

OFFICERS OF CCC GUESTS OF LOCAL MEN AT LUNCHEON

With 111 attending, a complimentary luncheon was tendered CCC officers of the Medford district, and the educational advisors, by the business men of the city at the Hotel Medford, Saturday noon.

B. E. Harder, president of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce, acted as toastmaster and following the luncheon referred briefly to the splendid work being done by the CCC in this district. He laid particular emphasis on the efficient and capable manner by which the activities of the CCC camp are carried out. Mr. Harder urged local citizens to visit the camps and see for themselves the wonderful organization work being done.

Following his interesting talk, Mr. Harder introduced Karl Janouch, superintendent of the Rogue River National Forest, George Griffith, head of public relations of the forest service in Portland; Professor Saiter, professor of education; and Gordon Marsh, official of the Forest Service.

Major Clare H. Armstrong, commanding officer, Medford district CCC introduced all the officers of the headquarters staff and the commander of each of the twenty-seven camps in this district together with the educational advisors.

J. R. Griffing, head of the educational department of the CCC in the 9th Corps Area, was introduced by Mr. Harder and made a splendid talk relative to the educational work being done throughout the CCC camps.

"It is like coming home again to be in Medford," stated Mr. Griffing in his opening remarks, "because twenty-two years ago I was on the faculty of your high school and this splendid turn-out today is but an exemplification of the spirit which I saw in Medford at that time."

In referring to the educational work being done, Mr. Griffing rather surprised his hearers by making the statement that within the Medford district of the CCC was one of the largest educational institutions on the Pacific coast. He said there were 5,600 students and the number on the educational work was greater than in any other university on the Pacific Coast. In the short time at his disposal, Mr. Griffing covered the educational work of the CCC in a very thorough manner and left no doubt among those attending the luncheon of the value of this work. He highly complimented and thanked the army officers and forest service officials for their fine cooperation with the individual educational advisors.

Mr. Harder paid high tribute to Major Clare H. Armstrong and in a jocular mood told those present that we could not afford to lose the major from this district because of his prowess as a sportsman. He said that Major Armstrong had many times caught his limit of trout. He had caught steelhead and salmon, shot deer, bagged his limit of pheasants and ducks. His latest adventure was that of killing a 750-pound elk. But his two greatest achievements, stated Mr. Harder, were that he captured a mink with his bare hands and one day got lost in the forest.

MEDFORD, KLAMATH LIONS ENJOY JOINT MEETING PINEHURST

A joint meeting of Medford and Klamath Falls Lion clubs was held at Pinehurst Wednesday night attended by about 70 Lions and their wives. A fine dinner was served and a very good meeting was presided over by District Governor Lion Ted Gillenwaters of the Klamath "den".

At the dinner hour every one was kept on guard by the appointed Tail Twisters from the two clubs, Vern Shangle of Medford and John Pennington of Klamath, who, in their extractions, seemed to have no sympathy on even the presiding governor.

A short talk by the presidents from the two clubs, followed by a short talk from Mr. Gillenwaters, closed the meeting and it was turned over to the entertainment committees for the balance of the evening, which was spent in dancing and special numbers, consisting of fine baritone solos by Mr. Raymond Larson of Medford, accompanied by Miss Margaret Childers at the piano. Lion Shangle also surprised the crowd by a little piece of his own make on a few of the Medford Lions dedicated to the district governor.

The Klamath den also had some fine numbers in their orchestra and readings from one of their high school boys, mainly a rehearsal of the madam's telephone conversations which were sure to the point.

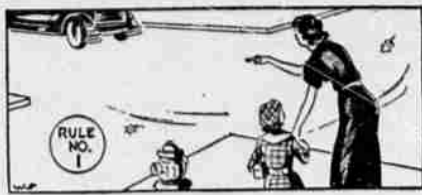

It was decided by those present that the two clubs would have joint meetings after hereafter and make a closer relationship between the two clubs.

SCHOOL CENSUS SHOWS INCREASE WITHIN MEDFORD

The annual school census which makes an accurate check on all individuals in Medford between the ages of four and 20 years, whether or not they attend school, has been completed, and shows a total of 8590 persons. This is an increase, according to Acting Superintendent C. G. Smith, of 51 over last year's total of 8539.

Besides telling a story of population growth, statistics compiled by the school superintendent's office during the census provide an interesting classification of Medford's younger residents.

Out of the total of 8590 boys and girls, there are 66 of the feminine sex who are married, while only four boys under 20 have wed. This totals 70 married persons less than 20 years of age. There are 29 sets of youthful twins in Medford, and four persons having birthdays falling on February 29.

In the matter of names, there are 44 Smiths, 32 Joneses and 24 Martins among the most numerous. The name "Shults" is spelled in the greatest number of ways: "Schults," "Shoults," "Schults," "Schults" and "Schults." Twenty-five children are called by two different surnames, and two by three different surnames. "Robert" or "Bob" is the most popular masculine given name, although "William" or "Bill" runs a close second. Among the girls, "Betty," "Mary," and "Helen" are the favorite given names.

The five predominating initials for surnames are "S," "B," "M," "H," and "W."

SPELLING, WRITING SCHOOLS STRESS

This year the County School superintendent's office is putting special emphasis upon improvement in the tool subjects of spelling and writing.

Considerable advance was made last year in the rural schools in both spelling and writing. A series of group meetings are being held over the county at which meetings some intensive work is being done relative to methods and techniques of teaching writing. The county schools are very fortunate in having for these group meetings the services of Miss Lillian Wise, supervisor of writing in the Medford schools, whose work here has won wide recognition.

The county school superintendent said Saturday his office appreciates the cooperation of the teachers and administrative offices of the Medford schools in rendering assistance toward constructive work in our rural schools.

Bruce Bauer, of the Timber Products company, stated that they are prepared to assist the property owner in determining the best and most economical methods to pursue in accurately estimating costs, drawing up specifications and supplying such necessary materials and labor, the labor being arranged for through local contractors. The Timber Products company has arranged an attractive and instructive exhibit of the many materials used in maintenance and remodeling.

MEMBER DRIVE OF AMERICAN LEGION GETS UNDER WAY

Cole Holmes, first vice-commander of Medford Post No. 18, American Legion and chairman of the membership committee, yesterday made the following statement concerning the appeal of the Legion to war veterans:

"There are any veteran of the world war so proud in spirit and patriotism that he is not proud of the part he played in the greatest of all military struggles since history began? Have not we veterans a justified pride in our service? If any man were to assert that we had not played our part as men and Americans, how quickly would we resent it," said Mr. Holmes.

"The American Legion offers the best opportunity for you, comrade, to testify to the world your loyalty and service during the war," he continued. "The lapel button of the Legion is a notice to all that you failed not when your country called, and that you still subscribe to the patriotism and Americanism for which the Legion stands."

"Without the Legion button, the service man has no method of differentiating himself from the thousands who did not go. He may have served, but no one knows it. And the world finds it easy and convenient to forget."

"With the Legion button you quietly but effectively identify yourself as one of America's veterans, and as an active participant in the work of a patriotic society which is dedicated to the preservation of American principles."

"You place yourself as both a wartime and peace-time patriot and true American."

"Be proud you CAN join the American Legion," said Holmes. "Hundreds of thousands of young men would rejoice indeed if their lives could be made over that the Legion might be open to them. Be one of the active Legionnaires of your community. Send in your dues."

Word has been received from the department child welfare chairman, William Kletzer, that the "Youth Activities Conference," which was scheduled to meet in Medford November 20, has been postponed, the exact date of which will be announced later.
