REMODELED HOME WILL BE EXHIBITED SUNDAY, MONDAY

As an example of the work that can be accomplished through the local better homes campaign, by taking advantage of government loans offered by the Federal Housing Administration, a remodeled house will be opened to the public next Sunday and Monday, October 14 and 15.

The house, located at 1906 West Main, has been changed from a decrepit building to a modern home, through a modernizing plan made possible by several Medford firms, and sponsored by the local housing committee, under the chairmanship of E. G. Harder. Besides renovation of the house itself, which included addition of rooms, improving windows, floors and conveniences, and completely redecorating, a garage has been constructed in the rear of the property. With a new lawn and a concrete driveway, the property is now an attractive one.

Members of the housing committee will be at the house Sunday and Monday, from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m., to receive those interested in inspecting the modernized home. Plans and photographs "before and after" will also be exhibited.

Organized only a few weeks ago, the housing program has already met with considerable results, according to members of its executive committee. This is shown by the fact that during the month of September, 1933, a total of only 10 alterations were made in the city, amounting to an expenditure of $3,215, while in September, 1934, the total reaches 23 alterations, at an expenditure of $7,119.

MORTHLANDS HOME FROM EASTERN TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Morthland of the Medford Flower shop, who have been on a five weeks' trip to eastern points, during which time they attended a florists' convention in Denver and visited relatives at Harrisburg, Pa., returned to Medford Monday.

They made the return trip through Canada, by boat, from Vancouver to Seattle. Their stay in the east was very interesting, they reported, as they visited the Pennsylvania coal fields, the Gettysburg battleground and other points of interest.

ATHLETE'S FOOT LIKE RINGWORM

SALEM, Ore.—(UP)—Causes and results of athlete's foot were described today by the state board of health.

The organism that causes the infection, a member of the yeast family and a type of ringworm, is quite at home in a public shower bath or in a floor attached to a swimming pool, gymnasium, or golf club.

Active signs that help in recognition of the condition were described by the board. These include: The formation of groups or crops of small water blisters about the size of a pin head which itch considerably and are aggravated by water, fissures and scaling of skin between the toes. More latent signs include: White scales beneath the toe nails, thickening, discoloration, and irregular edges of the nails.

Eagle Pig Thief Seen In Action

DANBURY, N. H.—(UP)—Arthur Hollenbeck's baby pigs were being stolen, so he decided to sit up all night and watch for the culprit. He was astonished to see the thief swoop out of the sky. It was a giant American eagle, followed, by six eaglets. The eagle grabbed a pig and flew away, with the eaglets close behind.

CCC WORK LAUDED AS SAVING TREES FROM FIRE DEMON

WASHINGTON—(UP)—A roundup of the work sheets of jobs done by the Civilian Conservation Corps during its first year reveals a big increase in major item accomplishments for the second half of the year over the first half, according to the Forestry News Digest.

The figures, compiled during the period of drought, when fire hazards are the worst, points out to the American people the tremendous job facing the forester when there is no CCC to help him, said Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Tree association.

P. A. Silcox, U. S. forest chief, declared fire losses were "more than cut in half" during the first 10 months of 1933, adding that he attributed much of this saving to the work of the CCC.

The conservation corps was responsible for a 37 per cent reduction in forest fires, according to Arno B. Cammerer, director of national parks.

Analysis of figures compiled by the Forestry News Digest shows 688,709 man-days were spent fighting fires for the year ending April 1, 1934.

Other achievements of the CCC include: Telephone line construction, 15,241 miles; insect pest control, trees, 1,686,637 acres; well development for livestock, 1168 wells; erosion control, bank protection, 110,020,183 sq. ft.; trail building, 5733 miles.

PRISON 'TOUGH GUYS' FEAR DENTIST MOST

BOSTON—(UP)—The tougher a "tough guy" is the more he fears the dentist. That is the conclusion of Dr. J. Payson McDonald, staff dentist at the state prison here.

After treating every one of the 1000 prisoners in the institution at least twice a year for several years, Dr. McDonald says that the worst criminals squirm and tremble like children when they are sitting in the chair.

SAMOYED NOMADS MAY ENJOY TASTE OF SCHOOL DAYS

WASHINGTON—(UP)—Samoyed nomads are going to get their first taste of school life—and the National Geographic society, fears truant officers are in for a lively existence.

Seven little red tents have been pitched on the bleak tundra near Arkhangelsk, northern Russia, marking the first Samoyed school-houses.

Although most numerous in the vicinity of Arkhangelsk, about 20,000 Samoyeds live in a primitive state of culture from the eastern shores of the White Sea along Arctic shores east of the Gulf of Khatanga, Siberia. They extend southward between the basins of the Ob and the Yenisei.

However, the Geographic society believes difficulties of American school teachers will seem small compared with problems to be faced by Samoyed instructors.

Illiterate and preserving their traditions solely in songs, the Samoyeds boast a sonorous language, resembling Finnish, which has three dialects and twelve sub-dialects. Although believed to be moderately intelligent, they have had little or no schooling, as most of them lead a hand-to-mouth existence by reindeer herding, hunting and fishing.

Of Mongolian origin, they possess straight black hair, oblique eyes, and yellow-brown skin. However, it was said their skin often appears darker, as they reputedly never wash. Men and women are hard to distinguish, as both wear reindeer skin tunics and trousers.

Some Samoyeds have become nominal Christians, but their veneer of Christianity is thin. Many of the natives worship the bear as a divine being in disguise and wear his teeth as amulets.

CHOCOLATE DROPS RETURN TO FAVOR

READING, Pa.—(UP)—Emerging from the red, America has gone definitely chocolate. This color scheme is radiating from here in delicious, rich brown waves designated to create 326,700,000 separate and distinct titillations of the American palate.

These conclusions were based on recent exhaustive researches following the arrival at a candy plant of 22 freight cars loaded with cartons. They are to be filled with chocolate drops and sent out during this month to satisfy the American sweet tooth.

Experts figured out that there are 198,000 cartons in the shipment, and 198,000 cartons represent 326,700,000 chocolate drops. At the rate of only one titillation per chocolate drop, this accounts for the 326,700,000 titillations afore-mentioned.
