YUGOSLAVS PROCLAIM KING

Prince Paul Will Be Head Of Regency

By PAUL MALLON. (Copyright, 1934, by Paul Mallon) WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 11.—The fr-r-eat government drive to unfreeze the capital market has been accompanied by more ballyhoo than anything since the NRA. Jesse Jones, the RFC chairman, has a talked himself hoarse. Even the staid old federal reserve board crowd took to the radio. Together they have done everything short of ramming money down the throats of business men in an effort to get rid of the $380,000,000 which congress authorized for this noble experiment in credit expansion.

By CHARLES MEISTER (Copyright, 1934, by the Associated Press) BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The boy Crown Prince Peter was proclaimed king of Yugoslavia today by both houses of parliament sitting as a national assembly. In a scene of sadness, and silence, broken only by the spoken pledges, the members sitting as a national assembly took the oath to make the 11-year-old son of the slain Alexander King Peter the Second.

Each member took the oath individually to support the king's constitution and the law of the land. A solemn scene was presented as the pale, nervous Prince Paul, Alexander's cousin and head of the newly appointed regency, looked down from the royal enclosure at hundreds of sad-visaged deputies, as each raised his right hand and with the left on the Bible pledged himself to the new regime.

Prince Paul himself dramatically took the oath of parliament by a simple laconic speech. After swearing faithfully to serve his country and to preserve the unity of its people, he said: "Thank you for your confidence in me. I think you have not made a mistake in me."

The deputies then broke into prolonged and excited cheers such as have seldom been won by a carefully worded oration in a parliament where the ceremony took place. The senators and deputies, still feeling the shock of Alexander's assassination at Marseille, obviously were reassured by the prince's words.

By Richard G. Massock Associated Press Foreign Staff. (Copyright, 1934, by the Associated Press.) PARIS, Oct. 11.—(AP)—France's police, stung by the assassination on French soil of King Alexander of Yugoslavia, and Louis Barthou, foreign minister of France, arrested two alleged terrorists and shot it out with a third who escaped and hunted intently for two more accomplices today.

The terrorists gang, they said, was affiliated with Petrus Kalemien, the assassin of Marseille. France prepared to bury her beloved statesman, Barthou, even as she guarded zealously the safety of the new king of Yugoslavia, 11-year-old Peter II, and his mother, the widowed Queen Marie. Madame Lebrun, the wife of the president of France, offered herself as a pledge of Queen Marie's safety, for, disguised with a heavy veil, she rode through the streets of Paris in an automobile with her husband, sitting in the back of the car, and spectators might think she was the Yugoslavian queen.

Queen Marie, meanwhile, was snuggled from the Marseille train to the Yugoslav legation where she joined her son. A shakeup of the French cabinet appeared increasingly probable as the public denunciation of police failures arose to a storm of protests.

INJURED LINEMAN AWARDED $18,000 BY FEDERAL JURY A. R. Rutter, Klamath Falls lineman, was awarded a verdict of $18,000 by a federal jury that reported shortly before 1 o'clock this morning after nine hours' deliberation. Rutter sought $100,000 damages from the California Oregon Power company for injuries to his arms and hands, received a year ago while working with high-voltage wires near Keno, Klamath county.

LABOR FEDERATION REJECTS PLAN FOR PARTY FORMATION

Non-Partisan Policy Is Re-affirmed at San Francisco Convention — Merriam's Stand Receives Criticism

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Reaffirming its non-partisan policy, the American Federation of Labor today turned down resolutions calling for the formation of a political labor party in America. The resolutions committee had recommended that the federation should remain non-partisan and show no discrimination, following its attitude in racial and creed matters.

A viva voce vote brought a large number of dissenting votes against rejecting the motion calling for the political labor party, but William Green, president of the federation, ruled the "ayes" had carried. Pending for formation of a political party, Hugo Ernst of the Hotel and Restaurant employees, declared "the time has come when labor needs to organize along political as well as economic lines."

Ernst said the resolution calling for such a party was not communitarian. He assailed the stand taken by Acting Governor Frank Merriam of California during the recent general strike here, charging the governor "had played into the hands of the vicious industrial association" in calling out troops "to help the employers break the strike."

MINER PERISHES FROM THIRST IN COW CREEK CAMP

Group Sent to Carry Body Out Six Miles Over Mountain Trail — Pair Were Out On Prospecting Trip

ROSEBURG, Ore., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Samuel King, believed to be about 65 years of age, a resident of Holtville, near Salem, collapsed and died yesterday afternoon in an isolated dry camp in the Cow Creek district of Douglas county as a result of thirst and exhaustion, according to word reaching here this morning. Word of King's death was brought to West Fork last night by his partner, P. P. Madill, also of Salem, and men were sent out to the camp this morning to carry the body over six miles of mountain trail to the railroad.

