

JAPANESE UPSET BY ARMY'S URGE TO GIRD FOR WAR

Surprising Manifesto Warning of Possible Conflict With Russia Sends Leading Stock Values Down

By Glenn Babb
Associated Press Foreign Staff.

TOKYO, Oct. 2.—(AP)—An official army pamphlet which urged Japan to make ready for a possible war with Russia spread uneasiness among the nation's economic leaders today.

This was reflected on the stock exchange. Leading shares declined on an average of two yen (about 60 cents).

Newspapers said members of the cabinet as well as civilians were taken back by the army's surprising manifesto which proposed drastic changes in the nation's economic life and in non-military government departments.

Point To U. S.

It asserted the United States has three airplanes to Japan's one and that America wanted a navy larger than this country's in order to support vigorous policies toward the Orient.

Newspapers asserted General Senjuro Hayashi, minister of war, would be questioned at the next cabinet meeting about responsibility for authorship of the pamphlet. Political writers predicted the statement would be a grave political issue at the impending special session of the diet.

A war office spokesman asked if the pamphlet were approved by Gen. Senjuro Hayashi, who is now traveling in western Japan, declined to reply but said "I can state that the pamphlet expresses the views of the Japanese army."

Stimson Threats Futile

The pamphlet threatened the strength of the Japanese army prevented the Soviet from interfering with the power of the Japanese navy and made "futile the threats" of Henry L. Stimson, former United States secretary of state.

In this connection it referred to alleged utterances of the late Rear Admiral Edward W. Eberle to the effect that the American navy was capable of assuming any offensive necessary to enforce the "open-door" policy in China.

Some civilian quarters asked if the army planned to attempt the establishment of a fascist regime. Publication by the war office press bureau apparently was made without the knowledge of civil government officials.

Air Strength Listed

"Soviet Russia possesses 3000 warplanes, the United States 3000 and China 800," the pamphlet asserted. "If these nations combined, the air forces of the powers surrounding Japan would total more than 6000 planes."

"Although diplomacy can give assurance that we will meet only one enemy, we must assume that the enemy will have at least 3000 planes. Japan has only 1000 planes. Can our armaments be said to be complete with this poor air force?"

"Constant trouble along the Soviet-Manchukuo frontier, the increasingly challenging attitude of the Soviet and Russia's traditional unreliability make the future of Russo-Japanese relations uncertain."

"We must develop military power and equipment sufficient to cope with any change in the situation."

MRS. COX, FORMER RESIDENT, PASSES

Her many friends in Medford will be grieved to learn of the death of Mrs. H. L. Cox, who passed away at her home in Portland, Sunday, Sept. 30. Mrs. Cox lived in this city from 1919 until 1926, at which time she moved to Portland with her husband.

Mr. Cox, who passed away in 1928, was connected in Medford with the Olds-Brownlee Lumber company, before it was taken over by the Owen-Oregon Lumber Co. Mr. and Mrs. Cox came to the west in 1907, from Cheboygan, Mich.

Mrs. Cox, who was a devoted member of the Catholic church for many years, leaves a sister, Miss Stoken; a daughter, Mrs. Burt Bloucher; four sons, Hugh, Earl, Frank and Ray; and several grandchildren, all of Portland.

SEVEN DIE WHEN AIR LINER FALLS

FOLKESTONE, Eng., Oct. 2.—(AP)—An airplane with seven occupants crashed into the misty English channel only three miles from shore today on a projected flight to Le Bourget airfield, France, killing all of them. Two of the passengers were women.

Four of the victims were English and the others were French.

The cause of the crash probably will remain a mystery, since no one witnessed it, although the captain of the German cargo steamer, Leander, heard the roar of the airplane's engines followed shortly by the crash as the plane plunged into the sea.

SUPERFEX HEATING STOVES

PERIL FROM REDS TOLD ROTARIANS BY NEIL R. ALLEN

The seriousness of communistic activities in the United States was forcibly brought to the attention of the members of the Medford Rotary club today by Neil R. Allen, prominent Grants Pass attorney and legislator.

