Oak Grove

OAK GROVE, Nov. 21.—(Spl.)—Oak Grove Community club met at the school house November 14. The members listened to a recitation on the Arizona Indians by the pupils of the primary room and learned something of the life of these Indians, told in the very interesting way of the little folk. A program was given in the auditorium, after which ways and means for supplying hot lunches were discussed. Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Harrison of Yreka were guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Roberts over the week end. George Hiles has returned from a

Rialto Headliners

Mary Carlisle is the girl this time with Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey in their latest laugh fest, "Kentucky Kernels" coming tomorrow to the Rialto theater. The nonsensical story concerns the comical introduction into a feud when they deliver their orphan ward to his family and Southern estate, which he suddenly inherits. The comedy swells to side-splitting proportions when Wheeler courts the opposing leader's daughter, and Woolsey essays the role of arbitrator between the enemy clans.

Adult Education Plans Discussed

Kenneth Beach of Salem, superintendent of adult education, met with a group of southern Oregon teachers and superintendents at the courthouse yesterday afternoon, for the purpose of discussing local problems found in the relief plan for teaching. Besides several local relief teachers, Superintendent C. R. Bowman of Jackson county, Acting Superintendent C. G. Smith of this city, and Superintendent George A. Brice of Ashland were present. Mr. Beach pointed out to the group the fundamental purposes of the adult relief plan, and told of its operation throughout the state. The government has allocated the state a certain amount for the work each month, Mr. Beach explained. He said that 236 teachers in Oregon have been approved for the relief work, and 232 classes for adult education have been organized. Out of the total number of teachers approved, 168 are actually at work. Classes offered the public include public speaking, piano group instruction, health education, geography, sewing, commercial law and dramatics.
