

ELKS' CHRISTMAS TREE SCHEDULED ON DECEMBER 20

At a bond retirement meeting of the Elks lodge last night, further plans were made for the Dec. 13 lodge meeting when a class of six candidates will be received, and for the 1935 New Year's eve dance, to be held in the temple ballroom Dec. 31.

Preparations are being made to erect all past New Year's eve dances. In making the celebration one befitting the beginning of the new year. Surprises in the program, noise makers and favors will be provided to add to the entertainment, and all members are expected to make the usual "breakable" resolutions.

On Dec. 20, the Elks will hold their annual charity Christmas tree, it was announced today, for Elks and their invited guests. Another of the popular Elk's feeds with beer will be a part of the program, to be presented in the basement of the temple.

Exalted Ruler H. N. Butler urges all Elks who can possibly do so to attend, whether or not they live in this community, as it is essential that each do his part in helping the many needy this year.

With the initiation and introduction of the group on Dec. 13, Secretary Ernest Scott announced that the total of new members received during the past seven months will have reached 193, one of the greatest increases for any seven month period in the lodge's history.

Those who will ride the goat are W. B. Johnston, Jr., Manuel Liebman, Franklin H. George, Thomas N. Billings, Kenneth W. Parrett and

THOMAS HERE ON PROBE OF COPCO

Judge Charles M. Thomas of Salem, public utilities commissioner, and former resident of Medford, arrived this morning on official business connected with the California Oregon Power company case investigation, and will spend the next six or seven days taking steps preparatory to a possible hearing, date for which has not been set.

C. R. Lester, director of engineers, and John Bagley, assistant engineer for the P. U. C., both of Salem, arrived this morning with Judge Thomas. The representatives of the utilities commission will meet with Copco officials in an attempt to settle all possible points of dispute between the two companies before a complete investigation is made.

WELFARE EXCHANGE IN NEED OF CLOTHES

Announcement was made today that the Welfare Exchange, conducted in the city hall, is practically without clothing for women and children, and as there are numerous calls for these articles each day, a request is made that persons having articles that might be used in the Exchange, please telephone the headquarters.

Miss Helen Carlton, who is in charge of the Exchange, said today that the people in Medford and nearby communities have responded splendidly when requests for clothing had been made, and this co-operation was greatly appreciated by those at the Exchange.

Adrienne's Revue

Solves Christmas Shopping Problem

Gorgeous gift suggestions for fair ladies' wardrobes were featured last night at Adrienne's colorful Christmas style revue at the Craterian theater.

Beginning with boudoir apparel in a special setting, models displayed fashions for every hour of the day. Attractive lounging pajamas favored warm, cheerful shades in rich velvets and satins.

Elaborate evening costumes for holiday festivities were particularly appreciated by the audience. Stylish footwear from Adrienne's shoe department was worn by the mannequins, and their effective hairdresses and make-up were by Adrienne's beauticians. Novelty entertainment was furnished between acts by Ruth Luy's young dancing pupils.
