Joseph Lane Group Meets at Miss Platt's

Miss Jean Platt entertained the General Joseph Lane society, C. A. R., Friday afternoon, November 30, at her home, on East Jackson street. Plans were made for the coming year and the members discussed the different national projects to which they contribute each year.

Mrs. M. M. Morris, senior president, gave each member a program which has the meetings, hostesses, entertainment, and publicity committees outlined for the coming year.

After the business meeting a social hour was enjoyed during which the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Hal Platt, served refreshments.

UNCLE SAM HOLDS TRIO FOR STILL

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 3.—(AP)—Arthur Beard, George Smith and Ralph W. Burkhardt, charged with conspiracy to defraud the government by operating an unlicensed still, were bound over to the federal grand jury today.

They were arrested a few days ago at a still site near St. Paul, Marion county, on a farm operated by Burkhardt.

United States Commissioner Kenneth Frazer, before whom their hearing was held, released Beard and Smith under $1500 bail and Burkhardt under $250 bail.

V. F. W. CHIEF FIRM FOR BONUS CASH

PORTLAND, Dec. 3.—(AP)—No compromise bonus payments by the federal government will be accepted by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, it was said here yesterday by James E. Van Zandt, commander-in-chief of the veterans' organization, who is on an official tour of Oregon.

Van Zandt declared that the veterans' organization which he represents has sufficient promises of votes in both houses to override a presidential veto of the bonus bill, which he declared "would be pushed over by congress" during its coming session. The bonus may be paid before congress convenes, according to Van Zandt.

CRIME WAVE DUE TO CHURCH LACK ASSERTS PASTOR

Speaking from the Church of the Nazarene pulpit yesterday morning, Fred M. Weatherford, pastor-evangelist, spoke on the topic, "Putting Back the Pioneer Overdraft." In part, his message was as follows:

"Thomas Carlyle once said 'An honest man is one who puts as much back into the common fund as he takes out.' This conception of honesty and fidelity may be carried over into the social and religious status of our homes, communities and government.

"That we have made an overdraft in some of these circles is self-evident.

"The foremost social standard of our forefathers was fidelity to conscience. Back of Faneuil Hall and the Declaration of Independence was the missionary and evangelistic appeal of George Whitfield (who was known by half the population of the American colonies). He made seven extensive evangelistic trips from Georgia to Maine, where he preached to the largest gatherings ever assembled to hear the gospel message. It is little wonder that men turn to write that 'all men are born free and equal and to defend this ideal we pledge our fortunes, our lives, and our sacred honor.' All men are equal before God, in that we all have a common mediator, in Jesus Christ. Men are also equal in their rights of life, property, and in the pursuit of happiness, and that authorities must derive their right to rule from the consent of the people.

"These principles gave our government its inception. No government can long subsist apart from the observance of the divine laws of God. Christianity is required to breed honesty, fidelity, and loyalty to civic uprightness.

"Statistics today advance the fact that seven out of every ten under 20 years of age are not being touched in any way by the religious educational program of the church.

"Judge Pascoe, justice of the supreme court of the state of New York, wrote a few months ago as follows:

"My experience during 33 years on the bench in which time over 4000 boys under the age of 21 years were convicted of crime before me, of whom but three were members of a Sabbath school."

"From this statement, and the fact that 7 out of 10 of the youth of our land are not receiving Bible instructions, answers the cause for the crime wave in our country that makes a thirteen billion dollar draft upon our national treasury annually.

"Our nation can survive the attack of 350,000 criminals, which means approximately one to every three hundred in population, but there is a line that goes beyond survival. We may still go on with a sprinkling of wealthy men, whose property must be defended while they disgrace our free institutions by their Sabbath-breaking amusements, while God-fearing people pray for suspending justice. When this percentage becomes too large, our moral dikes will break and the pillars of our liberty will be swept away."

Plan Mississippi Canoe Trip BARABOO, Wis.—(UP)—Two Baraboo boys, Archie Core and Harvel Lippitt, have started a canoe trip down the Mississippi river to New Orleans, where they plan to secure passage as laborers on an ocean boat bound for South America.
