Oregon State Plays Huskies—Oregon Strong Favorite to Trim Montana—Cougars Battle St. Mary's

By RUSSELL J. NEWLAND (Associated Press Sports Writer.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Big guns of far western football will boom along all fronts in major battles of the first week-end of November.

The first salvo will be fired by Washington State college and St. Mary's, opposed in a non-conference clash at San Francisco Friday.

Washington's Huskies and Stanford's Indians, undefeated either in or outside the conference, and tied with Washington State for the lead, will risk their league standings against opponents still regarded as formidable despite unimpressive records.

Coach Jimmy Phelan's Huskies will line up against Oregon State. Stanford moves into the home sector of the University of California at Los Angeles Bruins.

For comparative purposes, W. S. C. defeated Southern California 10 to 0, and Oregon State 31 to 0. Stanford beat Oregon State 17 to 0, and Southern California 16 to 0.

Oregon, which squeaked out an 8 to 7 win over Utah in inter-sectional competition last week, will be strongly favored to beat the last place Montana team next Saturday. Montana has not won a conference game, and has lost three.

The California Bears, floundering like Southern California in a disappointing season, will take an old-time non-conference rival in Santa Clara's Broncos.

Idaho meets the College of Idaho in a non-conference affair. On Sunday, two strong independents, Gonzaga and University of San Francisco, will meet on the latter's home field.

HORSESHOE CHAMPS FIND NO MONEY FOR PRIZE AWARDS

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Exponents of the turn and a quarter were in complete command of the horseshoe pitching world today, but they had no prize money to show for it.

Ted Allen, Alhambra, Cal., pitcher, successfully defended his title yesterday by finishing a week of intensive activity with 23 victories and no defeats, only to find as did the other competitors that the $1900 prize money they had been expecting was not to be had.

A noisy indignation meeting of the country's top flight backyard golfers followed.

John Gerdin, a horseshoe manufacturer who had sponsored the championship, reported to the players at the conclusion of yesterday's play that there was only $919 gross receipts of the gate and entrance money, to be divided among the winners.

James Lecky, Phoenix, Ariz., finished second in the tournament; Fernando Iate, Los Angeles, and Frank Jackson tied for third.

Miss Caroline Schultz, Harvey, Ill., retained her women's title while her sister, Charlotte, finished second.

DON WAGNER AND MUIR TO GRAPPLE THURSDAY NIGHT

Popular demand will be satisfied in the wrestling card that Promoter Mack Lillard has secured for next Thursday night at the armory, when Don Wagner, 210-pound former grid star of Oregon State college, will grapple in the main event with Bonny Muir, big Australian heavyweight champion.

The evening's first bout, which will also go one hour or for two out of three falls, will see Jimmy Maloney, a newcomer from Los Angeles, tangle with Billy Newman, Denver's "Bad Boy."

Don Wagner, who was last seen at the Medford armory last spring when he held his own for the best part of an hour with the famous Gus Sonnenberg, will make another perfect combination of clean and scientific manly artistry, when he takes on the giant Australian. Although Wagner received injuries in the bout here with Sonnenberg, and has been forced to take a long lay-off, he is back in fine fettle for the bout with Muir. Fans will be given a chance to see an extension of the twenty minutes of spectacular wrestling exhibited last week between wounded Sam Lethes and Australian Muir, as Wagner will provide another evenly matched opponent for the popular islander.

The first bout should keep up the rough and tumble interest, as Newman has already exhibited an unorthodox brand of wrestling in Medford, and is assured of a good opponent in the Californian.

ASHLAND STORES GUARANTEE GATE FOR SONS GAME

ASHLAND, Oct. 29.—(Sp.)—It's been done at last.

After several months of high-powered, futile bickering back and forth, with both sides getting more and more upset as the only open date on the football calendar drew close, officials of the Southern Oregon Normal school and Oregon Normal at Monmouth have finally agreed as to where the great annual SONS-Wolves pigskin imbroglio will be staged.

And, let joy ring from the hearts of southern Oregon fans, the date is next Friday, November 2, and the scene of action, high school field in Ashland.

It took a long, long time to do it. Monmouth, with the head man—Larry Wolf—holding out for another Portland appearance for both clubs, and Howard Hobson, SONS mentor, holding out for a southern Oregon showing, it appeared for a time that the season would slide by and into winter with still no football game.

But it's all settled now and the two teams will pummel the pigskin to their hearts content on Ashland's fine field next Friday.

Worries would have been over long ago if the Ashland school could have seen their way clear to post the rather high guarantee which Larry Wolf and his associates demanded.

However, Ashland business men came to the rescue in the form of a nice list of signatures underwriting the affair, so it's all over now but the game itself.

Gordon MacCracken, secretary of the Ashland chamber of commerce, led the assault on the loyal shoppers which saw 33 out of a possible 38 called upon, lend a very helping hand.

BULLDOGS DOWN COLUMBIA, 18-0

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Led by Ike Peterson, one of the nation's high scorers, the Gonzaga Bulldogs defeated the scrappy Columbia university football team, 18 to 0, here yesterday.

Peterson, who did about everything with the pigskin but make it squeal, returned a punt 72 yards for a touchdown the first time Gonzaga received the ball.

He crossed again on a set-back yard dash around end in the second quarter and shortly thereafter was taken from the game with a slight injury.

BEANPOLES WIN IN MATCH WITH HEAVYWEIGHTS

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 29.—(AP)—If the birdie is a duck, one in the hunting bag is worth two on the golf course, so far as Mrs. L. D. Cheney, newly crowned women's western champion, was concerned today.

Scarcely had the San Gabriel, Cal., woman gracefully accepted the trophies at the Los Angeles Country club here Saturday after defeating Miss Dorothy Traung, San Francisco, 7 and 5, in the final round of the thirty-second annual championship than she started laying plans to go duck hunting. "There's one sport," said Mrs. Cheney with a smile, "in which I can compete on a par with most men."

She had no need to explain away her golf game, however, as she was two strokes under women's par and over a very difficult course when the match ended on the thirty-first hole.

Central College scored a safety to defeat Missouri Valley, 2 to 0, under the system. Coaches said they believed the new way of marking quarters would speed up the game.

GRADE GRIDDERS IN SCORELESS TIE

While the larger schools are gradually working toward a championship in football, the city grade schools are doing likewise.

Last Saturday morning the Jackson school football team played a 0 to 0 tie with the Washington eleven. This tilt ended the first round of play or first half of the regular schedule. Jackson also played a 0 to 0 tie with the Roosevelt youngsters earlier in the season. Both Washington and Jackson schools have defeated Lincoln school, 20 to 0.

Next Saturday morning the Washington football team will meet Jackson and Roosevelt school will meet Jackson.
