Colonel Gordon Voorhies of Medford is third vice president of the organization, and Raymond W. Retter, also of this city, is a trustee.

Broadway Vanities On Craterian Bill For Today Showing

A colorful array of talent, bringing something different from anything yet shown here, is promised Medford in the new vaudeville unit, "Broadway Vanities," coming to the Craterian theater tonight for a one-day only engagement.

Leading the parade are Ferris and Wilson, a comedy team that uses new tricks to get their laughs from the audience.

The Three Sensations offer something distinctly out of the ordinary with their lightning-fast roller skating routine. Difficult balancing stunts while traveling at a high speed, make this act a sensation.

Dancing is an accepted thing in all vaudeville shows, but Elaine and James combine dancing with rope spinning, to make their turn a novelty hit that is being winning them a great applause wherever the show has played.

For more comedy—again something different—combined with musical nonsense, Art and Adrilitta present a routine that is right in line with the unusual in the rest of the show.

Every stage show must have pretty girls in tap routines and the Broadway Vanities is no exception. The Brown Sisters take care of this angle to the satisfaction of all, but add something with their own particular style of harmony singing.

Then there is Buddy Brown, a young fellow with what seems to be a rubber back, doing acrobatic stunts that are supposed to be impossible.

The Kitz Carlton orchestra forms the musical background for the entire show besides indulging in some special numbers of their own arrangement.

On the screen is a story of what is an everyday happening, and most recently brought to the attention of all readers by the newspapers in their reporting of the Vanderbilt case. "Tomorrow's Youth" is the story of a child of divorced parents, forced to spend an equal portion of each year with both his father and mother. How his natural desires are thwarted by this arrangement, are forcibly brought out in the screen story. Little Dickie Moore plays the part of the youngster, with John Miljan as the father, Marjha Steeper as the mother and Gloria Shes as the other woman who forms the "eternal triangle" that leads to the divorce.

GREAT SEND-OFF GIVEN TIGERS ON PORTLAND JAUNT

Men have used plays that needed little interference, such as laterals and passes, but last Saturday nothing but interference plays were used and they clicked. Coach Burchard also possesses a bag of tricks that are used by the leading college teams.

Burchard has refrained from using these plays for the simple reason that there has not been a case where they were needed. However, he attacked before leaving that he would shoot the works with the Portland gang if the going warranted it.

It has been noted that a different attitude has reigned over the Tiger camp on this year's Portland trip than prevailed in the 1932 camp. The boys feel more sure of themselves than they did then. They realize that they are not a bunch of small-town nicks going to see the sights of a big city but are going to another town and play football against another football team.

Reports from Portland stating the reasons for odds placed on Medford show that, although Washington held the league, they are by no means the best football team in Portland. Roosevelt, close to the bottom of the list, tied them and Grant, now in second place, defeated them. Jefferson, which lost main player because of ineligibility, also tied the Washington team.

The reports go on to state that the Washington team is unpopular in Portland for the reason they play a type of ball that is hard to get interested in. The team starts a punting spree in the first half to wear their opponents down and then when they feel they are pretty well worn out open up with a rip-razzing touchdown drive that usually proves fatal to the opponent.

ELBERT LENOX NAMED HEAD OF COPCO CLUB AT ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the employees' club of the California Oregon Power company was held last night at the Town club, with a good representation of Copco men and women from all parts of the valley. Dinner was served at 7 p. m., with music being furnished by Dinty Moore's versatile dance orchestra.

During the business meeting, which was conducted by Ed Pease, president of the organization, the annual election of officers was held with results as follows: President, Elbert Lenox; vice-president, Lyle Sama; secretary, Harry Lewis, and treasurer, Horace Kellom.

A contest for a new name for the employees' club was won by T. G. Bradley, who suggested "Synchronizers," this very appropriate title receiving an almost unanimous vote. Plans for an elaborate "electrical ball" to be staged in December, were discussed, and it was decided to make this a public affair. Full details will be announced at an early date.

COUNTY BUDGET OF $212,716 HAS FINAL APPROVAL

A substantial decrease for the past 10 years, said: "I resent your intimation, Mr. Pipes, there is extravagance in the conduct of my office and take issue with any man who questions my integrity, in how I run it. I have read you a statement showing the decrease for general county purposes over a period of years. The state and county taxes have been reduced. Your state and county tax will be lower this year, but taxes in the city of Medford and elsewhere will not be, because they have been raised.

Intimation Resented. "The trouble these days," continued Assessor Coleman, "is that under the Oregon primary law anybody can run for office. When he is elected, the intimation is broadcast he is a gangster, and that is just what you are trying to intimate here today."

Pipes declared that he had nothing but friendly feeling towards the county officials, "and my criticisms are intended to be constructive. I bear no ill-will. He said it was not his intention to impugn the motives of anyone.

County Judge Day, in reply to Pipes, declared that there had been an increase in the clerical work in county departments, "due to the applications for federal funds, and work necessary in preparing old age pension papers. He cited how in the county clerk's office, government loans had increased clerical work, but had also increased receipts between $3000 and $4000.

State Senator George W. Dunn, chairman of the budget committee, declared the budget committee "has not put a dollar in the budget that was not absolutely necessary, and we have worked hard and long in an effort to secure tax relief. No one in Jackson county wants it more than I do. The legislature twice presented bills aimed at tax relief for property, but each time the voters rejected them."

Questions Pipes' Figures. At another stage of the meeting Judge Day held that Pipes, in radio talks on taxes, was "wrong in your figures."

Pipes' motion for a return to the 1933 level for county offices lost only 100 votes for it.

A motion to adjourn, offered by A. S. V. Carpenter, was carried unanimously.

Pipes and George Iverson filed objections to most of the budget items. "I am in favor of good roads, good schools, old age pensions and relief. I have not protested money for humanitarian purposes. I realize the aged and needy must be taken care of, and God speed you in this work!" said Pipes.

Pipes opposed a $300 increase in the coroner's office, holding that "inquests are often held when unnecessary."

"Some of the biggest stinks Jackson county ever had were caused by not holding inquests," replied Commissioner Emmett Nealon. "They have to be held to still the gossip."

Cannot Foresee Death. "We have no way to find out how many will need inquests the coming year," said Commissioner Ralph Billings, "but we do know this: The more that are killed, the more we have to bury."

William M. Carle of the Applegate, and Ernest Niedermeyer of Jacksonville made observations on the budget. Both held that there could have been cash curtailment, but were not strenuous in their protests.

One of the smallest crowds in five years attended the hearing. The attendance totaled 33 at 11 o'clock, with many leaving before adjournment.

With the approval of the budget...
