

DUNNE PRESENTS 3-POINT PROGRAM HE WOULD FOSTER

Reorganizing Agriculture Department, More Jobs for Workers, Saving of By-Products Among Plans

Before several hundred people gathered in the Holly theater, Joe E. Dunne, Republican nominee for the governorship of Oregon, and Captain Cleo F. Hagan, vice-chairman of the Oregon Republican committee, spoke last night, with Dunne naming a three-point program he plans to carry out, if elected.

Dunne told his audience that he plans to reorganize the department of agriculture, that he plans to put men to work by bringing about closer cooperation between labor and industry, and that a department of industry is to be created, to save state by-products.

Thanks Backers. In opening his address, Senator Dunne thanked the Veterans Voters' league for endorsing him, members of the Republican party who assisted him, and the Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis and Active clubs, also the insurance fraternity of Medford, before whom he spoke.

"These men are builders and doers, and to them we must look for success later on," he said. The nominee also said he was glad to renew acquaintance with the farmers and hear their farm problems, and spoke of the new development of mining here. Few people realize the opportunity ever present in this undeveloped area, he declared.

"If financed properly, there can be a job for every man," Dunne said.

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions? Do you know why external remedies so seldom give quick and permanent relief? Why cutting does not remove the cause? Do you know the cause of Piles is internal? That there is congestion of blood in the lower bowel—the veins flabby, the parts lifeless? Do you know that there is harmless internal remedy for itching, bleeding or protruding piles discovered by Dr. Leonard and known as HEM-ROID that is guaranteed? HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the cause. It stimulates the circulation in the lower bowel—drives out the thick impure blood, and restores the affected parts. HEM-ROID is so successful in even the most stubborn cases that Jarmin Drug Co. also McVair Bros. of Ashland and all good druggists advise every sufferer to get a bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets today—take them as directed—then if not completely satisfied with results—your money back.

adding that the possibilities are there and can and should be solved. This phase he intends to carry into the administration, he said.

No National Issue. "There are no national issues involved in this campaign," Dunne said. "One of the Portland papers would lead you to believe that the entire matter of national progress is at stake."

The nominee said that the Democrats had come to the Republicans in previous years, asking that one of their men might be elected in order to create a balance of power. "But now they say, 'Elect our whole ticket so we may be boss.' Qualifications, experience, knowledge of problems—that's nothing. 'Elect our gang.' And have they been moving our boys? There are more idle Republicans now than you ever knew existed."

Charging discrimination according to politics, Dunne quoted figures on a work project in Multnomah county, in which he said that 250 Democrats were employed, 51 Republicans, 72 unregistered, and 13 others. "The Republicans never did that. It is a party of square dealing, and when it makes a promise it keeps it," Dunne declared. He said that "rats" sometimes sneak into a party, but that is not the fault of the party, and again said that in this campaign he is not interested in national affairs.

Square Deal to Vets. Dunne said that under his administration, the veterans would get a square deal and, addressing those present in the audience, informed them that under the bonus loan in Oregon, in cases where veterans are making honest effort to pay, they will absolutely be protected. He told them that the state would be the last to put men into the street.

Speaking of wages and the return to work, Dunne said that progress would not be made until sufficient wages are paid so that the money revolves "and all of us can get a crack at it." In the old days selfishness ruled and people got further from their friends, thus tearing down one of the principles of American government. Hard times have brought people closer together, and they are beginning to realize that human rights are paramount and money isn't everything.

Has Had Lesson. The Republican nominee told of the hardships suffered during his boyhood, but said it had taught him the lesson of humanity, and to always share. "We must have an understanding of our problems and complaints, and if we don't know, get others who do know to solve them. No government is correct that leaves half of its people starved and the others well fed. "You will find me as cold as steel when it comes to the lazy, good-for-nothing man," Dunne declared.

Charging that the present department of agriculture has deteriorated into a department of inspectors, Senator Dunne stated that he planned to reorganize it and eliminate so many tax-eaters.

Dunne said the state should seek new markets, new ways of packing, and send products to all parts of the world. This, he said, must be done in a sane, sensible way.

Classing labor and industry together, as their problems are identical, Dunne said the trouble lay in too many taxes. He quoted figures on roads and highways indebtedness, saying that on the $38,000,000 expended, the people will have paid $79,000,000 by 1936, including the interest.

