

EARL AKERS OF MEDFORD KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

Tragedy continues to stalk the footpaths of Mrs. Rosa Akers of Beale street this city, who learned today that her one remaining son, Earl Akers, 27, was killed in an airplane accident near Hitzville, Wash., late Monday.

The message came to Mrs. Akers from Harold A. Robinson, chief of Police of Yakima, in answer to an inquiry from her, stating that three young men were killed in the crash: Arthur Brennan, Earl Akers and his brother, Emil Akers. Mrs. Akers can only account for the "brother, Emil Akers" on the ground that her son had become associated with the two other young men in a barnstorming airplane venture, and claimed one of them was his brother, when such was not the case.

MEDFORD TIGERS MAY GET CALL IN PORTLAND CLASH

had a slight edge over other undefeated teams of the state for a Thanksgiving day game here against the Washington high football team, probable Portland winner.

For the past two seasons Medford has remained undefeated in state competition. However, Hood High, which has not been scored upon this season, also is among teams talked for the game.

Salem and Pendleton, other undefeated upstate teams, have games scheduled for that date. Then, too, Salem had its chance and played last year.

Pendleton and Salem have had impressive seasons and were deemed to win their remaining games.

Since the Thanksgiving game is not officially recognized as a championship deciding clash, and since Portland has the largest ability to draw and seat the largest crowd, it was believed Portland could go a long way in dictating its opponent.

Secondary schools with outstanding records are Wheeler, which under the coaching of Buck Hamner has won all games and held opponents scoreless, and Lebanon, undefeated, and for the second consecutive year winner of the Willamette league title.

GRANGE MASTER POINTS PATH TO FARMER'S RELIEF

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 14.—(AP)—Louis J. Taber, master of the National Grange, told the Grange today at its annual session that "it is time to quit looking so much toward Washington and look more toward ourselves."

"We have forgotten that debt is not another name for the unpleasant word 'taxation,'" he declared.

"Unless the nation and its subdivisions, like the people, prepare to live within their income, crushing tax burdens or the threat of repudiation never kill vultures just abroad."

Taber said that in any year in which farm prices are depressed, and farmers' service costs reduced by lowering interest rates and by lessening tax burdens, before rural recovery can be achieved.

To lift farm prices he recommended adjustment of production, fuller use of co-operative marketing, the opening up of foreign markets and "keeping out the flood of competitive products that can be efficiently produced at home."

He said the Grange is in favor of work relief and is opposed to money payment except in emergencies. No able bodied men or women should be given money unless in return they give to state or national constructive service," he declared.
