Burt K. Snyder of Lakeview, district deputy grand exalted ruler for Oregon south, will be the speaker of the evening and will talk on activities of the grand lodge, and objectives for the coming year.

route to the northern city to bring her back to Medford when the week occurred. She said that Clara Feldman was in Portland last week when she (Francis) was there, but that she does not know Clara's whereabouts at the present time. Clara has no "home address," Miss Scott stated.

The young lady has a large family to take care of, as there is her brother, Alvin Albert Scott, 16; twin brothers, Melvin and Merlin Scott, 14; two sisters, Darleen Marie Scott, 12, and Doris May Scott, 10. Her cousin, Al Feldman, 21, a golf pro from Portland, is here on a visit.

Miss Scott said that she saw Clara Feldman, who is her aunt, while in Portland, but that she did not visit her there. Miss Scott said her mother, Marie Scott, resides in Tacoma, where the family formerly lived, but that they never go to see her.

The Scott family came here last March from Portland, when Alvin Scott heard of a mine in this section. The Scotts have made several trips recently up and down the coast, but when questioned about her father's journeys, Miss Scott said, "You had better see my father about his traveling, for he knows more about it than I do. I can't remember if he was east recently or not." The last remark was in answer to a query whether Scott and Miss Hurlienne had, according to reports, just returned from a trip east.

"A. H. Scott, Route 1, Box 107," appears on the mail box in front of the Scott home, which has recently been re-roofed and painted white. Additions have been built in the back of the house, and the pump-house has just been remodeled. Miss Scott said they had not started farming the place, but were making preparations to do so.

Police said the family had been under observation for some time, and it was known that some of the alleged ransom money had been passed in this city. They said the family also purchased a car here at one time. They predicted further arrests in connection with the investigation.

Officers worked throughout the night at the Scott home, searching for additional hidden property. C. C. Spears, department of justice federal agent from Portland, who has been in Roseburg for the past few days, arrived here this afternoon. Although the authorities would not say that a walled-in room upstairs in the pump-house was arranged for a hide-out, it could be easily used as such. Paper had been placed between the wall-boards and the outside, and the room, which was the size of the tower in the pump-house, had been wired for electricity. The Scotts said the room was being arranged for a milk-house or wash-room.

There are no cattle at the place. Details of the room had not yet been completed.
