COLLEGIUM, Los Angeles, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Washington State outplayed and outthought Southern California here today to send the Trojans down to defeat in their first Pacific coast conference game, 19 to 0.

Fifty thousand excited fans saw the fighting Cougars make the breaks work for them in the first half and then score on their own in the second half after the first two periods had resulted in a scoreless deadlock with few serious threats.

Washington State played smart football and would not be denied. Babe Hollingsberry's boys had a lot of tricks in their bag and pulled most of them out during the afternoon to confuse the pupils of Howard Jones.

Irvine Warburton, Southern California's midget all-America quarterback, was bottled up most of the day and was bounced around the field with considerable abandon by the hard charging Washington State.

The little fellow did not have enough interference in front of him to go places as he did last season.

The victory marked Washington State's first success over Southern California since 1930 when Hollingsberry's team won the conference championship and played for the west in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena. Last year the Trojans won 33 to 0.

A fumble won the first touchdown for the winners. After an exchange of kicks left the ball in Southern California's 39 yard line Christofferson started on a reverse. He fumbled but picked the ball up quickly and although the Trojans had an easy chance to toss him for a seven yard loss, they stood, making no effort to tackle him, and he decided to do something on his own account. He dashed 39 yards to the touchdown and Mel Johansen ran in, adding the extra point with a kick from placement and dashed right out again. Christofferson ran through the whole Southern California team without a hand being laid on him.

In the fourth period a poor kick gave the Cougars the ball on Southern California's 40 yard line and after two smashes into the line failed to gain, the two Eds combined again to good effect for their side. Goddard passing to Brett, who caught the ball over his shoulder on the 20 yard line and ran over the goal line unopposed.

In the last minute of play, Dwight Scheyer, a substitute tackle, grabbed a pass almost before Gary Matthews turned it loose and sprinted 27 yards for the final touchdown. The cat two tries for extra points were wide of the mark, possibly because Johansen remained on the bench but no Washington State player or supporter seemed to care about that.

Southern California played good defensive ball in spots but suffered enough lapses to lose the game and the Trojan offensive never did get under way. The Trojans had their best chance to score in the last minute of the first half when four passes were fired in quick succession, playing against time, from the Cougars' 35 yard line but all failed to connect.

MEMORIAL STADIUM, BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 6.—(AP)—Down on the green turf field of this huge bowl today, St. Mary's Galloping Gaels wrote a vivid chapter into their 1934 football history with a stirring 7 to 0 victory over California's giant Bears, a feat that brought thunderous ovation from 65,000 frenzied fans.

Four minutes after California had kicked off, the alert Gaels, who learn their football under smiling Edward "Slip" Madigan, saw and seized their chance, to rush over the touchdown that turned the tables on a time-honored gridiron foe.

The Bears were backed up close to their own goal after an exchange of punts. Left Halfback Williams tried to get off a quick kick. His toe met the oval, but 220-pound John Yezerzki, left tackle for St. Mary's, crashed through to meet the punter, and the ball went into the end zone.

Nebb Kiduyan, Gael left guard, dove for the ball and blanketed it on the 16-yard line. The big St. Mary's drive got under way. A five-yard outside penalty sent the Bears back to their 11-yard line.

On the next play, Fullback "Kelly" Kellogg smashed through California's left tackle. Two Bear tacklers hit him a yard from goal and the ball bounced crazily into the end zone, where his team mate, Herb Schreiber, left half, recovered it. A minute later Kellogg added the extra point with a place kick.

That seven-point margin proved the difference between two closely matched elevens and for the remainder of the game they rushed up and down the field in a ceaseless exchange of scoring threats that saw California twice miss field goals and St. Mary's stopped after a 60-yard advance.

Not long after the Gaels pushed over their touchdown, the Bears came back with a 47-yard march that ended 15 yards from goal when a fourth down pass fell incomplete.

Late in the second period, the Californians tried to kick their way into the point column to no avail. Artie Williams, Bear left half, made both attempts, one from the 27-yard mark and the other 22 yards from goal. Each place kick was from an angle and in each case the ball sailed straight for the cross bars, but fell short of the mark.

