Under the direction of Commis-ationer Benjamin Orames, the Salva-tion Army will play Santa Claus this year to thousands of chidren, women and destitute men throughout the western territory, comprising the 11 Pacific Coast states and Hawaii, Chinese Jananese Sandinavan and Chinese, Japanese, Scandinavians and other nationalities in the larger centers, and prisoners in the jails will not be overlooked. The Salvation Army makes much of Christmas time around the world. for more than fifty years in this territory the Army has consistently maintained its gift giving custom to the poorest families discovered by its relief workers in their daily calls and investigations throughout the
