advanced to the old Central Republic Bank & Trust Co. in 1932.

As collateral on its loan, the RFC holds title to all the trust company's assets with a book value of $76,200,000.

Judge Pryorak issued an order empowering O'Connell, who is general receiver for a majority of the state banks involved in similar proceedings, to retain the law firm of Igoe & Finberty as his attorneys in liquidating the trust company's assets.

Attorneys for the RFC also filed suit in the state circuit court yesterday against the trust company. Both federal actions sought to determine the liability of the company's 4000 stockholders in connection with the RFC loans.

Barrett closed the trust company last night and detailed a staff of examiners to make a report on their findings.

HIGH EPISCOPAL LEADERS COMING

Episcopals from the Rogue River valley will have an opportunity Friday evening to meet and hear short addresses from three nationally known officials of the church and its auxiliaries and all interested in the Episcopal church are invited to come to St. Mark's church Friday evening, where a mass meeting will be held at 8 o'clock.

The noted visitors, who will arrive Friday morning, are the Rt. Rev. Frederick B. Iowden, bishop of New Mexico; the Very Rev. Chas. E. McAllister, dean of Spokane, and Mrs. Wilson Johnson, educational secretary, Woman's Auxiliary, who have been in attendance at the general convention at Atlantic City and are making a swing around the circle in the interest of the church.

At 2:30 Friday afternoon the women of the parish will serve tea in honor of Mrs. Johnson.

At 8 o'clock the vestry of St. Mark's and members of the parish will entertain the visitors at a dinner at the Hotel Medford.

The general meeting will be held at 8 o'clock at St. Mark's, and a welcome is extended to everybody to attend.

Miss Hueners Wed Here Sunday Afternoon

At a pretty 3 o'clock ceremony, at the St. Peter's Lutheran church, Miss Minnie Joan Hueners of Jacksonville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hueners of Jacksonville, was wed to Roland Holmes of Medford, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Holmes of Salem. Rev. H. H. Young officiated.

For the occasion, the church was beautifully decorated in clusters of pink and white chrysanthemums, while the altar was banked in ferns, palms and flowers. Papers burned in silver holders.

Preceding the entrance of the bride party, Mrs. Ernest Hueners and Miss Ann Gueszlaff sang "I Love You Truly." Miss Gueszlaff playing the piano accompaniment. She also played the wedding march.

To the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, the group took its place before the altar. The bride wore a dress of white net, fitted to the knees, the skirts flaring floor-length in tiny ruffles. The high neckline, sleeves and sash were edged in silver sequins. Her veil, finished with a band of lace, was wreathed in orange blossoms, and her shower bouquet was of gardenias, lilies of the valley and roses.

Miss Beas Moore was bridesmaid, and wore a fitted taffeta dress in all-American beauty shade, the skirt and sleeves bordered with flowers. She carried chrysanthemums. The maid of honor, Miss Dorothy Holmes, wore zinnia rust taffeta and also carried chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Ernest Hueners, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor, and her taffeta dress was shell pink, with ruffled skirt and short puffed sleeves. Her bouquet was of roses.

The bride's attendants all wore silver turbans with sequin trimming, short veils, and carried white lace handkerchiefs, girls of the bride. Her sister, Miss Katherine Hueners, was flower girl and wore rose taffeta with a fitted bodice and floor-length skirt edged in ruffles.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Attending the groom was his cousin, Elvin Battee, of Berkeley, Cal. Ernest Hueners, brother of the bride, was usher.

The double ring ceremony was read after which Mrs. Mabel Nichols sang "Because," and the party left the church as Miss Gueszlaff played Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

A reception for the families and friends of the bride, was held at the home of the bride's parents in Jacksonville. Mr. and Mrs. Holmes then left on a wedding trip south, and after December 1 will be at home to their friends at 827 Franquette street in this city.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Miss Beas Moore of Eugene, Tex. sister of Mrs. John Hueners, Jr., of that city; Mr. and Mrs. William Gardner and daughters of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Holmes and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Murphy of Salem; Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Battee and daughter and Milton Battee of Berkeley, Cal.; Mrs. Dorothy Holmes of Astoria, Ore.; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wheeler and little son, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Holmes and son of Talent.

A more detailed report of the campaign will be made public later by Campaign Manager Frank Hull, who supervised the many details of the chest drive.

NORTHWEST BEST BUSINESS REGION WING DISCOVERS

Charles A. Wing, who returned with his family yesterday from a six weeks' trip east and through the Panama canal, brought with him reports that business in the Pacific northwest is in better condition than in any other section of the country. Mr. Wing stated that Rogue River valley fruit is finding a good market this year in the east. With the exception of Washington, D. C., which is the bright spot of the nation in industry and finance, Mr. Wing said, business throughout the country is not at the level it has reached in this section, although it is generally improved over last year. In the capital, a tremendous amount of money is being expended for construction work, which Mr. Wing says accounts for the business pick-up.

"Feed is short for stock in Arizona and New Mexico," Mr. Wing said, "and crops are short in Colorado and Kansas, although in the latter state government allotments are proving a life-saver. The world fair, while a success in itself, did not help the city of Chicago as was thought. East of Chicago conditions are generally better than last year."

Mr. Wing stated that Medford pears and apples are receiving excellent money in the east for good quality brands, and have a good reputation among Pacific coast products. In Havana, Cuba, Mr. Wing saw Medford pears selling retail for $15 per box. Medford fruit was also found to be selling well in Panama.

In Kansas, Minnesota and Chicago, Mr. Wing presented moving pictures of the Shasta Cascade Wonderland, as provided him by Copco, receiving favorable comment from clubs and alumni associations. He also passed many chapters of commerce bulletins on southern Oregon, and expects that with more advertising an increased number of tourists will come to Oregon in the future.

WOMAN IS HELD FOR HEARING ON MURDER CHARGE

Geaghan said: "If nothing more develops than what I have before me now her release should be ordered." Geaghan said the woman told him the lock on the trunk was broken when she sent it to the warehouse, which she declared earlier today during questioning at the police lineup, and which was subsequently verified by police.

Miss Clarke was held without bail for a hearing next Friday. The prisoner said the trunk contained only odds and ends—pictures, books and clothing—when she stored it. The condition of the infants' bodies made identification of their sex and age practically impossible.
