

PARADE TONIGHT PRECEDES PUBLIC RALLY FOR CHEST

(Continued from page one.) Boy Scouts, and decorated automobiles. When the crowd assembles at the armory at 7:30 o'clock booths arranged by the seven organizations participating in the Community Chest will be open for inspection. The entertainment will open with a concert by Wilson Waite's High school band, and a colorful demonstration in which sixty Boy Scouts will participate. Larry Schade, Jr., and Truman Blaylock will play prominent roles in this demonstration. After a five minute period during which time the audience will be seated, the Health association will sponsor the students of the Roosevelt school in a clever little skit, "My Health House," beginning at 8:30. At 8:35 p. m. an instructive first-aid demonstration will be given by the Oregon State police, under the supervision of Sgt. W. H. Ellenburg. Following this demonstration, which will be sponsored by the American Red Cross, the Girl Scouts will entertain with a "Song Fest." This will be followed by a relay race, in which the Boy Scouts will participate.

The Girls' Community club will contribute a style parade to the rally program at 8:50 p. m. This will be followed by a selection from the Medford High school band, and the introduction of Coach D. K. Burgher of the Medford High school. At 9:00 the Welfare Exchange will offer a display of work done by this fine organization. One of the most enjoyable features of the rally will be instrumental quartet selections rendered by the Salvation Army at 9:05 o'clock. As another musical feature of the program, the Boy Scouts will sing campfire songs. This will be followed by a brief address on the need for Community Chest support by Reverend E. B. Bartholomew of the Episcopal church. Reverend Bartholomew is introducing Mayor George Porter. After Reverend Bartholomew's interesting talk, the Boy Scouts will again present a colorful demonstration, and the booths will be open for public inspection. So that the entire program may be enjoyed by all who attend, a public address system has been installed in the armory through the courtesy of Pruitt's Melody Shop. At the Community Chest organization meeting last night in the auditorium of the Jackson county courthouse, attended by approximately one hundred public spirited men and women, plans were perfected for the actual solicitation of chest funds when the campaign opens in Medford Wednesday, November 7th. At this meeting the workers were organized into five groups, each one under the command of a captain and two lieutenants, and designated by a distinctive color. The solicitors were given complete information by Manager Frank Hull, and "General" M. N. Hogan, head of the Community Chest "Field Force."

MIDGET GOLFERS AND ANEMICS TO CROSS BRASSIES

Blindleaders of the various organizations of Medford golfers who have been selected with regard to everything from arthropods to the size of the hand, met in conference this morning and emerged with another complete team—made up of the midget mallet slingers of the Rogue Valley course. Raymond Driver is captaining the new segregation, who will play a tournament Sunday with the group known as the "anemics," who were lead to victory over the heavyweights last week by Gene Thorndike, who will be captained Sunday by Ward Beener. Driver has put up a trophy to the winners of the event, which is known as the "Scotch foursome challenge trophy."

WORSTED WEAVERS RETURN TO WORK

PORTLAND, Nov. 2.—(AP)—A labor strike at the Oregon worsted mill here, ended today after C. W. Hope of Seattle, federal labor conciliator, had obtained agreements from union representatives and employers covering disputed points. About 725 persons are employed at the mill which has been operating on a restricted basis since the national textile strike was settled. The mill agreed, under arbitration terms, to reinstate 75 workers from a list of 105 who had been laid off. There will be no discrimination in employment as between union and non-union workers, or strikers and non-strikers.

CHRISTIAN GROUPS OF GERMANY JOIN AGAINST PAGANISM

BERLIN, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Protestants joined Catholics today in a campaign against what they called their common enemy, Dr. Alfred Rosenberg's pagan faith movement. "Our next enemy is Rosenberg," Protestants were told by Rev. Martin Niemöller, head of the pastors' emergency federation, which with other opposition groups has just won a victory over Reichsbishop Ludwig Mueller and Nazi Christians. All priests in the Berlin diocese received a book of "studies" on Rosenberg's book, "The Myth of the Twentieth Century," which has become a Nazi textbook of philosophy. Rosenberg is the party's philosophic dictator. Bishop Dares of the diocese said the book "carried deep disquietude into believing Christian folk in Germany and is threatening the very foundations of Christian life and faith, even among youth." Protestant circles said Dr. Christian Kinder, a Protestant leader, is slated to succeed Dr. August Jaeger, who recently resigned under heavy opposition as Nazi commissioner for Protestant churches in Prussia. A denial by Reichsbishop Mueller of rumors that he had resigned made it clear he hopes to effect a compromise in Protestant ranks. He announced a new church code would be promulgated, allowing congregations increased latitude in managing their affairs, in contrast to his recent dictatorial policies.

"Martin" went on his way from here Wednesday of last week after declining the offer of local relief officials to place him in a transient home. He was last observed on the Eder place Monday, as he was spreading his blanket for a night's rest. His death went on the records as apparently accidental. There was no evidence of violence or suicide, Coroner L. E. Barrick stated last night.

AGED TRANSIENT DROWNS IN WELL

SALEM, Nov. 2.—(AP)—A few nights ago, a man who said his name was "Martin," and who gave his age as 72, spent the night against his own wishes, at the local transient relief station. Late yesterday, the same grey-haired and barefooted old man was found dead, his body submerged in an aban-
