

BUDGET DRAFTERS TO INSPECT ROADS FOR REPAIR NEEDS

The Jackson county budget committee, George W. Dunn of Ashland, chairman, will inspect roads and bridges of Jackson county tomorrow and Saturday, to gain first hand information on maintenance and repair needs. Next week the budget committee will take up one of the major problems confronting it—what to do about the county roads.

On many of the county roads no repairs or maintenance has been made for three or four years, owing to financial stringency, with the result they are beginning to show the effects of wear and tear. On some routes the county stands a good chance of losing its investment unless work is done. Some of the bridges are in bad shape and if anything should happen the resultant damage suit would more than offset cost of repairs in time.

It is expected that the road appropriation will be higher than last year but not enough to cause any claim of extravagance. It will be large enough to provide for maintenance, solely as a means of preserving what has already been spent. County Judge Day said today that appropriations for county management would be practically the same as last year. He further stated that all the county departments would close the year within their budget. This has been accomplished, Judge Day said, by rigid economy and close watching of pennies. He said that some departments had asked for increases, but they had been balanced by decreases on other items. Practically all departments filed for salary increases, but none was granted.

Work of preparing the budget this year was simplified by the efficiency methods employed last year, giving the budget committee a sound basis upon which to make appropriations. It looks like the budget would be completed by November 1, the legal time. A public hearing on the budget will be called early in November, date and place to be announced later.

TRIAL OF CROW WAITS REMOVAL

Evan L. Crow, local youth held by federal authorities for the alleged passing of a forged money order last May on a Boise, Idaho, drug store manager, is still held by the government in the Multnomah county jail awaiting an order of removal to the jurisdiction of the Idaho federal court, according to federal aides in this city in attendance at the southern Oregon term of the federal court. Crow has been indicted by the federal grand jury for the Idaho district.

Crow was bound over by United States Commissioner Victor A. Tenenwald following a hearing. The government alleged he passed the forged money order of May 26 last. Crow offered a number of witnesses to show that he was in this city and Grants Pass at the time he was supposed to be in Boise, and that it was a physical impossibility for him to commit the alleged crime.

BOGUS BILL CASE IN JUSTICE COURT

A hearing was held yesterday by Justice of the Peace William R. Coleman in the "small claims" action of A. L. Vroman against Amy Feder of this city, for $20, allegedly due on account pending presentation of more testimony and evidence by the defendant.

The action is unique. Mrs. Feder paid the account with a $20 bill, which later turned out to be spurious. Its worthlessness was not detected until it passed through a Portland bank. Vroman paid an account with a Portland firm with the bill.

It is the defendant's contention that she paid the bill in good faith and holds that she should not be required to pay it again. She presented receipts for its payment.

AGNES HARDMAN PASSES, AGED 64

Agnes Hardman, a resident of Medford for the past ten years passed away in a local hospital early Thursday morning at the age of 64 years. She is survived by four sons and one daughter, Bert, Wm. Leht R., Cyril J., Virgil L., and Ida Eloise Hart, all of Medford.

The body is at the Conger funeral parlors, where funeral arrangements are being made and from where services will later be announced.

PENSION PLAN MEETING WILL BE HELD TONIGHT

There will be an open meeting at the court house auditorium this evening at 7:30 in behalf of the Townsend revolving old age pension plan. The public is invited and those interested are urged to be there. Full explanation of the plan will be given.

The proof is in the wear. Buy your HOSE at Elneswyn R. Hoffmann's.
