

PRETTY BOY LEFT TRAIL OF CRIMES OVER SOUTHWEST

Murders, Bank Robberies, Kidnapings On Record—Clutch Of Law Failed Often—Robin Hood Home

Grave Is Waiting
AKINS, Okla., Oct. 23.—(AP)—There's a grave near this little village awaiting Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd, the Oklahoma outlaw who was mortally wounded today near East Liverpool, Ohio. He picked it himself. And his mother, never believing she would see him alive again, has tended it carefully for more than a year. "Right here is where you can put me," 55-year old Mrs. W. F. Floyd said her son told her in May, 1933. "I expect to go down soon with lead in me—perhaps the sooner the better."

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Charles "Pretty Boy" Floyd was shot and killed on the farm of Mrs. Ellen Conkle, late Monday afternoon, as he fled from a group of federal agents, commanded by Melvin Purvis.

Before the Law Caught Up

"Pretty Boy" Floyd, notorious Oklahoma outlaw, who was shot and killed Monday by federal department of justice agents, on an Ohio farm. He is shown above with his sister, Bernice, when thoughts of capture or death were farthest from his mind.—(Associated Press).

After Birdwell was killed in an attempted bank robbery in the negro village of Boley, Okla., two years ago, Floyd did not take part in that foray.

Throughout eastern Oklahoma and at Sallisaw where he was born, Floyd reputedly was known to some as a "Robin Hood" who gave his loot to indigent hill people, who in turn, gave him shelter.

Driving a fast automobile Floyd would drive up to the door of a bank. Leaving Birdwell manning a machine gun in the car, he would compel bankers and customers to lie on the floor, obtain all cash in sight and kidnaping the banker, would flee. The bankers would be released unharmed at the outskirts of the town.

Filled Officers Open
 Officers have fired point blank at Floyd during their running gun battles, but he has only laughed and sped by them. This led the authorities to believe the outlaw was a bullet proof vest. One of his last robberies in Oklahoma was in his home town of Sallisaw about a year and a half ago.

Floyd began his career of crime in St. Louis in 1925 when he was sentenced to five years imprisonment for highway robbery. In 1930, when Harland F. Manes, Akron, Ohio, policeman was killed, the authorities arrested Floyd and Bert Walker, later electrocuted for murder.

When officers at Bowling Green, Ohio, recognized him later, Floyd shot his way out, killing Patrolman Ralph Castner. He also was suspected of slaying Curtis C. Burke, Kansas City federal prohibition agent.

Returning to Oklahoma, Floyd's trail of crime was climaxed when in April, 1932, he shot his way out of another officer's trap, near Biixby, leaving dead Earl Kelly, a pioneer peace officer.

Richetti Made Aid
 After Birdwell's death Floyd reportedly made Adam Richetti, Seminole oil field worker, his lieutenant.

In July, 1933, he and Richetti kidnaped Jack Killingsworth, Polk county Missouri sheriff and forced him to ride 500 miles in his own car. The sheriff was released unharmed near Lees Summit, Mo.

The following day three machine gunners shot to death four officers and Frank Nash, a convict at the Union station in Kansas City in an effort to deliver Nash. The government charged Floyd and Richetti as two of the actual slayers.

Nothing more was heard from the bandit until officers found him at a Creson, Iowa, farm house, October 11, 1934. He and two companions escaped after a gun battle with two officers.

CHANGE MADE IN POSTAL RULINGS ON ADVERTISING

A regulation governing the distribution of advertising matter through the mails was announced today at the Medford postoffice, extending the acceptance of such matter from postoffices not having letter-carrier service, to those having letter-carrier service. The announcement follows:

Under a new regulation amending what is known as Section 562 Postal Laws and Regulations, the acceptance of advertising and other matter under permit heretofore applicable only to matter intended for distribution to rural and star route boxholders and postoffice boxholders at offices not having letter carrier service, is extended to matter to be distributed to patrons of city and village letter-carrier offices. This arrangement is further simplified by making it optional with the sender to omit the names of the postoffice and state from the individual pieces, provided the word "Local" is used in lieu thereof.