Walter Leverette, the most threatening contender in the P. A. T. golf tournament, stepped into the semi-final Friday afternoon when he defeated G. E. Pierce, 4 and 2. Both Leverette, who shot a 44 on the first nine, and Pierce, who carded a 48 on the first nine, were off form. Leverette was given four strokes on the first round, but the contestants ended hostilities without finishing the match after the outcome was decided.

R. A. Botts, who has forged ahead consistently throughout the tourney, also climbed into the semi-final bracket when he stroked his way to a 2 and 1 victory over Robert Ruhl yesterday in an upset match. Ruhl was leading 3 up at the turn, but went into a slump thereafter and couldn't bring his clubs to bear against the golf demagogue by Botts. He carded a 69, while Botts turned in a tally of 65.

Playing a delayed match Saturday Leland Clark shot his way to a 2 up win over Charles Ellis, carding a brilliant 73, and undershooting his handicap by a good margin. The Clark-Ellis game was in the fourth round, but will be brought up to date today when Clark vies in a quarter-final game with R. D. Semon.

The winner of the Semon-Clark match will be paired with Botts in one of the contests which will decide who will meet for the chance of halting it off in the finals for the P. A. T. trophy. Leverette will play the winner of a match between Harry McMahon and R. B. Hammond, which is scheduled for today.

A. F. Mansfield, chairman of the handicap committee, allegedly had need of a lawyer at the course yesterday in a case which arose out of Leverette's victory over Pierce. Mansfield was confronted with an attempt at bribery, according to reports, and is at a loss on what to do. It is said that Leverette approached the head of the handicap committee, saying that although the handicap of the winner of the P. A. T. tournament is customarily divided in half he would reimburse Mansfield if his handicap were left at 32. It is further said that the theater magnate took it for granted that he would win the cup, and as a bribe for "hands off" on his handicap, offered Mansfield a ticket to the studio theater.

LEVERETTE GOES INTO SEMI-FINAL OF P.A.T. TOURNEY

MUIR BILLED TO MEET BELCASTRO NEXT MAT BOUTS

Muir will fly in the armory ring next Thursday night when two of the coast's scrappiest grapplers tangle in the main event of another three-bout card, according to Promoter Mack Ellard, who announced last night that he has secured no other than Pete Belcastro, drop-kicking Italian wildcat, to match muscle with Bonny Muir, heavyweight champion of Australia.

Muir stepped into popularity here last Thursday when he romped his way to victory over Rube Wright, giant Texan, with a surprise backward body slam. The curly-headed Australian is scheduled to be a tough opponent for the wily Belcastro, according to opinion of Medford's fight fans. Belcastro is known here as a wrestler who employs every type of rough stuff, and has been building up on his newly-acquired drop-kick.

Promoter Ellard has obtained Cliff Thiede, former Long Beach, Calif., life guard, for another match this week. He will be pitted against Harry Demetral, "Terrible Greek" of Chicago. Thiede took his first match here last Thursday from Metro Korzinko, Russian, while Demetral has also been seen in action here.

A preliminary bout between Bob Kenaston, Gold Hill machine, and Armentian Burk, a newcomer to the Medford arena, has also been arranged, according to Ellard. Kenaston wrestled here last week, winning the one fall of a 30-minute match from Jim Healin of Spokane.

The proof is in the bear.

