Roosevelt Proclamation Marks Thanksgiving Day

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(AP)—In a Thanksgiving day proclamation, President Roosevelt today called upon the American people to "dedicate ourselves anew to work for the betterment of mankind." "This should be done, he said, "with gratitude in our hearts for what has already been achieved." The text of the proclamation follows: "I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, president of the United States of America, hereby designate Thursday, the 29th day of November, 1934, as a day of thanksgiving for the people of the nation. "Thus to set aside in the autumn of each year a day on which to give thanks to Almighty God for the blessings of life is a wise and reverent custom, long cherished by our people. It is fitting that we have been given courage and fortitude to meet the problems which have confronted us in our national life. Our sense of social justice has deepened. We have been given vision to make new provisions for human welfare and happiness, and in a spirit of mutual happiness we have co-operated to translate vision into reality. "More greatly have we dedicated our hearts and minds to things spiritual. We can truly say, 'What profetheth a nation if it gain the whole world and lose its own soul.' "With gratitude in our hearts for what has already been achieved, may we, with the help of God, dedicate ourselves anew to work for the betterment of mankind."

PERU PULLS OUT OF DEPRESSION

NEW YORK, (UP)—"Business in Peru is 75 per cent better this year than last," according to Enrique Ferrand, a merchant of Lima, Peru, who soon is sailing home in the Santa Barbara, of the Grace Line, after an extended trip through Europe. "South America has passed the crisis and is definitely on the road to recovery," Ferrand declared. "In fact, from all I could see while traveling in Europe, South America is coming out of the depression much more rapidly than the countries over there. I am in constant touch with the leading business men in Chile, Argentina and Brazil, as well as in Peru, and they all say that business has greatly improved in their republics. "The pick-up in Peru is particularly gratifying. Business in general in that republic shows a gain of 75 per cent over last year, and some lines, the automobile business for instance, shows a majority per cent increase. The government of Peru is stable and the majority of citizens are well pleased with it. "Depression is a forgotten word." Ferrand said.

DEMOCRATS HOPE F. R. WILL WRITE OWN BONUS BILL

Solons Agree Vote Will Be Forced in Both Houses—Would Welcome Compromise—May Override Veto

By Cecil B. Dickson WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Many democrats elected to the new congress hope President Roosevelt will "write his own bill" on the soldiers' bonus to avert a break between the White House and Capitol Hill at the coming session. "In record for immediate cash payment of the adjusted service certificates that will mature in 11 years, it is conceded among returning members that a vote will be forced on the issue in both branches. Some administration followers who ran on a "support Roosevelt" platform are saying that should the bonus pass and be vetoed, they and the president would be "put on the spot" in the 1936 elections. Compromise Hoped They are suggesting an effort to get the president to advocate a "compromise" bill which they could support and which the chief executive could sign without departing from his position that relief for the needy is the first task. This, they assert, might go far to satisfy the demand for cash payment and at the same time prevent the outright and immediate appropriation of about $2,000,000, 000 declared necessary to pay off the bonus under other proposals. "Though these members did not outline the terms of a possible compromise, some suggestions have been made recently. The other day Chairman Buchanan (D. Texas) of the House Appropriations committee expressed favor for cash payment of the bonus to veterans on relief rolls. He estimated this would cost one-fourth or one-third of $2,000,000,000. Some Change Viewed Some members recalled today that despite word from the president last spring that he would veto a cash bonus bill, the house passed in 1933 to 125. Later it died in the senate. A large number who opposed it at the time, they said, did so because the Legion then had not approved the measure. One member, who does not want to have his name printed, said: "I believe the bonus will pass both houses over a veto. The veterans are demanding it. If the president, realizing this probability, would write his own bill, then the new deal congress would not have to leave him. Otherwise, I am afraid it will."

FIREARM DEVELOPMENT TRACED IN EXHIBIT OF OLD, MODERN PIECES

FERNDALE, Mich. (UP)—Guns and other weapons of war and peace-time, depicting the changes of defense methods of countries of the world, are included in the prize collection of fighting weapons gathered by Maurice F. Cole, Ferndale attorney and former county prosecutor. One of the oldest weapons in his collection is a flintlock, alleged to date back to the 15th century according to history. Cole pointed out. He says this weapon is his prized possession. "Other firearms in his collection are a "pepper-box" gun with an under-barrel hammer which was used in England many decades ago; a pistol of the revolving firing-pin type; the pin revolves instead of the barrel as in the revolvers of today; a gun similar to the one President McKinley was assassinated with; and pirate and duelling pistols. He started his collection with the removing of a gun from a German army officer on the battlefield during the World War. Included in the group of fighting defense weapons in his possession is a United States army rifle made at Harper's Ferry arsenal in 1816; a bayonet used in the Franco-Prussian war; French, Algerian and Turkish dirks; and several long bladed African fighting knives.

FLORIDA HAS BIG PELICAN ROOKERY

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UP)—Thousands of a protected life bird, the Pelican, live a protracted life 80 miles south of here at the lower end of Mosquito Lagoon, where is located the major pelican rookery of the entire Atlantic seaboard. The federal government, however, does not have funds to pay for a warden to protect the pelican rookery at Brevard, so after year after the Florida Audubon Society, first $260 for Brevard and $500 for the rookery at Tampa. Robert J. Longstreet, president of the Florida Audubon Society, first went to Pelican Haven in Mosquito Lagoon in 1925. He found the bodies of 1500 of the great birds, clubbed to death by commercial fishermen, who believed that the birds ate food fish. However, a scientific investigation proved that 99 per cent of the food consumed by pelicans is useless, surface fish. The pelican is a dirty bird. His nests are crude affairs of sticks and roots. They are built in the trees, in bushes and sometimes on the ground. There usually are three eggs in a nest.