In the case of matter to be distributed at city letter carrier offices, the arrangement may be followed where it is desired to cover all letter carrier routes of a postoffice or only some of the routes, as, for instance where a dealer or merchant wants to confine the distribution of the matter to his neighborhood or trade area, provided, in the latter event, enough pieces are mailed to cover completely the particular route or routes selected, and the numbers of such routes are shown on the facing slips attached to the packages in which the matter is made up.

Under this new arrangement for dealers and merchants, this service is available to them at a low cost of distribution which will cover the entire city and patrons served by rural and star route carriers. By securing a permit in mail under the provisions of Sec. 562 P. L. and R., advertising matter weighing not more than 2 ounces to the piece will be delivered for 1 cent to any patron served through this office.

Each piece must be definitely addressed in the following manner:

- (1) Rural Route Box Holder, Local.
- (2) Star Route Box Holder, Local.
- (3) Post-office Box Holder, Local.
- (4) Patron (or Householder) City Letter Carrier Route, Local.

Information as to number of boxholders on rural and star routes, city letter carrier routes and postoffice boxes may be had by calling at post office. For further information see Superintendent of Mails C. M. Houston, at the postoffice.

YOUR GROCER WILL HELP YOU KEEP HEALTHY AND HAPPY
 Delicious Cereal Promotes Regular Habits

The right kinds of foods form the very basis of health. You need nourishment for strength and energy. And you need "bulk" to prevent constipation.

Otherwise, this ailment may cause headaches, loss of appetite and energy. You can correct it, usually, by eating a delicious cereal.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN adds generous "bulk" to your daily menu. Tests show this "bulk" is similar to that found in leafy vegetables.

Inside the body, the fiber of ALL-BRAN absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass. Gently, this clears out the intestinal wastes.

ALL-BRAN is also a good source of vitamin B and iron.

Isn't it safer—and pleasanter—to enjoy this food in place of taking patent medicines?

Two tablespoonsful of ALL-BRAN daily will overcome most types of common constipation. Chronic cases with each meal. If seriously ill, see your doctor. ALL-BRAN makes no claim to be a "cure-all."

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or cream, or cook into fluffy muffins and breads.

Remember, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is all bran with only necessary flavoring added. It contains much more needed "bulk" than part-bran products. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Horseshoe Veteran Sets New Mark In World Title Play

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Those of the nation's leading horseshoe pitchers who delayed their qualifying bids until today had a new record to shoot at as the world's championship advanced toward match play.

The mark was set by Frank Jacobs of Blue Mound, Kan., a 64-year-old veteran with in his 50 years of playing has won 13 of the world's titles. He stepped out to the turn and flipped ringers on with such monotony that when he had flung 150 shots 125 of them had a new record to shoot at as the world's championship advanced toward match play.

He had to do it, for youth was pressing him hard.

GLAD QUARANTINE NOW IN OPERATION ALL OVER OREGON

GRANTS PASS, Oct. 23.—(Sp.)—In answer to the efforts of numerous gladiolus growers, it will in the future be unlawful to transport or offer for transportation any gladiolus corms in the state of Oregon without first fumigating them under the direction of a state horticultural inspector and securing clearance certificates from him.

This is brought about through the recent adoption by the state department of agriculture of quarantine No. 29, as preventive to the further spread of thrips, an insect pest which is highly injurious to gladiolus blooms.

Gladiolus growers of the Grants Pass vicinity were responsible for the quarantine order. This district has been free of the insect and growers urged the measure's acceptance as a step toward insuring them that the pest would not become prevalent here. They worked through a recently-formed organization known as the Grants Pass Gladiolus society in contacting state agricultural officials and growers in other sections of the state.

All fumigation here will be done under the direction of E. W. Rohlen, deputy state inspector, or some inspector sent to assist him. After the fumigation the inspector will issue clearance slips to the grower, and on each sack or box in a shipment of corms one of these slips must be attached.