King and Madill, engaged in a prospecting excursion into the wild, mountainous country in southwestern Douglas county, were without water for a day and a half, it is reported. According to mesager details received here by the sheriff's office this morning, the two men left West Fork Tuesday on a prospecting excursion. They were unable to find water all of that day and were forced to make a dry camp at night. They continued their search for water Wednesday and about noon King collapsed. Madill remained with his companion, endeavoring to relieve the sufferings of his companion, but King, it is stated, died within a short time.

Medill returned to West Fork last night and made his report. SEATTLE, Oct. 11.—(AP)—A huge green "O" was found painted on the University of Washington chimneys towered the 8800 students at the Seattle institution immediately declared open season on sign painters. A student reported he saw two cars with Oregon license plates away from the tower at 1:30 p. m. The Oregon-Washington football teams play at Portland Saturday.

Campus Raiders Nabbed Here

Arrest of two men at the Medford airport upon their arrival in a chartered plane from Eugene was believed to have broken up an interstate system of fraternity house robberies. John Eckstrom (left) and Eugene H. Rose, former students of midwest universities were sentenced to five years in the Oregon state prison within 26 hours after being arrested. They confessed to prowling ten fraternity houses at Oregon State and Washington State colleges, while police said evidence indicated other campus raids in the Rocky Mountain and Pacific coast areas.—(Associated Press Photo).

VICTIM SUFFERING FROM COLD WHEN BEATEN, ABDUCTED

Family Is Ready to Make Quick Payment of $50,000 Ransom Demanded in Bold Louisville Snatch

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Fear that Mrs. Alice Stoll, young society matron, might die in a kidnaper's hands was based, it was learned today, not only on the fact that she was beaten with an iron pipe until blood came, but that she was suffering from a severe cold when abducted. From members of the family of Berry V. Stoll, oil company vice-president, police learned during the night that the 26-year-old former Bryn Mawr student and Junior League member, was ill when a white-faced man kidnaped her late yesterday for $50,000 ransom. Major William Schmidt, night chief of police, said the young woman had a high temperature yesterday afternoon when an unidentified man got into the Stoll home by a ruse, abducted her and her maid, Ann Wollet, and forced Mrs. Stoll to leave with him in an automobile.

The Stoll family physician, however, said her temperature was not abnormally high. Ready Pay Ransom. The Stoll family and that of William S. Speed, retired capitalist, her father, announced from the start they were ready to pay the ransom and today Mr. Stoll reiterated: "We are not so much interested now in the capture of the kidnaper as we are in the return of Alice. All we want is to get her back alive." Federal agents were being concentrated in Louisville to aid in the search, on orders from Washington. (Continued on Page Eleven)

FEDERAL COURT SESSION CLOSSES

Session of the federal court for the Southern Oregon district was closed today. It lasted but two days and was the shortest term in many years. One criminal case, remaining on the docket, was transferred to Portland owing to inability of defendant's counsel to be present. Federal Judge James Alger Fee and wife returned to Portland this morning.

HEARING SET ON HABEAS CORPUS FOR HAUPTMANN

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Supreme Court Justice Ernest E. L. Hammer today set 11 a. m. Monday as the time for a hearing on a petition for a writ of habeas corpus sought by counsel for Bruno Richard Hauptmann to prevent his removal to New Jersey to face a murder charge in the Lindbergh kidnap case. Justice Hammer denied a request of Attorney General David T. Wilentz of New Jersey, for an immediate hearing on the application. Justice Hammer made the announcement following a 20-minute conference with district attorney Samuel J. Foley, of the Bronx, James M. Fawcett, counsel for the defense, and Wilentz in his chambers. Foley said today that until the petition for the writ is disposed of Hauptmann will be in the custody of the New York city police commissioner.

BANKS AND OFFICES WILL CLOSE FRIDAY

Tomorrow, October 12, being Columbus day, a legal holiday, the city hall, county courthouse, the Medford banks and the state liquor store will be closed, it was announced today.

Oregon Students Paint Green 'O' on Huskies' Campus

SEATTLE, Oct. 11.—(AP)—A huge green "O" was found painted on the University of Washington chimneys towered the 8800 students at the Seattle institution immediately declared open season on sign painters. A student reported he saw two cars with Oregon license plates away from the tower at 1:30 p. m. The Oregon-Washington football teams play at Portland Saturday.