MEDFORD JUNIORS LOSE TO ASHLAND

GOLF FAME COMES TO MISS VAN WIE

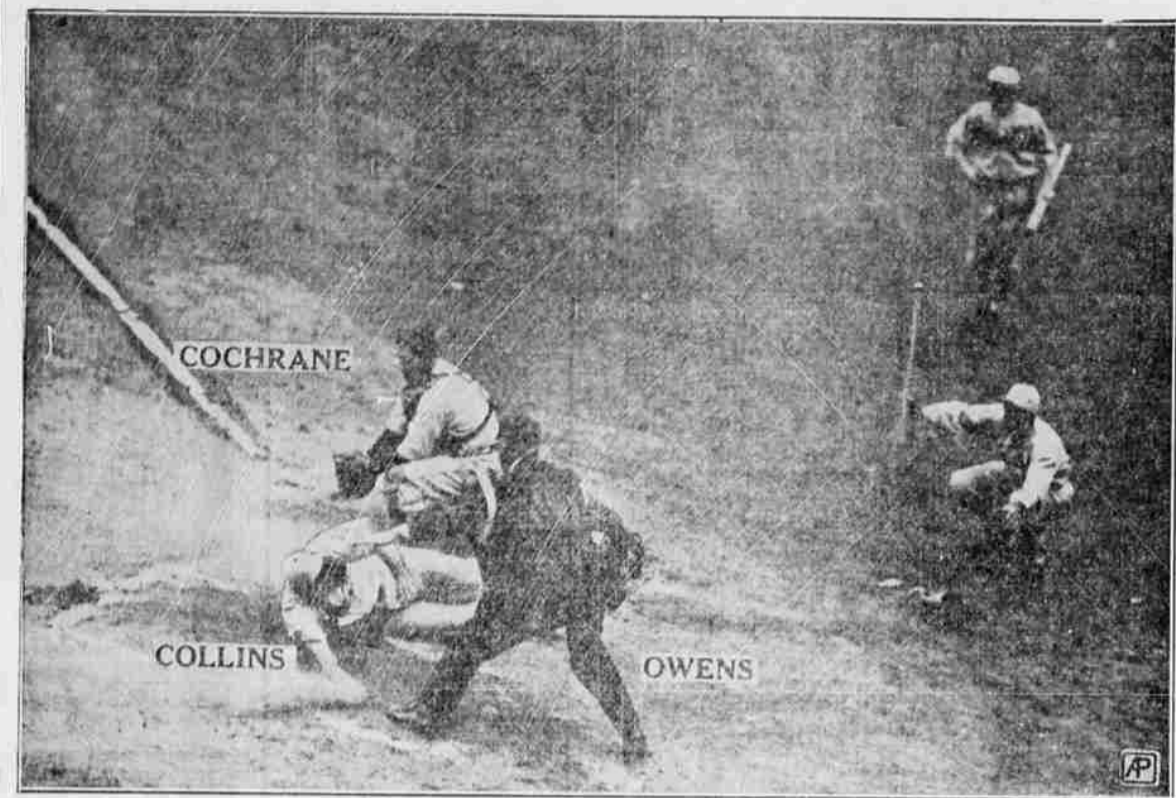

Medford Junior high school football team lost their first varsity game of the season to the Ashland junior high school Friday on Van Schoon field, by a score of 19 to 7. Showing great strength on line plays, but not clicking as a team, the Medford juniors made two costly fumbles deep in their own territory, which enabled the Ashlanders to make two of their touchdowns. Ettinger took the ball over for the locals' only score.

In the first two minutes of play Ashland recovered near the Medford goal and drove over for six points. Medford again fumbled in the second period, costing another six points. The Lithia City juniors were powerless against the line, but clicked on forward passes and long, spitting end runs. The local backfield failed to connect on forward heaves, and lacked interference on end runs.

Although less experienced than the Ashland squad, Medford juniors hope to improve considerably in the next few weeks of practice, according to Coach Ray Henderson, and are pointing for a comeback game.

GOLF FAME COMES TO MISS VAN WIE

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Following with a burst of brilliance, Virginia VanWise of Chicago today turned back the stubborn challenge of Dorothy Traub, 20-year-old San Francisco golf prodigy and won the national women's championship for the third successive year.

After both players had made four holes for eagle three (and missed by inches, the 39th annual tournament ended dramatically on the 39th green with Miss VanWise the winner by a margin of two up and one to play.

Thus the golf hall of fame bids welcome to the 23-year-old Chicago star, who became the fourth woman to win three successive titles. The others were Bessie Byrd, Miss Seeling Fryer and Mrs. Cleona Collett.

