HUNTING STAMPS MAY BRING OVER $750,000 BELIEF

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(Sp.) Advances figures show that the Migratory Waterfowl Hunting Stamp, better known as the "Duck Stamp," has returned $356,000, up to November 30th to the post office department for transfer to the United States Bureau of Biological Survey for the purchase and maintenance of waterfowl refuges, according to a bulletin of the American Game Association.

No one knows how many waterfowl hunters there are in the United States, but the number of purchasers of the duck stamp will give one a fair idea. When the seasons in all of the states will have closed and all returns from the sale of the duck stamp are in, officials of the government propose to butt the total figure of sales into the known number of licensed hunters in all the states as soon as these returns are in and learn the proportion of waterfowl hunters to upland game hunters. Guesses, based upon personal observation by veteran hunters, hold that not more than one out of seven hunters hunt migratory waterfowl.

BOWLING

The Peoples Electric Store bowlers took a brace last evening in their Elks lodge match, with the Economy Lumber company and capped two out of three. Jack Gill, veteran alleyman, led the heavy firing for the electricians and turned in a total of 665 to take the evening's honors.

Depression and Repeal Get 'Play' In Latest Christmas Card Designs

Changes in the American scene are noted by the Christmas card designers. This year sees many cards reflecting such current topics as the depression and repeal. One features a map (right) which has "X" marks on the outside flap and within a map on which you're supposed to put an "X" to show where you live.