Sound Basis Aim. "It is time to get on a sound basis and do something. We must use the same frugal methods that our wives and mothers employed in management."

Dunne's third point was the creating of a department of industry, which must be self-sustaining, which will create new industry and regenerate the old. He spoke of the many by-products that could be manufactured from materials now going to waste.

"We must learn to respect money. Firms cannot get along without money, and men can't work if there is no money. The banks in Oregon are bursting with money. They wouldn't dare loan you any, unless they were sure you could pay it back in 90 days, as they must keep absolutely liquid. "Labor, agriculture and money must be taught that they cannot dominate the situation; we must work together, and move forward like an entire army and sweep everything before us. There's no question about it. It can be done."

Good Roads Needed. The road over the Siskiyou is stifling the country, the nominee said, as this is the vacationland of San Francisco and Portland. Every dollar invested is a dollar earned, he went on to say, telling his listeners that courtesy, good roads and respectable surroundings would be great assets.

Following several selections by the Elks' band, which opened the meeting, Frank Farrell, chairman of the Jackson county central committee, spoke briefly, introducing Don Newbury, president of the Medford chapter of the Oregon Republican league, who in turn introduced Frank Newman, vice-commander of the Veterans Voters' league.

Mr. Newman introduced Captain Hogan, who said that Peter Zimmerman, the independent candidate for governor, couldn't fulfill his promises if the governorship were handed to him on a silver platter tomorrow. He charged Zimmerman with promising labor, the farmer, and capital, anything they ask.

Major-General Charles H. Martin's training as a soldier, according to "Cicero," would make it impossible for the Democratic candidate to be the successful executive of a peaceful state in times of peace.

MARGETTS WARNS OF DOCTORING MONOPOLY IN K. P. HALL SPEECH

The lecture, "Shall We Have a Doctoring Monopoly?" by Dr. Frank Margetts of Colorado Springs, given at the K. P. hall last night proved enlightening to an interested audience.

Dr. Margetts declared that a doctoring monopoly "has no place in any country, especially a democracy." He said the king of England, "whose life was despaired of by orthodox physicians, was restored to health and his people by unregistered physicians. John D. Rockefeller also resorted to the so-called irregulars for treatment in his hour of despair," he asserted.

"Investigation, as reported in medical circles in Chicago, proved," said Dr. Margetts, "that the more educated people were resorting to the newer schools of medical treatment." He stated that in the army, during the flu epidemic, the death rate from flu was one to 17—while in the civilian population under the newer forms of treatment, the death rate was one to 700. "The question naturally arises as to what would have been the result under a monopolistic system," he concluded.

Dr. Margetts asserts that a monopoly or bureaucracy in medicine would interfere with the development of the healing arts and would result in withholding from the people much valuable health information. "The government," he said, "should regulate but not lend to suppression."

COUNTERFEIT BILL BASIS OF SUIT BY PLUMBER VROMAN

Amy Fader of this city recently paid A. L. Vroman, plumber, a bill for plumbing with a $20 bill, and Vroman mailed the bill to a Portland firm in payment of a debt owed. The Portland firm deposited the bill in a Portland bank. A keen-eyed teller did not like the "feel" of the bill or its looks, and turned it over to the department of justice, which ruled the $20 note was a counterfeit.

The Portland firm would not allow Vroman $20 credit for the phoney money so Vroman yesterday filed a claim in justice court against Amy Fader for another collection of the plumbing account. She refuses to pay it again on the grounds she did not know the bill was bogus, and that once is enough for the payment of a plumbing bill.

The matter will be heard in justice court tomorrow. Local authorities have traced the wanderings of the counterfeit money through the trade channels of southern Oregon, and found that Amy Fader received the bill from an Ashland grocery store, whose employees have no recollection of where they got it or who passed it.

The bill is thought to be one of a number of counterfeits passed last summer in this section by a tourist the department of justice as yet has been unable to catch.

IT IS NO LONGER A LIGHT BILL

IT WAS IN 1890

BUT TODAY

LIGHT is a very small part of it

YOU USED TO CALL the monthly statement from the electric company your 'light bill'. It was a light bill then. It represented a few lights here and there about your home. But now... light is a small part of the total electric bill. Today electricity is used for cooking, refrigerating, washing, ironing, sweeping, cleaning and entertainment. Yes, indeed... the light bill disappeared with the pompadour and the bustle of 1890!
