

$104,755 BID ON HIGHWAY GRADING JOB IN SISKIYOU

The Colonial Construction Company of Spokane bid $104,755 for the 5.96 miles grading of the Hayden Gulch-West Forest boundary section of the Little Sheep creek secondary highway in Wallowa county.

F. C. Dillard, Medford contractor, was low on two smaller jobs. He bid $24,165 on the 2.31 miles grading of the South-Fork-Bummer Creek section of the Alsea-Deadwood secondary highway in Benton county.

Other bids submitted on jobs today were: Bridge over Burnt river on the Baker-Unity highway near Unity in Baker county—Averill & Philpot, Portland, $11,186; R. H. Jones, Baker, $11,428.

Rock production project on the Coe Bay-Roseburg highway in Douglas county—A. S. Wallace, Roseburg, $9,000. Rock production project on The Dalles-California highway in Klamath county, let in three units—R. J. Stuart & Sons, Medford, $39,600.

Butte Job Bid On. Mile grading of Mosier section of Little Butte secondary highway in Jackson county—D. L. Ashton, Lebanon, $9,184; Edward F. Webber, Medford, $9,545; R. J. Stuart & Sons, Medford, $9,760.

Six miles grading of the Blue Mountain Pass section of the Idaho-Oregon-Nevada highway in Malheur county—Pierce-O'Neil & Sons, Portland, $35,842; Joplin & Eldon, Portland, $36,993; Dunn & Baker, Klamath Falls, $38,547.

Three miles grading and 6.2 miles surfacing of Hardman-Chapin Creek section of Heppner-Spray secondary highway in Morrow county—Flacher Bros., Oregon City, $32,868.

Bids were not opened on the concrete bridge over the Southern Pacific tracks at North Bend.

GENIUS' BRAINS ARE STUDIED BY SOVIET EXPERTS

MOSCOW.—(UP)—The Moscow Institute of the Brain expects through its researches to solve the riddle of why some persons stand out sufficiently from their fellow men so that they are called "geniuses."

The institute has been busy collecting the brains of well-known men and women who have died in recent years for its studies. It happens that most of the brains received have been those of communists, but the institute would have no scruples against examining the brains of bourgeois leaders if it could get them.

The prize of the institute's collection is the brain of Vladimir Ilyich Lenin whose embalmed body on the daily in its huge mausoleum on the Red Square and so much does the institute think of the possibilities of uncovering the sources of the power that went into the making of the Russian revolution, that it has set aside a whole department where Lenin's brain is minutely studied.

Recently the institute received the brain of Clara Zetkin, the aged German revolutionist, who once opened the Reichstag with a speech denouncing the Nazis.

The first step in studying a brain, before it is subjected to microscopic examination, is to cut it into nearly 15,000 shreds of extreme thinness.

The researches seem to show that the explanation for high intellectual capacity lies in peculiarities in structural relation of different regions of the cerebral cortex. Newly constructed apparatus has enabled the institute to record on graphs the electric currents set up in the brains of live persons and animals.

PRESIDENT LAUDS FORGET-ME-NOT CAMPAIGN D. A. V.

In connection with the forthcoming "forget-me-not" sale to be sponsored by the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, November 9 to 12, the Jackson county chapter today called attention to the two following pleas for support: My Dear Commander McQueen:

The annual Forget-Me-Not campaign of the Disabled American Veterans is worthy of generous public support. There is ample evidence that the use of these contributions in maintaining a free Rehabilitation Service to assist disabled men in preparation and presentation of their claims has been helpful to both the veteran and the government.

May I offer my commendation of the stand of your recent national convention at Cincinnati in deciding not to press immediate redemption of the Adjusted Service certificates until the condition of the treasury warrants such action? Furthermore, I believe the D. A. V. has acted wisely in concentrating its attention to the cause of those whose disabilities are traceable to their war service.

It is my earnest hope that your forget-me-not campaign will be wholly successful. Very sincerely yours, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

I know of no finer effort than the effort of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War through its forget-me-not campaign. It is a privilege to commend this unselfish effort to all concerned in hope that the response will be most successful.

FREDERICK STEINER, U. S. Senator from Oregon. COACH HOBSON'S AUTO IS QUICKLY RECOVERED

Having been stolen at Ashland at 8:45 last night, a Buick sedan belonging to Howard Hobson, Southern Oregon Normal coach, was recovered shortly afterwards at Yreka, Cal., according to state police. The person who took the auto had abandoned it, in apparent good condition, and had not been apprehended this afternoon.

The quick recovery was aided by a check of the quarantine station at Holt, Cal., which gave police description and destination of the machine shortly after it had been missed.

Plan World Tour in Tiny Boat. VANCOUVER, B. C.—(UP)—An attempt to circumnavigate the globe in a home-made 32-foot sail boat equipped with a motorcycle engine auxiliary motor will be made by Ian McDonald of Calgary, Alta., and William Barr of Vancouver. The men attached an airplane propeller to the motorcycle engine to furnish an artificial breeze when becalmed.

Five Bullets—Five Robbers. BILLINGS, Mont.—(UP)—Rosa Albin killed five robbers near here with five bullets. Albin's dog freed a mother cat and four cubs. He picked off the cubs two at a time, with a shotgun, and dispatched the 18-pound mother with one blast.

Huge Freshman. COLUMBIA, Mo.—(UP)—Perry Weaver, freshman in the University of Missouri from New London, Mo., is six feet and seven inches tall. Undergoes Operation—Mrs. Heater Whitman underwent a major operation today at the Community hospital.

ISTANBUL.—(UP)—Zaro Agha's death-mask, together with a prescription for longevity, has been placed on exhibition in the Museum of Hygiene here.

"If you want to live as long as Zaro Agha," the inscription reads, "you must choose a hygienic profession, eat healthy food, move much in the pure open air and lead a regular life."

A list is added of the dishes to which the super-centenarian gave preference; it is headed by milk products such as "Yoghurt," a special kind of sour milk, "Eltam" (butter-milk), cheese, bread, vegetables and very little meat.

The manifold marital experiences to which the old man himself attributed his astounding vitality are not being mentioned by the museum. Zaro Agha's exact age never has been established. He himself claimed 185 years.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Col. Bailey Kelly Ashford of the United States medical corps, discoverer of the hook worm disease, died today at the age of 61 years. Colonel Ashford had been ill two years. He died at his home.

COMING OF CHRIST IS DECLARED NEAR

The crowd still gathers to hear Evangelists Otho and Billie Schwab at the Church of the Nazarene, Central avenue and Jackson.

Speaking last night on the second coming of Christ, the evangelist said, "All prophecies are sufficiently fulfilled that the coming of Christ any day would do no violence to the scriptural records. The picture of the world as prophesied by the Bible, just prior to Christ's second coming is seen in actual life today. Some of the things as predicted include pestilence."

"Continuing," he said "forty million lives were taken by the flu pestilence. Another world calamity of prophecy is earthquakes. One gigantic quake in Japan alone of recent date took 250,000 lives."

"Another condition," said the evangelist, "is famine. In one famine of China alone, a toll of 11 million lives was taken by starvation."

"The statistical research of Boston and Columbia universities reveals that wickedness has increased thirty-three percent in the last two years, which was largely produced by lewdness, bad pictures, cigarette, and drinking."

Tonight will be musical request night. Services at 7:30.
