

MEDFORD MAIL TRIBUNE

"Evergreen in Southern Oregon Reads the Mail Tribune" Daily Except Saturdays... Published by MEDFORD PRINTING CO. 5-21-23 N. IV ST. Phone 75

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS... MEMBER OF THE UNITED PRESS... MEMBER OF THE AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

Ye Smudge Pot By Arthur Perry... Newspapers are scolded by the Rocky Mountain Federation of Women's clubs for referring to small children as kids...

ONE SHOULD FEET... (Portland Telegram) "I want to comment on Mrs. Worried's letter and also to sympathize with Mrs. Worried..."

ITS THE LETTER "H"... 'Twas whispered in heaven, 'twas muttered in hell, An echo caught faintly the sound as it fell...

WASHINGTON—(UP)—The world's armies are getting back to earth. A recent French order that artillery men discard their colorful sky-blue uniforms brought the last major military power into the ranks of those whose soldiers wear drab uniforms...

PARIS—(UP)—"Rain, rain don't go away," will certainly be the cry here this winter as a result of the latest Parisian wrinkle—skin umbrellas. Made to match raincoats or to go with any wrap, the latest fad can be had in the gaudiest and most fascinating colors...

Looks Like Peace

WELL another war crisis in the Balkans has apparently been successfully surmounted. After a lot of growling across the borders, marching and countermarching, and the violent expulsion of hundreds of Hungarians across the Jugo-Slav border, the League of Nations has submitted a modus operandi, which promises to satisfy both the Yugo-Slavs and what remains of Austria-Hungary.

Such an agreement is all to the credit of the league. But to any realist it is obvious the real accomplishment is very slight. The only reason there IS no European war now, is merely that none of the world powers—not even Germany—WANTS war. All the elements that go to make war are present. In fact there is positively an uncanny similarity between the international situation in Europe today, following the assassination of King Alexander, and the situation that followed the assassination of the Austrian Crown Prince at Sarajevo in 1914.

AND it will never be taken from it until the governments in Europe show the sense and courage to pay the price demanded by peace. That price means the abandonment of super-nationalism, the discontinuation of armament races on land and sea, a revival of that spirit of reconciliation and international tolerance, which marked the Locarno pact.

A VERY dramatic scene was enacted over the radio last night. In the midst of the regular Sunday night programs, there was a sudden pause. Then came the announcement that the national broadcasts would be discontinued, for a period sufficiently long to allow the transmission of a message in international code to a ship in distress in the mid-Atlantic.

THE ship in question happened to be a Japanese freighter. Did the captains of the boats rushing to the rescue consider THAT fact? Did anyone consider whether the ship in distress carried one flag or another? Whether the skins of those near death were white, black or brown? Was there any consideration of the nationality of those ships rushing to rescue—whether they were English, American, Italian, Norwegian or—well Eskimo!

NOTHING unusual about that. Such a spirit has been a working force in human affairs since the dawn of civilization. More than that it has unquestionably been a growing force. It is stronger today potentially than ever before. It is in the last analysis merely the behavior of human beings.

Funny, isn't it? And tragic also. From the standpoint of human behavior, incomprehensible. Once let what is known as politics enter in, and we behave like a lot of low brow barbarians, that morally speaking have never emerged from the jungle.

Personal consultation for the sed-

Personal Health Service By William Brady, M.D.

Signed letters pertaining to personal health and hygiene not to disease diagnosis or treatment will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Letters should be brief and written in ink. Owing to the large number of letters received only a few can be answered. No reply can be made to queries not conforming to instructions. Address Dr. William Brady, 265 El Camino, Beverly Hills, Cal.

TUNNY, ALIAS TUNA, IS FINE FOOD FOR BOYS... I wonder, sometimes, whether little boys in the tall timber are ever compelled by misguided parents to take castor oil any more. It's a long while ago since I have been appealed to for castor in such a case. It begins to look as though the castor oil complex is pretty well relegated to history.

Dear Doctor: Please advise me what to do. I am a boy 12 years old, and I hate fish but I do go crazy about canned salmon and want meat tuna fish. Are they the same food value and vitamins, etc.?

Either canned tuna fish or canned salmon is of the same value as the fresh fish in the modern way does not destroy the vitamins. Canned salmon has been found to retain a considerable portion of the iodine naturally present in sea fish. Indeed, an ordinary can of salmon contains more iodine than one gets in iodized salt in a whole month.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Diary: A chucky day suggesting roasting fire and swashbuckling tangle. So in my gray great-coat to Doane Powell's studio to sit for a sculpting. And a mask of Clifton Webb there startlingly life-like. Then to look at old Waterford bowls and pewter.

That blind accordion player, wandering forth to Rockefeller Center after most beggars have retired, with his hind-blown cap and quivering underjaw, might be David Warfield stepping from "The Music Master."

Howard Chandler Christy, knocking off temporarily from his portrait, had the time of his life flouncing up that talked-about bar at the Hotel des Artistes. He did the murals. Some nudes, my masters! And there's his little joke about the bar. It looks as though each end runs into infinity. In reality it is only about fifteen feet, intimate, chunky, Murray at each end did the trick. Christy swamped the place at the opening with celebrities from Flagg to Parley.

THE lowly—and how fitting the word—Daachshund is leading 3 to 1 in popularity among various breeds of small dogs. Fifth avenue, Madison and the well-groomed cross streets were fairly cluttered with them. Outside the Yorkville-Central section there was scarcely a dachshund in New York for 10 years after the war. An address leading one across the stage in a society drama was mildly bowed eight years ago. Nobody knows the why of the revived popularity, but dog shop owners cannot supply the demand.