INJURED LINEMAN AWARDED $18,000 BY FEDERAL JURY

A. R. Rutter, Klamath Falls lineman, was awarded a verdict of $18,000 by a federal jury that reported shortly before 1 o'clock this morning after nine hours' deliberation. Rutter sought $100,000 damages from the California Oregon Power company for injuries to his arms and hands, received a year ago while working with high-voltage wires near Keno, Klamath county. Attorneys for the power company stated today that as a compromise offer, Rutter had been offered a $25,000 settlement, which had been declined by counsel. Rutter, injured while working on a pole, was one of a force of men engaged in extending a power line under direction of Francis Prescott of this city as foreman. Rutter mounted the pole at the start of the day and soon thereafter came in contact with the high-voltage wires, and was severely burned. He alleged that the power company was negligent in not providing safety precautions. The power company alleged contributory negligence in not pulling the "disconnect switches" on the pole before starting work. The power company was represented by Attorneys George M. Roberts of this city and Wilbur and Marsh of Portland. Rutter was represented by Attorney Arthur L. Moulton of Portland.

Saber Cuts Down Assassin as Bullets Deal Death

This exceptional photo, from the Associated Press, shows King Alexander's assassination in Marseille as he was driving through the streets with France's Minister of Justice Barthou, who also died of bullet wounds. This picture, sent by radio from London to New York and San Francisco, and by stream in the Mail Tribune, was taken a split second after the fatal shots had been fired. An artist has indicated by arrows the principal figures of the latest European tragedy. 1—King Alexander as he was shot. 2—The assassin. 3—A crowd of officers which Rutter cut the head of the killer, who can be seen holding his arms above his head for self-protection. Barthou is seated directly behind the chauffeur.

BARTLAM SPEAKS TO KIWANIS CLUB

Rev. E. S. Bartlam, rector of St. Mark's church, was the principal speaker at a luncheon of the Kiwanis club yesterday, giving an enlightening talk on the work of the Humane society. Rev. Bartlam traced the history of the development of various races of animals from the prehistoric age down to modern times. The lives of animals and their characteristics were interestingly told, all of which showed a bearing on the work which confronts the humane society. Rev. Bartlam pointed out that the society not only does work of a sympathetic type but also relief work of a general and comprehensive nature. Safety campaigns and educational work were also discussed at the meeting, and a committee was appointed to further investigate the possibility of the inter-city Kiwanis confederation between Klamath Falls and Medford.

TOBE BROUSE, FORMER RESIDENT, DIES SALEM

Tobe Brouse, guard at the state penitentiary at Salem and formerly of this city, passed away at Salem Thursday morning, according to word received here today. The body is being sent to Medford for funeral services Friday afternoon with Paul Panzer Home in charge.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—We had a ball game, we had a riot, we had Judge Landis hold court right on the field. And we had "Dizzy" Dean. Anywhere "Dizzy" is there is something happening, either for or against. The courtroom scene didn't last long because neither ball player had time to call their lawyers quick. I believe I am the only fellow who talked with both boys in their dressing rooms directly after the game. Medwick, whom I already knew, is a fine boy and he felt very sorry, said it was just in the excitement of the game, and he did it before he realized what he was doing, and that he had no hard feelings at all toward Owen. Owen was mighty nice about it and said there was no attempt at a fight or an argument, and that he thought that Medwick had done what he did in the excitement. It was the crowd that wanted to fight, not the ballplayers. The Tigers put up a fine fight and darn it, I did feel sorry for 'em in their dressing room. Nobody slapping 'em on the back, in fact, nobody in there but them. Game Mickey Cochrane sitting there just removing bandage after bandage from almost all over himself. Deal the men in a he man's game, with almost tears in their eyes, but not squawking. They just said "Old Diz" had everything. I can applaud a winner as loud as anybody, but somehow a loser appeals to me. Over in the St. Louis dressing room it was a madhouse. "Dizzy" had on one of those Indian helmets, and a stuffed rubber tiger by the wall. He says: "Well, the championship remains in Oklahoma." "Pepper" Martin and all the others just plain nutty. It's been a great series. I used to know all the old time players and it was like a reunion for me. "Dizzy" ain't dizzy, and "Daffy" ain't daffy. They are plenty smart and fine boys. My old friend, Joe E. Brown, didn't wound anybody by a handshake. If he did he must have bit 'em. Yours, Will Rogers.
