Society and Club Events Reviewed for Week

Thanksgiving Party At the Carpenters Gay Holiday Event

Thanksgiving was a pleasant day for Medford's society, with a number of dinner parties—some for just family groups, others inviting friends to join them.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred S. V. Carpenter, covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. H. Chandler Egan, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Burgess, Miss McLean, Miss Margaret Hubbard, C. S. Newhall, W. W. Aldrich, Julie Carpenter, Harlow Carpenter, and the host and hostess.

Later in the day, they were joined by about thirty other guests, and all spent an enjoyable evening together.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Biddle invited for Thanksgiving dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Corbin Edgell, Mrs. Alice Holloway and Tom Emmens. Mrs. W. B. Biddle was also present. They later journeyed to the Carpenter home, "Topsides," for the evening.

Mrs. J. J. Emmens and son Robert, who have been in the east for the past two months, returned Friday from Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Corbin Edgell are now residing at Holloway orchard, since the J. P. Spauldings have taken another ranch in the valley this winter, where they have moved. The Spauldings formerly resided at Holloway orchard.

Friday, the Duplicate Bridge club met at the Medford hotel for an evening of cards, with Mrs. Gus Newbury in charge.

The Colony club will hold its regular monthly meeting on Friday, December 7, it has been announced.

Henselmans Hosts During Past Week To Honor Visitors

For the Thanksgiving holidays, Mr. and Mrs. George Henselman had as their guests Dr. and Mrs. Earl Campbell of San Jose, Cal., brother and sister-in-law of Mrs. Henselman. They were guests at a family dinner on Thanksgiving day at the Henselman home.

On Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Henselman entertained in compliment to Dr. and Mrs. Campbell, inviting sixteen guests to dinner.

Dr. Campbell is an instructor at the San Jose Teachers' college. They left Saturday morning to return to their home.

Over One Hundred At Formal Dance, Here Last Evening

The formal dancing party at the Town club last evening was attended by about 125 persons, with a number entertaining prior to the party.

Mr. and Mrs. George Roberts invited a number to their Crown Hill home for cocktails preceding the dance.

During the past week several groups entertained at the Town club, a number enjoying Thanksgiving dinner there.

Apollo Pupils Give Interesting Recital In Christian Church

With a deftness and skill in finger-work that would be a credit to piano artists, students of Sebastian Apollo, who were presented in recital Friday evening at the First Christian church, ably played their selections on the program.

The majority of the students had memorized the numbers, and each announced the names of the pieces he was playing. Several complicated selections were given by some of the younger pupils, and they received much applause from the large number in the audience.

Mrs. W. C. Ingham, one of Mr. Apollo's advanced students, was unable to be present, and James Stevens, baritone, who was to sing, was also unable to attend.

A selection from "Il Trovatore," by Verdi, and "Impromptu," by Wackerfield, were the violin solos that little Vivian Freeman, a student of Mrs. Wm. B. Bolger, played. Mrs. Bolger accompanied her at the piano.

Students participating in the recital were Gloria Wunsch, Penelope Winston, Phyllis Cleven, Bobby Hoagland, Jan Pruitt, Genevieve Treidgold, Roger Wolf, Marjorie Freeman, Martha DeBuzza, Lois Frasse, Shirley Hubel and Margherita Sappington.

Mrs. Bartlam New Director of Drama At Community Club

The Girls' Community club has been fortunate in the type of instructors who have volunteered for service in the program of educational activities, those in charge state.

Mrs. E. E. Schuler, whose ability is so well known, has for three years had an active class in drama. At this time she has decided to resign this position, but will remain active on the Girls' Community club board.

Mrs. E. E. Bartlam, who has already identified herself with the educational activities of Medford, has consented to take over this class in drama, held Wednesday evenings at the Girls' Community club on Bartlett street. Mrs. Bartlam's training and experience in this work has been exceptional, and it is with the greatest pleasure that the board is able to announce that she will direct the class.

Garden Club Will Have Question Box Feature Thursday

The Medford Garden club will hold its regular December meeting Thursday evening, December 6, at 7:30 in the court house auditorium.

A question box is to be one feature of the program and everyone is asked to contribute any gardening question which may have arisen in his own garden. Raymond Milosch will be present and answer all such questions.