Here Are CCC District Staff, Camp Commanders, Advisers

In the above picture is Major Clarence H. Armstrong, commander of the Medford CCC district, and the members of his staff, taken during the educational conference in Medford recently. Seated, left to right, Capt. Glenn J. Key, Capt. William C. Ryan, Capt. Robert H. Soule, Major Robert F. Dark, Major Armstrong, Captain M. Milton Potter, Lieut. Howard A. Mallin, Lieut. Leslie G. Ross and Chaplain George Woodall. Standing, left to right, Lieut. Roy D. Craft, Lieut. Fred W. Greene, Lieut. Kenneth T. Case, Lieut. Harry May, Jr., Lieut. Theodore F. Coates, Lieut. Claude D. Wallace, Dr. Wallace S. Douglas, Dr. Hjalmer T. Gentile, Lieut. Charles H. Jeffress and Lieut. Philo D. Smith. Chaplains Killycoyne, Preston and McDonnell were not present.

Camp commanders in the Medford CCC district are shown above. Seated, left to right, Captain George H. Noble, Capt. Herman J. Meiring, Capt. Guy E. Saunders, Capt. James O. Wanzler, Capt. Harry E. Cooper, Capt. Glen P. Wallace, Major Armstrong, Capt. Eben S. Longfellow, Capt. Rupert T. Gilbert, Capt. Milton R. Fisher, Capt. Oliver R. Smith, Lieut. George E. McCormick and Capt. John O. Vines. Standing, left to right, Capt. Albert T. Anderson, Capt. Norman J. Mitchell, Capt. Luther E. Morgan, Capt. Robert E. Densmore, Capt. John P. Merrill, Capt. Elmer Fearn, Capt. Herman L. Harris, Lieut. Leonard M. Slosser, Capt. Leonard L. Lerwin, Lieut. Cyril H. McGuire, Lieut. Charles H. Jeffress, Captain Chauncey L. Pierce, Capt. John H. Murray, Capt. George W. Cook and Capt. Harold G. Sewell.

The CCC district educational advisers are shown with Dr. J. B. Griffing, civil educational adviser of the ninth corps area, and Professor Salter of Oregon State College, seated, left to right, Kenneth Baker, W. W. Belcher, Eugene C. Golden, Joseph O. Stanton, Cellan Uford, D. E. Wiedman, Dr. Griffing, Dr. Salzer, Victor E. Sparks, Eugene E. Laird, Hensley, Clarence T. Strickell and Chaplain George Woodall. Standing, left to right, Atton Y. Ellason, Henry Petr, Howard M. Silies, Kenneth Eibush, Lawrence Berger, George E. Melsinger, Mack Stoker, W. C. Cooper, Chester B. Kennedy, Millard L. Gilbreath, Major Armstrong, Captain Potter and Captain Ryan.—Photos by J. Varne Shangle, Medford.

Comment on the Day's News

BY FRANK JENKINS. C. A. RANNELL, of Klamath Falls, said to this writer the other day: "I'm just recovering from an attack of sciatic rheumatism, and the doctors haven't been able to find the cause of it. They've been over my teeth and my tonsils and my sinus, and they can't find anything wrong. 'On top of that, I don't smoke and I don't drink, and I don't think I eat too much. So you see, I haven't anything much to quit."

BILL GATES, of Medford, delivered about the best short lecture on inflation the other day at this particular writer has heard. It ran something like this: "A farmer customer said to me recently: 'Bill, I've just sold some hogs for four cents a pound, and I can't make it on four-cent hogs.' 'I said to him: 'You're not even getting four cents for your hogs; you're getting only about $7.40'."

"HOW do you make that out?" he asked. "Well," I said, "You've sold four hogs for $4 a hundred, and you have the money in your pocket. Now take that money and go out and buy the things you need, and every time you buy anything ask the merchant how much the same article would have cost a year ago."

THIS inflation business, you see, isn't as simple as it sounds. We're told that on the basis of gold content the dollars of today are 60-cent dollars as compared with the old dollars. But you can't take a dollar bill and two dimes of the old vintage around to the bank and get two new dollars for them.

Flight 'o Time

Home of John R. Bowen near Bogus River is destroyed by fire. Campaign launched for Oregonians to buy Oregon-made products. Local radio fans report they heat middle-west stations from three to five times a week. Traffic officers arrest five home autoists for speeding on North Riverside avenue.

DOG AND RADIO CAUSE $2000 DAMAGE SUIT OVER FRAYED NERVES

OAKLAND, Cal.—(UP)—A dog and a radio, which the plaintiff seeks to have enjoined, and $2000 worth of alleged damages to Mrs. Antonette Centini's nerves, prime factors in a superior court action here, are causing considerable discussion these days in the neighborhood of 1812 Sixty-seventh avenue.

Resolution introduced in congress asking that "the warring nations of Europe" declare a truce for Christmas week. Oregon Weather. Generally cloudy tonight and Tuesday, probably light rain in northwest portion Tuesday; slightly warmer in interior Tuesday; gentle variable wind off the coast.

CREOMULSION advertisement with text: "Your own digest is inhibited and you need to cheerfully refund you are money on the spot if you are not relieved by Creomulsion BRONCHIAL TROUBLES"

News Behind The News advertisement with image of a newspaper and text: "Over-subscribed seven times and the bonds five times. There is plenty of idle capital in banks. Newsman are calling the new White executive office 'the house with a thousand doors.' There are three or more doors to every important room. It would be an ideal place to play 1-upy."