

Armory Grappling Card Tonight Presents Galaxy of Newcomers

BONNY MUIR AND GIANT TEXAN IN TOP SPOT MATCH

Bob Kenaston of Gold Hill to Show Wares With Jim Heslin of Spokane in 30-Minute Curtain Raiser

With ticket sales mounting hourly, according to Promoter Mack Lillard, indications are that wrestling fans are eager for the renewal of the grunt and grimace game at the Armory to-night, when Bonny Muir, 200, Australian heavyweight champion and giant Rube Wright, 235-pound Texas, will tangle in the main event of a show featuring six grapplers, three of whom are making their first appearance here.

The stocky Australian, who uses the popular scientific type of muscle mauling, is touted to furnish most of the fireworks in the triple-bout program. He has dusted the local mat several times in the past, and is known here as a fast and powerful grappler. His bone-crunching holds are both spectacular to the audience and deadly to the opponent.

Wright, man-mountain of the ring, depends upon his 235 pounds of brawn as a main defensive weapon, but also uses a variety of clever holds. His weight and size make him one of the most dreaded of the choke and chuckle artists. Slow-moving and ponderous looking, he is nevertheless light on his feet and versatile in the ring. The main event will pit two different types of matmen, in one of Promoter Lillard's surefire combinations.

Two of the new faces in the show will tangle in the 45-minute semi-final bout, when aggressive Cliff Thiede, former Long Beach, Cal. life guard, meets Matros Kazinko, 220-pounds Coosack. Thiede is another scientific grappler, who has a reputation in California for whirlwind tactics.

His opponent, the burly Russian, employs rough stuff in good proportions, but is also well versed in the use of punishing holds.

Bob Kenaston of Gold Hill, who wrestled in Medford several years ago as Young Gutch, will return to the ring tonight in a 30-minute warm-up bout, when he tackles the other unknown quantity of the program, Jim Heslin, 200, of Spokane. Kenaston, who outweighs the northerner by five pounds, has made a reputation as the hardest hitting football player in the marines, as well as proving the equal of any of Uncle Sam's devildogs in the ring.

Kenaston has been anxious to grapple since his return to southern Oregon, and is drawing a good share of the interest in tonight's card. Promoter Lillard stated today that Pete DeLozato of Sacramento has declined the job of refereeing tonight's card, and that either Freeman Ray Frisbie of Swede Anderson will take on the duty of arbiter. Despite the addition of a third match to the show, Lillard has maintained the same low admission rates.

Lewis and Barry Bout Called Draw

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—(AP)—John Henry Lewis, 178-pound negro, fought 10 rounds with Donald "Red" Barry, 200, Washington, D. C., to what Referee Toby Irwin called a draw here last night. Many ringiders thought Lewis was entitled to a decision. The Associated Press score sheet gave him six rounds to three for Barry, with one even.

DIZZY TELLS THE WORLD TIGERS ARE NOT SO HOT

DETROIT, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Dizzy Dean doesn't think the Tigers are so hot, and he's willing to tell the world about it. He did just that last night in a short-wave broadcast to the Byrd Antarctic expedition. "Hello, Dick Byrd," Dean started his broadcast. "I had a hard-pitched ball game here today, but I didn't have a thing on my fast ball or my curved ball. I can pitch a lot better ball than that."

Then he was asked by the sports writer who interviewed him what he thought of the Tigers. "I think the Tigers are not so good a ball team as I figured them out to be," Dizzy replied. "I could bring four National league ball teams in here and win a world series from these boys at Detroit. "I would be tickled to death to pitch tomorrow's game," he continued. "If they pitched me the whole four games, I would win them all."

GRIDIRON GLEANINGS

(By the Associated Press)
EUGENE.—Coach Prink Callison was not overly impressed with the tackling done by the University of Oregon Webfoots against the U. C. L. Bruins in their game last Saturday. With no game scheduled this week, the tackling dummy is taking a beating as squad members are beginning to get more force behind their tackling. Callison is stressing fundamentals this week and next week will concentrate on defense against University of Washington plays.

PALO ALTO.—The Stanford Indians have 19 old plays which they plan to show nothing new in their game with Oregon State next Saturday. Coach "Tiny" Thornhill is hoping that cooler weather and better conditions will help the Indians. Thirty-four men and three coaches have been picked to make the trip to Portland.

CORVALLIS.—A sophomore who has won his way into the Oregon State college starting lineup at tackle is Jack Brandis, who was a fullback in high school. He weighs 198 and pairs with 225-pound Earl Hall, the other tackle. The Beavers will have their last stiff workout today before the game with Stanford at Portland Saturday. Friday the Orange squad will move into Portland and take a light practice on Multnomah field.

LOS ANGELES.—Coach Howard Jones apparently has concluded the best defense is good offense.

