

TIGERS TO POLISH AERIAL GAME FOR HOOD RIVER FOES

By Harold Grove
With the regular football season for the Medford high Tigers closed, the football heroes will report this evening for practice in preparation for the onslaught of the Hood River fishermen, next Saturday on Van Scoyoc field at 2 p. m.

Medford high school has piled up a total of 223 points on offense while other teams have only succeeded in gathering 30 points and these 30 points were gathered by the SONS fresh and Eureka high school of Eureka, California.

Against other Oregon high schools, Medford has made 199 points while none have been scored against them. Coach D. K. Burgher stated today that he will do his best to iron out the tough spots displayed in last Saturday's game. Burgher declared he is going to send his backs and ends chasing passes all over the lot. He also stated that his linemen will have no picnic when they start working on offense and defense tactics in preparation for this game.

So far this season the Tigers have been late in starting to work in a football game. It has usually taken half a quarter to get under way but it is hoped by the high school coaching staff that this fault may be remedied and the Tigers will be able to take the wind out of the sails of the fishermen in the first few minutes of the game next Saturday.

With the showing displayed in last Saturday's game by the reserves, Coach Burgher has expressed the feeling that he has some material sitting on the bench that can jump into the game with a moment's notice and do his stuff without much trouble at all. The reserves nipped off at the end any threat to score in last Saturday's game.

If the week is confined to the clutches of old man Jupp, power and more power plays will be stressed upon. Slick plays will come without the use of preparation that is if it is a wet day Saturday. Rain will be right down the Hood River boys' alley.

LITTLE MAN WHAT NOW? FANS ASK WARBURTON

By PAUL ZIMMERMAN, Associated Press Sports Writer.
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.—(P)—Little man, what now? Irvine Warburton, 146-pound Southern California quarterback, inspired this question from the west's football fanatics today.

For the second, ill-fated all season after earning all-American laurels a year ago, broke loose again in all his glory Saturday at the expense of Oregon.

True, he gained only 17 yards from scrimmage. Wisely, he kept the Webfoots looking for him and instead gave the ball to others who rode for long gains on the deception.

But he was back at his old trick of nullifying his opponents' kicks with sensational returns. The first kick he caught in the ball game was returned 37 yards, almost to the point from which it was booted. Twice he reversed his field in that run. A few minutes later he returned another 37 yards, two yards beyond the place where it had been kicked, but a teammate was offside.

And in the third period he was chased 81 yards with a kickoff, before he was nailed.

That wasn't all. The cotton-tail-chased kid, who saw his all-American manhood crumble about him this year, because of ineffective blocking, interference and a leg injury, threw passes as he never threw them in his sensational 1933 parade to national honors.

Four times he threw the ball. All were strikes. Ward Browning caught the first, high in the air and over the goal line for a touchdown. Twice again he connected, to Bob Fuhrer and Cal Clemens. The fourth throw was in the receiver's hands but slipped away.

It was a 750 yarding average with a ball slippery by dazzling rain.

Warburton's performance had the earmarks of a comeback—too late. The chances were 100-1 he wouldn't be an all-American and it was almost as definite that he even would fall of gaining a place on the all-coast first team.

S. F. U. AND LOYOLA IN SCORELESS TIE

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.—(P)—San Francisco university and Little Loyola of Los Angeles had nothing to show for their Sunday football contest today but a bunch of bruises.

They slid and skidded to a scoreless tie yesterday at Gilmore stadium before 10,000 persons who braved threats of rain.

The Mail Tribune bowling team, which had not lost a game since the opening of the City Bowling League schedule, took it on the chin Friday night in their match with Adrienne's Shoe Department at the Smoke House alleys. The Shoemen took the second and third games of the match by sizeable margins. Murray of the tyros grabbed the evening's honors for both single game, 225, and match total, 572. Carey led the heavy firing for Adrienne's with a high game of 318 and total of 570.

LEATHERS TO FACE MYSTERY MAN ON THURSDAY'S CARD

Bad Sam Leathers, limber-legged grappler from Texas, will return to the Medford mat Thursday night, completely recovered from a bullet wound that cost him his last match here. Leathers will be seen in action against the Red Devil, the matman who wrestles infrequently.

