass are staging a Rotary golf tournament on the local course Wednesday afternoon. Trophies won by the golfers Sunday were:

The next meeting will be in two weeks with Mrs. Lillie Carter. Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Martin and family were visitors in Medford Friday evening. Clint Walker was a visitor in Medford Saturday. Pears Yesterday (continued) THE DALLES, Sept. 25.—(AP)—A crew of about 150 women and girls now is engaged in stemming and pitting the 1934 tonnage of cherries for The Dalles Co-operative Growers' association which several years ago, following intensive experiments, took a lead in supplying North Atlantic Maraschino dealers with stocks. The co-operative, which last year processed 11,400 barrels of sulphured cherries, will have only 5600 barrels this year, due to the short crop resulting from spring frosts at blossom time. Prices, however, are better this season. Tengwald's Office 125 West Main St. Carl V. Tengwald, local realtor, has moved his office to 125 West Main street, in the building formerly occupied by the Medford Investment company. Tengwald has moved from the Holland hotel building, where his offices have been located for the past 20 years.

STEAMBOAT CAMP PURCHASES PIANO Camp Steamboat of the CCC, located 47 miles from Roseburg, has purchased a piano for the use of the men in camp, and the instrument was delivered there Sunday. Company funds were not sufficient to pay for the piano, so the carpenters building the winter camp, in charge of A. E. Towner, contributed the necessary eight dollars to make the purchase. Boys in camp each contributed ten cents.