GRID EXCITEMENT KILLS SPECTATOR

PORTLAND, Oct. 6.—(AP)—The excitement stirred up by a gridiron battle proved too much for Walter Plant, 53, of Independence, Ore., who died suddenly from a heart attack during the football game here today between Stanford and Oregon State.

The corner's office reported tonight, Plant was pronounced dead almost immediately by two doctors sitting nearby in the grandstand. A son, Gordon, also attended the game, but was not with his father at the time of his death.

STANFORD POWER BEATS STATE 17-0; FRANKLIN HALTED

Backfield Ace Eyed Closely—'Great Grayson' Also Humbled—Final Gun Cheats OSC of Touchdown

By FRANK G. GORRIE
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
MULTNOMAH CIVIC STADIUM, PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 6.—(AP)—Fouring on the power in the second half after they had "melted" down the former "iron man" grid machine of Oregon State college, the mighty Stanford Cardinals blanketed the northern Beavers, 17 to 0, in opening their 1934 drive towards the Pacific coast conference football championship in Multnomah Stadium today.

Jim Moscrip, fancy-stepping end, started the string of victory points in the second period when he kicked a field goal from the 23-yard line. As straight and true as Dizzy Dean's fast ball.

After being held away from a touchdown by the margin of 12 inches early in the first quarter, the Cardinal running attack finally began to function in great style in the last half, and Captain Robert "Bones" Hamilton, and Charles Leadbetter rang up yards in the third and fourth periods, respectively. Moscrip converted the two extra points from placement.

Victory for Stanford was evident from the outset with the southerners jabbing big holes in the Oregon State line, and keeping the fighting but ragged-working northerners in a bad hole.

The Cardinals watched Oregon State's famous backfield, Norman Franklin, like a hawk, and had him running around in circles most of the time trying to find an opening which would permit him to get into the clear.

The final gun cheated the rugged staters out of their only chance to score after a sensational march from their own 20-yard line to within 2 yards of the Stanford goal. Playing against a flock of Cardinal substitutes in the closing minutes, the Beavers moved ahead 15 yards on three plunges by Wayne Valley and James Daneri, and the latter then hurried a 40-yard pass that luckily fell into John Cassey's arms and he scampered to Stanford's 16-yard line. The pass was nearly intercepted by Robert Maentz, but it slipped out of his hands into the waiting paws of Cassey.

On three more smashes, Daneri and Valley changed to the 3-yard stripe and the 12,000 fans howled for a touchdown. Only seconds were left and the Cardinals dug their cleats into the dirt and held Valley to 27 yards as the battle ended.

Stanford gained a big break in the first minute of play when Norman Franklin fumbled on a running attack, and Bobby Grayson, former Portland high school star, recovered for the crimson squad on OSC's 19.

In an effort to make the best of the break, Grayson and Hamilton ploughed to a first down on the 5-yard line.

The five remaining members of the famous "iron man" machine of last year, which amazed the grid world by holding Southern California to a scoreless tie, then sparked the Staters into such a fighting mood they stopped four stinging bucks by Grayson 12 inches from the goal line.

MEDFORD CRUSHES TRICKY ROSEBURG ELEVEN, 32 TO 0

Valley Scores Klamath Falls 12, Grants Pass 6, Mt. Shasta-Ashland cancelled.

Medford high school started her drive for another state football title Saturday with a 32 to 0 victory on the fast-stepping Roseburg Indians.

In the first quarter, the Tigers carried the attack deep into Roseburg territory, the whistle ending the quarter before Medford could score.

In the second quarter, Medford was not to be denied and despite stubborn resistance, pounded over two touchdowns. Roseburg was unable to solve the varied attack of the Tigers.

"Leaping Leo" Ghelardi demonstrated his ability as a quarterback by missing end runs, passes and line breaks to such an extent that the Indians were consistently caught off guard, when they moved in to stop line plays. Leo would reel off yardage around the ends behind beautiful interference formed by Baker and Hinman.

