George Arliss in Craterian Hit

After making screen history with his portrayal in "The House of Rothschild," George Arliss returns in an altogether different role to the Craterian theater today in his new starring picture "The Last Gentleman," probably the most unusual comedy to reach the screen since the inception of talkies.

The story, which depicts the amusing and eventful efforts of an eccentric but lovable old millionaire to choose a worthy heir among his various and colorful relatives, offers Arliss another great role, and the brilliant artist achieves another characterization as rich and complete as even though in a lighter vein—"The House of Rothschild."

Capt. Barr is a tyrannical but good-hearted old widower who first drives his family from his household and then brings them back, insisting upon meddling into everyone else's affairs.

"Come On Marines," at Roxy

Facing bayonets or blondes with equal alacrity, Richard Arden, Roscoe Karns, Monte Blue and their Marines in "Come on Marines," opens at the Roxy today.

even romantic ones—the old gentleman is finally delighted to find that he actually has someone he believes can be trusted to fall heir to his fortune.

A splendid supporting cast assists Mr. Arliss in making the film full of fine, human entertainment. Edna May Oliver, Ralph Morgan, Janet Beecher, Charlotte Henry and Frank Albertson are a few of the featured players.

Report Accident—Ernest Pike, 37, of San Diego, California, reported to city police yesterday that his car collided with an auto driven by Robert T. Nash, of Grants Pass, at 2 p. m., on the north Pacific highway. The reports showed that Pike skidded on wet pavement.

Dewey Fined $10—George Dewey, 36, of Michigan, was fined $10 yesterday in city court, where he had been arraigned on charges of being drunk in a public place. Dewey was arrested Friday night by city police.

Studio Film

"Gallant Lady," starring Clive Brook and Ann Harding which opens at the Studio theater today, presents one of the most poignantly dramatic and appealing stories which has come to the screen this season.

Fined Yesterday—George Reynolds, 44, a native of Oklahoma, was fined $10 in city court yesterday, having been arrested Friday night by city police for drunkenness.

Knowles Fined—Roland B. Knowles, 35, of Seattle, was fined $5 and costs Saturday in justice court for having no receipt of registration in a motor vehicle. Knowles was arrested Friday night by state police.