Southern California's grid mentor passed up plans of working his Trojans on defense yesterday against Washington State plays and instead gave his squad another hard offensive drill, stressing blocking and

GILINSKY INJURED IN GONZAGA SCRIMMAGE

GONZAGA UNIVERSITY, Spokane, Wash., Oct. 4.—(Sp.)—An early season scrimmage casualty this week cost the Gonzaga freshmen eleven the services, at least temporarily, of Manie Gilinsky, 155-pound quarterback. The diminutive Medford, Oregon, triple passes as Troy prepared for its game here Saturday. The Trojans will be without the services of David Davis, sub quarterback, for three weeks. The star sophomores suffered two fractured ribs in practice.

MOSCOW, Ida.—Two stalwarts returned to practice today from the injury list to strengthen the University of Idaho's game against Gonzaga here Saturday.

Quarterback Eibert Inman and Clarence Devlin were back after minor injuries last week. Still absent, however, was Harold Klumb, 203-pound tackle, suffering from a leg injury.

SPOKANE.—Coach Mike Pecarovich is working on a double-edged weapon for Gonzaga's fight with the University of Idaho at Moscow Saturday. He is training the Bulldogs to get in front of the long passes, expected from the hand of Bob McGuire and he is polishing a passer of his own—like Petersen.

MORAGA, Calif.—The St. Mary's Gaels will use two complete teams of almost equal strength against California next Saturday. This was promised by Coach "Slip" Madigan, who is banking solely on reserve power to stop the Bears. It was this two-team idea last year that cost the boys from Moraga the game. When the second team went in, California started its victory march.

BERKELEY, Calif.—Floyd Flower, ace quarterback of the University of California, will positively be able to play by October 15, physicians said after a thorough investigation. A supposedly permanent kidney injury, they found, was only temporary and virtually healed. His parents' opposition to his playing has also been removed.

theater, is on crutches with a badly sprained ankle incurred in a scrimmage season, and will be lost to the Blue yearlings probably until the Washington State Babe clash, billed for October 13, at Spokane. Gilinsky had looked impressive in workouts against the variety and was considered as a likely starting choice against the Cougar front.

ROSEBURG RATES ABOUT EVEN WITH MEDFORD TIGERS

(By Harold Grove)

Two teams of equal caliber will take the field Saturday when the Roseburg Indians meet the Medford Tigers on Van Scoyoc field at 2 p. m. in the race to determine "who is who" in southern Oregon football. Statistics to date show that the two teams are about on a par.

Practically the same team that held Medford to a 14-to-13 score last year will face the locals again this year. The Indians lost but eight letters by graduation as compared with the loss of eight. The Indians will have their complete backfield again this year.

Both teams will average about the same in weight, that is, the whole team average. Medford will have a slight edge on weight in the line. Coach H. H. Turner of Roseburg states his boys have been gaining for the game since the first of the season. He also states his boys are in excellent shape for the contest.

A large crowd is expected for the game and tickets are on sale at the Chamber of Commerce, senior high school and will be sold at the gate Saturday afternoon.

SALMON COMING UP ROGUE RIVER

GRANTS PASS, Oct. 4.—(Sp.)—Modern methods were used late Tuesday to transmit to the anxious fishermen of the Rogue River valley news of an age-old migration.

Roy E. Carter of Gold Beach wired here that a large run of fall chinooks and steelhead are starting up Rogue river. The information finds many sportsmen from far and near preparing to land the limit several times within the next few weeks.

From other places it is learned that fishing is poor on the Klamath river, due to the continuous high water, caused by release of water behind dams.

LONDOS SUBDUES GIANT WASHBURN

PORTLAND, Oct. 4.—(Sp.)—Jim London today retained all his Grecian dignity and counted a victory, earned by clean wrestling, over Jack Washburn.

Washburn, 235, of Boston, jolted London continuously with elbow jabs, slugging, kicking and kneeling, and left a few teeth marks for mementos. In their wrestling match here last night, London, 200, of St. Louis, gained

CHAMPION SERAPHS TRIM ALL-STARS OF COAST LEAGUE, 6-4

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Jack Lelivelt's Los Angeles champions are still the masters of the Pacific Coast league. With Lou Garland doing some effective mound work, the Angels out-dug the ballot-selected all-stars of the other seven clubs, 6-4, yesterday in the first game of the league's post-season series.

Two all-stars' errors and the wildness of Joe Sullivan, Hollywood freshman, in the first two innings sent the Lelivelt men away to a 4-0 lead that was never threatened. They added runs in the fifth and sixth to put the game on ice.

The principal all-star spree came in the eighth when they put together three singles and a double for three runs. Manager Walter Rutherford, Seattle, in charge of the all-stars, planned to send Sam Gibson, San Francisco Seals, to the mound tonight, with Fay Thomas, graded Tuesday by the St. Louis Browns, the probable Angel hurler.

CALIFORNIA GIANTS WIN FIRST PRO TILT

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—(AP)—In the first professional football game of the season here, the California

Giants defeated the Moraga Wolves, 14 to 7, last night. The Giants, most of whom are former University of California players, came from behind to score two touchdowns in the last quarter. Most of the Wolves are former St. Mary's college stars.