28 DWELLINGS IN JACKSON COUNTY TO BE REPAIRED

In co-operation with the world war veterans' state aid commission, the federal government has appropriated $6000 to be expended for labor, on the rehabilitation of about 28 dwellings in Jackson county, originally owned by veterans, but through delinquencies, titles are now held by the state.

Carl T. Tengwald, local representative of the commission said today that besides the $6000 for labor, the state will furnish $3400 for materials. Most of this work will be new roofs.

painting the exterior of the homes, plumbing and some concrete work. All laborers for the work will be selected from the regular WERA rolls. Mr. Tengwald pointed out, and no other agency will have any control over the selection of men.

The state is carrying on this program Mr. Tengwald stated today, in order that the homes might be more salable, and would, when sold, again be on the tax rolls. Work is expected to start next week.

At that moment the federal men appeared. They saw Floyd, left their cars and surrounded him.

As they approached, Floyd saw them and started to run over a ridge towards woods.

Purvis said that he shouted a command to halt. Floyd continued to run and the federal agents opened fire.

Upon reaching him they found he held a .45-caliber automatic in his hand. Another automatic was in a shoulder holster.

He was mortally wounded in the body. Carried to the Conkle farmhouse, he died shortly afterward.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 23.—(AP)—A bloody trial of murders, bank robberies and kidnapings were left throughout the southwest during the last four years by Oklahoma's phantom bandit, Charles Arthur (Pretty Boy) Floyd.

The most notorious outlaw Oklahoma has known since the day of Al Jennings and the Dalton brothers, the elusive Floyd sneered at frantic efforts of officers who charged him with a list of crimes staggering enough to awe the most fearless bad man of the roaring days.

Seven Murders Listed
 At least seven murders—six of the victims officers—and more than a score of bank robberies and kidnapings had been laid at the door of the swaggering desperado.

For two years after he returned to Oklahoma in 1930 following an escape from Ohio police who wanted him for murder, Floyd and his tall lieutenant, George Birdwell, staged so many bank robberies and kidnapings that Oklahoma insurance rates became the highest in the nation.

Floyd and Birdwell repeatedly wriggled through the lines of the law to reach carefully hidden hideouts in the mountains of western Arkansas and eastern Oklahoma or in the Seminoles oil fields.

Birdwell Killed
 Floyd's activities slowed, however.

TINGLEAF AND GATES SETTLE DAMAGE SUIT TO SAVE LITIGATION

By stipulation between Delbert Tingleaf and the C. E. Gates Auto Co., filed yesterday, the damage suit of Tingleaf against the auto concern was dismissed. An order directing the settlement was filed.

The settlement price is named as $500. Tingleaf sued for $1560 alleged special damages, $25,000 alleged general damages, and $10,000 for alleged pain and suffering.

At a previous trial of the suit a year ago, the case was not settled. Under terms of the stipulation, the settlement is not "regarded as admission of liability, on the part of the defendant." It is specified that the settlement is made to save "time and litigation."

The settlement was reached yesterday morning, just before the case came to trial.

The damage action grew out of an auto accident on the Butte Falls highway three years ago in which Tingleaf, and two youths sustained injuries, when an auto turned over at a curve while traveling at high speed. A salesman, it was alleged, allowed Eagle Point youth, to drive the auto, in which Tingleaf, was held by the auto company to be a "guest passenger." All the injured youths were residents of the Eagle Point district.

RURAL SCHOOLS ATTENDANCE CUT

Rural schools of Jackson county show a decrease of 25 pupils over last year, according to records of the county school superintendent, for the first month of this year.

There are now enrolled 2,61 pupils. In 1933 there were 2,866.

Increases in enrollment are shown in the Central Point and West Side schools. At Trail, the increase is from nine to 28. Elk Creek shows a gain from 24 to 33, with ten more pupils due, for which more room will have to be supplied. The Elk Creek increase is due to enrollment of children of CCC workers. At Rogue River the increase is from 134 to 155 pupils, crowded conditions prevailing.

In many of the small rural schools, the enrollment remains about the same as last year, according to Tins Inch, rural supervisor. A number show a slight decrease over a year ago.

The figures do not include the city schools.