At a luncheon meeting, well attended by Rotarians and guests, Mr. Allen said that tentacles of the insidious communistic organization reached into this city with all communities of the country with a doctrine of violence and revolution that threatens the freedom and rights of the American people.

The speaker quoted from literature distributed by the communistic factions in which the basic principles of the American government as set forth in the famous "Bill of Rights" are threatened. "The cleverly executed, undercover campaign tends to undermine the very foundation of our government and can only be successfully combated by an intelligent understanding of communism and a comprehensive program of education," Allen said.

"The people must give their personal attention to this important problem as we must combat forces that are attempting to take away the rights and privileges upon which our democracy has been established."

Mr. Allen's enlightening talk was enthusiastically received by the members of the club and guests as the speaker, through his cooperative work with the American Legion's anti-communistic activities, is considered an authority on this subject.

W. A. Gates announced the convention of the Shasta-Cascade Wonderland association in this city this week and extended an invitation to Rotarians and guests to attend the banquet Saturday evening at the Hotel Medford which will climax the sessions.

D. A. Chambers, formerly an active member of the Medford Rotary club, who is visiting in Medford this week, spoke briefly at today's meeting. C. R. Bowman, county school superintendent, Paul A. Menegat, new high school principal, Guy Phetteplace, Walter Tourtellot and C. P. Tillman were guests at today's meeting.

As far as the operating expenses of the county offices are concerned, the expenditures will be practically the same as last year. Some of the departments have asked for wage increases, which are balanced by decreases on other items. The county court has intimated there would be no wage boosts for the present.

Members of the budget committee, studying reports on the financial condition of the county and the various offices.

The $40,000 item necessary last year for expenses of the Banks-Pehl turmole and trials, will represent one cut in the coming budget, members of the county court state.

ROAD REPAIR AND RELIEF PROBLEMS IN COUNTY BUDGET

Age pension law, made it mandatory upon the counties to pay them, but provided no source of funds. This put the financially straitened counties in a "hole."

The matter of relief funds is also a problem, as it is not yet known just how much work and money will be furnished by state and federal agencies. The county court has been advised recently that, in accordance with instructions from the federal relief administration, close to 100 names would be stricken from Jackson county relief lists. The president, in recent addresses, has stressed the need of states and counties bearing a larger share of the relief burden.

MAIL TRIBUNE'S COOKING SCHOOL OPENS OCT. 10TH

den-hued lemon pie and keeping Friend Husband at home.

"It really isn't fair or necessary," Miss Heath said, in discussing her philosophy of the happy kitchen. "To spend long, hot hours in the kitchen. The happy housewife is the one who spares herself and yet achieves appetizing, well-balanced and inexpensive menus. She can afford to be sunny and smiling."

Miss Heath will show the housewives of Medford how to accomplish just that, and her friendly chats are designed to show the beginner as well as the experienced cook how to cater to capricious appetites with an unbelievable variety of tempting and delicious recipes. She will demonstrate how to vary the commonplace, everyday dishes by the use of pattern or basic recipes, suggest easy and attractive ways to utilize leftovers and indicate how to make the most of kitchen equipment.

Miss Heath makes the exploring of the kitchen shelf a royal road to romance. She can show the young housewife how a cheap cut of meat, with clever cooking and canny seasoning can be made to taste like a filet mignon, and how by varieties of sugar and spice and everything nice, dull, every-day dishes can be transformed into a feast that will captivate almost any epicure.

Miss Heath is sincerely interested in making "kitchen artists" out of "kitchen martyrs." The housewives of Medford will have a real opportunity to learn the latest quirks of kitchen science right up to the minute and beyond when this well-known culinary artist conducts the Mail Tribune's cooking school next Thursday. For Miss Heath not only has developed a keen insight into the problems of cookery but has the ability to impart her knowledge to perplexed housewives. The Mail Tribune cordially invites you to attend its cooking school and learn how you, too, can have a happy kitchen. The school at the Graterian will be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, October 10, 11 and 12.
