GAIN IN BUSINESS SEEN BY STEIWER

PENDLETON, Ore., Oct. 9.—(AP)—Senator Frederick Steiwer (R., Ore.) today declared that while business this year has been disappointing to many, he is convinced that the general trend is toward improvement.
 Here today on a business trip, he said recent labor disturbances which tied up industry in many sections were the chief reasons for the lull.
 Steiwer predicted that with strike settlements, a general quickening of business activity will be noted.

MUSSOLINI'S RISE TOPIC OF BISHOP AT ROTARY MEET

Benito Mussolini, the most talked of man in Europe today, and his much-debated "Fascism" were discussed at today's meeting of the Medford Rotary club by Lee Bishop, many of the pertinent sayings and writings of the dynamic Italian were quoted by Bishop in his impartial talk which reviewed Mussolini's sensational rise to power in European affairs and the theory of his radically different method of government.

In introducing his subject, the speaker quoted the famous Italian in saying that the so-called Fascist party is a movement against other parties, rather than a party itself. He told of the formation of the corporate state and described Mussolini's historic march on Rome after telling of his political background and the faith of his followers.
 "Fascism does not believe in peace," Bishop quoted from Mussolini in pointing out that Italy's virtual dictator is firm in his belief that war is necessary in "stealing" men, Bishop reminded the Rotarians of Mussolini's recent edict that boys in their teens must be trained in army tactics.
 Mussolini's writings in which he described the fallacies of a democracy were read by the speaker, who quoted the Italian in describing a democratic form of government as a "government of mass irresponsibility." Fascism, in Mussolini's opinion, the type of government in which the best of other forms are incorporated. It has, he said, a "will and personality" whereas a democracy is "rumbustious."

While fascism is subject to wide debate, Bishop pointed out that it had achieved a certain balance between capital and labor, while obviously curtailing a personal liberty.
 If Duce's showmanship and ability were mentioned by Lee in the conclusion of his very interesting address.
 William Cook of Alameda and Art Brown of Portland were visiting Rotarians at today's meeting.
