"POWER MUST BE UNDER CONTROL FOR BIG LEAGUE PITCHING" says CHARLES "GABBY" STREET Mission Manager; Former Pilot 1931 St. Louis Cardinals—World Champions "When you see a pitcher burning 'em across the corners... so they can't be hit... you can bet he has Controlled Power," says Street. "He doesn't waste energy. He doesn't just snap the ball—but uses a full throw with a complete follow-through." New Red Lion has the same Big League performance secret Street speaks of... Controlled Power. Red Lion doesn't waste energy... but burns progressively with a steady drive, a complete follow-through on piston head for the full stroke. HAUPTMANN MIND TO BE DELVED BY SEVERAL EXPERTS

Assistant District Attorney Andrew McCarthy told Magistrate William Klapp that an indictment had been returned on the same facts and law as recited in the short affidavit and that the defendant was now awaiting trial.

Drop Short Indictment "In view of this fact," McCarthy said, "I ask that the short affidavit be dismissed and the defendant be discharged from this court."

Magistrate Klapp signed the dismissal without comment in a courtroom that was only partly filled, in marked contrast with the scene when Hauptmann was arraigned on the affidavit last week. At that time every bit of available space in the room was taken.

Hauptmann was "more composed" today than at any time since he entered the Bronx county jail, where he is held in default of $100,000 bail. Sheriff John J. Hanley reported today.

The sheriff said the prisoner spent a restless night and this morning appeared to enjoy his breakfast of oatmeal, jelly, bread and coffee. The prisoner's uncommunicative manner is being given free rein at the jail, where his guards speak to him only in cases of necessity and then, as briefly as possible. This is being done in accordance with orders from the sheriff. Two guards are kept outside his cell at all times, the guard having been doubled since Hauptmann stole a metal spoon from his breakfast tray last week, broke it into four pieces, fashioned a hook with one and a cutting instrument with another and secreted all four in his washbowl drain and toilet bowl in his cell.
