

Glassworkers' Needs Cited
 TOLEDO (UP)—Repeal and President Roosevelt's recovery program will avail the thin-blown table and glassware industry naught unless it is given adequate tariff protection against imports which can be sold at a fraction of the cost of domestic products, said M. J. Oillooly, president of the American Flint Glassworkers' union here.

CHRISTMAS SALES EXCEED ALL HOPE OF BUSINESS MEN

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—(AP)—With holiday buying exceeding all previous expectations retail trade rose to new peaks the past week, said the weekly Dunn & Bradstreet review today.
 "In some of the large centers," asserted the summary, "where early estimates had been tinged with no small degree of doubtfulness as to the extent of the demand, the preliminary estimates of sales for the entire Christmas season were more than surpassed before the final week had been reached."
 "With the surge of last minute buying yet to be recorded, retail sales for December are placed conservatively at 20 to 30 per cent in excess of those of a year ago."
 "To most retailers the Christmas season has brought the largest sales since 1930, with many reporting the 1934 figures exceed."
 "Comforted by the assurance that 1934 will close with trade conditions from both volume and profit-standpoint the strongest achieved in five years, plans for a broader expansion in 1935 are now being formulated."
 "In industrial operations the contrasseasonal uptrend is becoming more forceful, with gains for the week particularly emphatic in those divisions identified with the production of steel, building materials, plumbing supplies, automobiles, farm equipment, textiles and shoes."

OLD TIME DRAMA WILL BE STAGED BY VETS TONIGHT

 gens in an old time music hall, in readiness for the American Legion show, "Ten Nights in a Barroom," to be opened to the public at 8 o'clock tonight.
 To get the public into the right frame of mind, it was announced today that a parade of village blades, lassies and villains such as will be seen in the show, will form at the Roxy theater at 7 p. m. and progress along Main and Sixth streets.
 Headed by the Ashland Klits band, the parade will be comprised of old time features, men dressed in silk hats and frock coats, and will be a faithful reminder of the days when the elite of 1880 "whooped it up" in music halls wherein the original dramatic version of "Ten Nights in a Barroom" was played.
 A troupe of dyed-in-the-wool tragedians from Ashland have put the finishing touches on the performance, which was given by the same cast last Thanksgiving at Ashland. From the wails of the heroine to the growls of the villain the production will be presented on the stage of the Oriental Gardens exactly as it was seen by the parents and grandparents of the audience.
 If it is over-exaggerated in some of the sadder passages, or interspersed with bits of extemporaneous modern wit, the result will only add to the performance.
 Under the direction of Morris Leonard, general chairman, all arrangements have been completed, and Lee Garlock of the ticket sales committee announces that a capacity crowd is expected. The public is asked to go to the Oriental Gardens with the thought in mind of spending an evening of merry-making, for besides the concessions, which will be in operation throughout the performance, there will be real singing waltzes and renditions of all the old time favorite tunes.
 The original script of the play has been given fictitious names, and from Percival Hoppus as the deep-dyed villain to Lizzie Fish as the maid of 18 years, will mix with the audience, the singing waltzes and others of the cast in an evening of hilarity.
 Tickets, although selling fast, are still available from members of Medford post, and should be exchanged for table reservations with Lee Garlock at the AAA offices on South Riverside.

V. F. W. CHRISTMAS TREE IS TONIGHT
 Following its annual custom, Crater Lake post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will entertain all children 10 years of age and under at a Christmas tree celebration tonight, on the main floor of the armory.
 The veterans extend a cordial invitation to the public to attend this gathering and enjoy the party. The entertainment will start promptly at 8 o'clock and continue for a full hour, and will be immediately followed by the entrance of Santa Claus, who will distribute presents to all children present.
 The children are assured that the "real" Santa Claus will be there in person, as he is stopping in Medford for one hour tonight to talk to each child and personally give out the gifts.
