

Public Invited to Inspect Modernized Home in Medford Sunday

ECONOMY NOTED IN REMODELING BY FIRMS HERE

Transformed from an unbelievable, weatherbeaten blot on the landscape to an attractive up-to-date dwelling, the modernized house at 1506 West Main street, reconstructed by the Jackson County Building and Loan association, will be open for inspection today and Monday from 10 a. m. to 6:00 p. m.

Before the carpenters started working on the west side house it was a detriment to the residential section of west Medford, according to J. H. Fletcher, secretary-manager of the Jackson County Building and Loan association. Modernizing the building has increased its value at least $500 over and above the cost of remodeling, he said.

One bedroom and a convenient garage were added and the place is now doubly constructed, including a double floor. The exterior is white with green trimmings and shutters. All walls are papered in artistic patterns and polished floors add a pleasant note of newness. The yard has been leveled ready for a lawn and flower garden.

All materials used in constructing the modernized home were furnished by local firms, and labor was done by home owners who used their wages in paying off property indebtedness, according to Mr. Fletcher. This is the third dwelling to be completely renovated by his association.

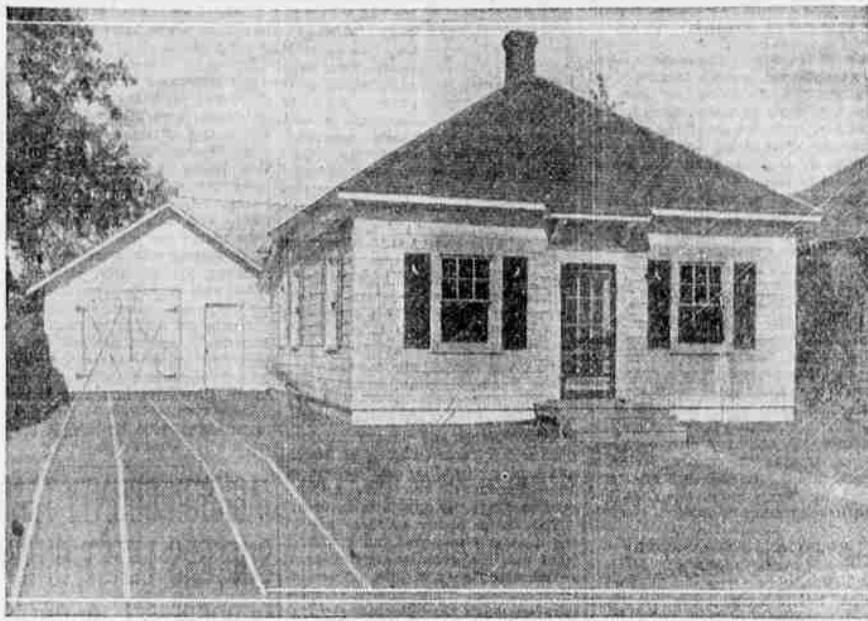

Visitors at the remodeled house today and tomorrow will see ideal home furnishings from the following Medford firms: Cupp's Furniture store; Mann's Department store, People's Electric store, Weeks & Orr, Hammett's Plumbing company. Materials were purchased from Trowbridge Cabinet Works, Porter Lumber company, Woods Lumber company and others. Leslie Van Doren was in charge of architectural plans.

The Chamber of Commerce housing committee particularly urges the public to inspect the modernized home and to view the pictures of the place before and after being improved. Floor plans of the interior will also be on display.

Expected Today—James Franklin of Portland, in charge of the E. C. W. of the forest service, is expected to arrive in Medford today from the regional forest offices in Portland.

Ohio's death rate increased 16 persons a day for the first six months of 1934. The total was 40,683 in comparison with 37,708 for the same period in 1933.

Home at 1506 West Main Modernized

In co-operation with the National Housing Act, the Medford Federal Savings and Loan Association sponsored this little, small-family home at 1506 West Main street. Top, the home after the economical program had been completed and ready for public inspection today. Bottom: The little house as it appeared before modernizing. Home labor and materials were employed and local firms have co-operated in furnishing this attractive little residence.

RECREATION PATH TO AID SPORT IN UNION CRK. AREA

As a preliminary step in making the Union Creek resort an extensive winter sports area, the Rogue River national forest has constructed a recreational trail for several miles along the neighboring Rogue river, which Karl Janouch, forest supervisor, says affords one of the most beautiful and scenic walks in the national forest.

The pathway, which follows the river from Farewell Bend on the Crater Lake highway, to the mouth of the mouth of Union creek, is the first of a series of projects which are being outlined by the forest service to provide ski jumps, toboggan slides and other improvements necessary for an extensive snow sports area. The work will be carried on through several of the city's ski club members. It is Mr. Janouch's belief that, with its natural advantages, Union creek will make a first class winter resort.

As another forest service project, a trail is being constructed around Lake o' the Woods, which will provide lake visitors with a four-foot walk along the shore line. This work is under the supervision of Clyde Smith, forest service trail foreman. K. P. McReynolds, junior forester, has made an inspection tripp of the project from the Medford office.

FOREST SERVICE BUILDING READY

The forest service warehouse, located on McAndrews road half a mile from the Pacific highway, will be completed next week with the exception of interior work, according to Karl Janouch, supervisor of the Rogue River national forest. Approximately $19,000 has been spent on the project to date, and it is expected that $1500 more will be required for completion of the work. Standing 20 by 180 feet, the main building is an enormous structure, and is situated in an extensive property which will also include several smaller storage buildings and a small gasoline pump building. Jack Gill is in charge of the forest service warehouse division.

Beauty Expert To Give Lecture Here

Mlle Renee Raymond, of New York City, recognized authority and writer on beauty and health, was in Medford Friday completing preliminary plans for a series of lectures to be given in this city soon in connection with the opening of the Cinderella's new beauty salon. Before leaving by plane Friday night for Hollywood, Calif., Mlle Raymond stated that the Cinderella Beauty Salon will carry on her program after her return trip to southern Oregon, thus offering to the women of this valley a beauty service to be found in but few places in the west. The series of talks, accompanied by illustrations, will include: "Glamour for every woman"; "Care of the hair, skin, eyes, hands"; "Reducing the body scientifically"; "Correct eating and diets"; "Demonstration of exercises for reducing and health"; "Correct make up and color harmony."

GLEEMEN TICKET PURCHASE URGED

(By Arthur W. Warnock)
Few cities the size of Medford can boast as fine a musical organization as the Medford Gleemen. Indeed, this group of 40 business and professional men is quite in a class by itself. Three years of infinite work on the part of the men and their talented director, James Stevens, as well as their assistant director, Sebastian Apollo, have done wonders for the famous choir. Now, today, the Gleemen can compare favorably with the outstanding male singing organizations to be found anywhere. Have you been asked yet by any member of the associate membership campaign committee for your $2 subscription for the two concerts to be given by the Gleemen this winter? You haven't? Well, here is a friendly tip: Don't wait to be asked; beat them to it; drop in at Pruitt's Melody Shop on Main street and get your associate membership ticket there and let your name be well at the top of the list of those who want to encourage the Gleemen in their work of giving pleasure to the whole community in the Rogue River valley. The membership gives you six tickets to be used in any way you please between the two fine concerts. A real musical bargain if ever there was one. Subscribe during the coming week.
