Seeks Lindy Reward

A share of the $25,000 reward offered by the New Jersey legislature for information leading to the arrest of the Lindbergh baby kidnapper was claimed by William R. Strong (above), a New York bank teller who claimed he detected the $10 gold note that led to the arrest of Bruno Richard Hauptmann. (Associated Press Photo)

HERBS AID TEETH BUT LEAVE BLACK UNSIGHTLY STAIN

By F. B. COLTON (Associated Press Science Writer) WASHINGTON (AP)—Two plants that scientists hope will help solve the problem of stopping tooth decay have been sent to the Smithsonian Institution from the wilds of South America. The juice of the plants is used by the Indians of Colombia and Peru as a tooth preservative. It is reported by scientific scouts who sent in the specimens. There is only one drawback to the use of these plants on the American standpoint—they stain the teeth jet black. South American Indians consider black teeth a beauty asset, but it would probably take the greatest advertising campaign on record to persuade Americans to blacken their teeth for the sake of preserving them.

MELON AND TOMATO STAMP HOLDERS CAN TURN IN FOR REFUND

One organization that has collected more in taxes than it spent during the past season is the Oregon-Washington melon and tomato marketing agreement. Beginning November 1, the agreement will return to each grower in the two states a portion of the agreement's unpaid fund, collected from a stamp tax on each crate of melons and tomatoes retailed in Oregon and Washington. The refund will be made on a basis of stamps purchased, determined by receipts issued.

College Girls Hearty Eaters

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—When the 1,700 girls at Florida State college for women sit down for a meal in the main dining room, it looks like boom times for farmers. Here are some of the items of food that go to make up a typical meal: Soup, 160 gallons. Roast beef, 475 pounds. Beef gravy, 40 gallons. Irish potatoes, 500 pounds. Snap beans, 12 bushels. Spinach, 40 bushels. Cauliflower, 28 crates. Carrots, 700 pounds. Lettuce for salad, one and a half crates. Vegetable oil for salad, 10 gallons. Bread, 160 loaves, or 230 dozen biscuits. Coffee, 60 gallons. Ice cream, 80 gallons. The college operates its own dairy and bakery and does all the cooking in a kitchen that is said to be the largest of any college in the south. It covers half an acre and 60 cooks are employed.