The coach's worries about filling Tom White's shoes are over, as a fast-stepping back by the name of Lewis is proving that he can play football with any back in the state.

Coach Darwin K. Burger also found in Saturday's game that Rube Brown can step in and call signals as well as block and carry the old pigskin. For the first time in four years, Burger finds himself well supplied with reserves: Harrison, Kickerson, Fowler, Ettinger, Todd, Gifford and Dorf are ready to fill any regular's shoes, while in the backfield Kunzman, Smith, Young, Baylis, Ottoman, Swanson and Ray Lewis are keeping the first string backs on their toes.

The Medford play was ragged in spots due to lack of practice.

If Roseburg afloat, out to stop the wide plays, Bates or Smith would zip through their line for one long gain after another, through the holes opened by Big Keith Bates and Owen Bates, Medford linemen.

On the defense, Kindred, Stewart and Captain Joe Pierce were a tower of strength, breaking up the Roseburg attack time after time. In the air, Medford showed a decided improvement over last Saturday. One pass from Ghelardi to Pierce went for a touchdown, another from Ghelardi to Hinman was good for a 40 yard gain.

Roseburg's only threat came in the first half when B. Schermer, Roseburg quarter, on a criss-cross, carried the ball within eight yards of the Tigers' goal. He was run out of bounds by "Hard Rock" Baker.

The starting lineup:
Roseburg — LE — Hinman
Gardner — LT — O. Bates
Shepherd — LG — Baker
Dent — LG — Baker
Russell — C — Stewart
Ostrander — RG — Estes
Boyd — RT — Kindred
Robertson — RE — Petree
Schermer — E — Ghelardi
Campbell — LH — Brown
Schermer — RH — Lewis
Rand — FB — Bates, B.

Substitutes: Roseburg, Neal, Harris, Baker, Fawcett, Wason, Turpin, Collins, Rutter, Short.

HAMAS GIVEN NOD IN LASKY BATTLE

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Your heavyweight champion of the world, carter Maxie Beer, can dance the ceiling midnight through for the rest nine months and have nothing much to fear from young Steve Hamas, the Paeanic, N. J. boy, who stood half a head smaller than big Art Lasky here last night and punched out a decision in 10 rounds.

In the history of this great amphitheater, there was never a 23 year old boy who stood up and fought with such a heart as young Hamas did in this struggle with Lasky. He gave away seven pounds and two precious inches in each, yet he stood up after a terrific thrashing in the third round, and came back to win, though he was out on his feet at the end.

The judges disagreed. Joe Angelo gave Hamas six rounds to four for Lasky, and Harold Barnes gave them five apiece, but Barnes voted for Lasky because of his courageous finishing. Referee Billy Kavanaugh settled the dispute by giving Hamas five, Lasky four and calling one even.

COSTLY FUMBLES NET GONZAGA WIN OVER IDAHO, 24-20

MOSCOW, Idaho, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Gonzaga's Bulldogs rode rough-shod over Idaho's touted air and running attack before 6500 fans at MacLean field this afternoon, clinching a 24-20 victory by repelling the Idaho pass barrage in the fourth and pushing the Vandals back to its own goal line for the final whistle.

The Bulldogs took advantage of two Idaho fumbles in the opening stanza to gain a commanding first-quarter lead of 16 to 0.

The Vandals fell in the first three minutes, with McCue's pass to Iverson for 20 yards, paving the way for Cy Geraghty's plunge over from the one-yard line.

In the second play after the next kickoff McCue's long pass to midfield was intercepted by Swede Peterson. Gonzaga speed merchant, who tore through the Idaho secondary line to the goal.

Geraghty fumbled the following kick-off, it rolled to Idaho's 32, and from there McNeese skirted his right end for a second touchdown.

The second stanza saw Idaho ring up a brace of touchdowns to lead at the half, 20 to 16.

Gonzaga's winning score came in the third following a 15-yard penalty against Idaho that gave the Bulldogs the ball on the home team's 21.
