

JACKSON COUNTY TEACHERS DECRY TAX LIMITATION

Resolution At Institute Also Urges Education On Effects Of Alcohol—Favors
Teaching Democracy.

The Jackson County Teachers' Institute, at its session last week, adopted a resolution opposing the proposed 20-mill tax limitation amendment on the grounds "it arbitrarily and drastically reduces taxation without due concern for the support of the schools, and other necessary functions of government."

The resolution also urges education of youth on the relation of alcohol to "physical, mental and moral well being" and "the teaching of democracy and the United States Constitution, not as carrying a halo of sacred antiquity, but as a living institution, vital, and meeting the exigencies of the modern world."

The resolution in full is as follows:

"Whereas, no time in the history of our country has there existed so great a need for the services of an intelligent and enlightened system of public schools, meeting squarely the social, economic, political and spiritual problems of a chaotic transition period.

"Whereas, the very existence of public schools in Oregon stands in immediate jeopardy through proposed constitutional tax limitation;

"Whereas, propaganda spread by numerous propaganda groups strikes at the foundation of American democratic ideals;

"Whereas, the reopening of the liquor traffic has raised serious problems among the youth of our land; therefore, be it

"Resolved, that we, the teachers of Jackson county, stand unalterably opposed to the 20-mill tax limitation amendment to the constitution of Oregon, since it arbitrarily and drastically reduces taxation without due concern for the support of the schools and other necessary functions of government;

"That we recommend the consolidation of districts into larger units looking toward the equalization of educational opportunity through federal grants for the support of public education;

"That we favor immediate and definite education of the children and youths under supervision, upon the relation of alcohol to the physical, mental, moral and spiritual well being;

"That we favor the teaching of democracy and the United States Constitution, not as carrying the halo of sacred antiquity, but as living institutions, vital, and meeting the exigencies of the modern world;

"That we oppose any change in the law requiring a two mill for elementary schools, and in the law requiring a $10 per census pupil levy in the county for schools, unless such change will provide adequate, certain and equal funds in place of these funds;

"That we urged the retention of the minimum salary law which the last legislature annulled for the period of two years, believing that such law is necessary for the retention of efficiency within the teaching staff;

"That we pledge the support of the teachers of Jackson county to the adequate and proper financing of our schools, and pledge ourselves to a program that calls for keeping ourselves adequately informed and of disseminating at all times accurate information relative to the status of the public schools;

"That this association go on record as expressing its approval of the work done during the past year by the Oregon State Teachers' association through its various officers and committees;

"That we wish to express our appreciation to the speakers and instructors and entertainers in this meeting for the helpful, enjoyable and instructive program;

"That we tender our thanks to the

Mr. Durigan Finds Relief in Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Here is his enthusiastic letter: "Am 70 years of age, and for 40 of these years there never was a week but what I had to take a pill or some kind of cathartic."

"I took everything, but gained only temporary relief. Until last spring my daughter, who is a nurse in a hospital, brought me some Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

BREAD AND CAKES LIKE MOTHER MADE

PRIZE STEERS From The International Livestock Show

TOMORROW we will offer what should be the finest beef in the world.— Steers from all over North America were in competition at the International Livestock show at Portland where competent judges selected the champions—Some of this championship beef goes on sale tomorrow.

Try some and compare it with the beef we sell you every day in the year.— It will cost a little more but it will be worth the slight extra charge to know that our Southern Oregon cattle raisers produce beef as good as the finest from elsewhere and that you may have champion beef every day in the year.