The mystery man, who weighs 230 but conceals his identity behind a red hood, made his initial appearance here last Thursday against Cliff Thiede, and slugged and choked two out of three falls from the life guard. He is one of the most unscrupulous wrestlers on the coast, and rates as the most prominent mystery man since the demise of the original Masked Marvel. Bad Sam, whose rubber legs have gained him the utmost popularity with Medford fans, will have his hands full when he tangles with the unruly demon.

Promoter Mack Lillard has secured two more experienced and clever opponents of the game for the semi-weekly by signing Hans Schultz, 215-pound German grappler, and Al Karasick, the Russian Lion. Schultz has been wrestling in this country for the past two years and has added all the American angles of the game to the tricks he picked up in Europe, where he ranks with the best.

Al Karasick, although small, is a versatile bone-bender who very seldom loses a match. When he tangles with the big German, the result should be an exhibition of the game as performed by two of its cleverest students.

TURKS ADVANCE CENT A POUND IN PORTLAND MART

PORTLAND, Nov. 19.—(P)—There was a further advance of one cent a pound in the buying price on dressed turkeys in the Portland market, with practically a record demand from California for supplies.

Up to 21 cents a pound is being freely offered for both toms and hens for carload shipment to the south. While the demand was extremely heavy, there was a very liberal killing reported throughout this sector and arrivals are of size.

While hens and toms were today being quoted at the same price by buyers, suggestion was made that owing to the extreme weights of the toms—most of them ranging above 16 pounds while the demand is not above that weight as a rule. The call was mostly for hens weighing 10 to 12 pounds each. For that reason there was a suggestion that during the next day or so the hens will command a premium of at least one cent over the toms or large size.

Tomorrow is the last day for carload shipments of turkeys for the Thanksgiving trade in California, although some truckloads will probably move out Wednesday.

Turkey prices ranged 16-21c for dressed birds and 14-16c alive.

Medford turkey raisers will enjoy a profitable Thanksgiving season, from present San Francisco market conditions, in the opinion of Fred D. Silva, representative here for the Half Moon Fruit and Produce company. This "break" for the producer is had news for the consumer, as it appears now that turkey prices will be from three to five cents higher this season than last.

Retail prices will be from 24 to 30 cents per pound, but the birds seem to be in better shape this season, due to the abundance of green food and the generally favorable climatic conditions.

ALABAMA STRONG ENTRANT IN RACE FOR ROSE BOWL

PASADENA, Cal., Nov. 19.—(P)—The chances were strong today that the Rose Bowl bid would go to the south this year, with Alabama, a successful previous visitor, favored to make a return bow.

The Crimson Tide, along with the Big Ten-fetted Gophers of Minnesota stood out as the nation's leading unbeaten and untied grid eleven, and the chances were strong that when the Pacific Coast conference champion—probably Stanford—ends out its call, the "Bama boys" would get it.

Of course, should the western conference suddenly relent and break the Big Ten's post-season game shackles, Minnesota would be neck-and-neck with Alabama going into the stretch in the race for the invitation.

Alabama must beat Vanderbilt to keep its slate clean. Minnesota has Wisconsin to subdue.

The east loomed ground in its case over the week-end with the first defeats suffered by Syracuse, Navy and Princeton.

Alabama has a great Rose Bowl record. The Tide swept over Washington, 20 to 19, in 1926; was tied by Stanford, 7 to 7, the next year, and then soundly trounced Washington State, 24 to 0, in 1931.

although no one has as yet completed his score.

H. Chandler Egan, although not officially entered in the tournament, has turned in a ringer score card at the request of the shop. "Just to give the boys an idea." He may lower his total at any time, but the way it now stands is 29 for the first time and 28 for the second.

Those who have entered the event are: Capt. DeVany, Leland Clark, R. B. Hammond, Ed Simmons, D. S. Clark, H. H. Pringle, D. G. Tyree, J. B. Kirk, O. O. Horner, E. Raymond Driver, T. S. Johnson, C. S. Newhall, C. J. Semon, A. F. Mansfield, L. G.
