Activities of Legion Auxiliary

As Monday evening is Christmas eve, there will be no regular meeting of the auxiliary.

There will be a joint meeting of the American Legion and auxiliary at Ashland, December 28, at 8 p. m. The state commander of the American Legion and the state president will be present. The business of the evening will be attended to first, after which there will be dancing followed by a buffet lunch. It is hoped that many will attend from Medford.

Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m. at the high school auditorium the legion and auxiliary are having a Christmas tree party for all children under the age of ten years. A splendid program of entertainment has been arranged, which will delight both young and old and everyone is invited.

The officers of the American Legion Auxiliary wish everyone a very merry Christmas and a happy and prosperous New Year.

Empty Stockings. It now seems a long, long time ago to that December day with its ice and snow. When three little children had no Xmas tree, For that was the depression of eighteen ninety-three.

Hoping father would return home that day. They didn't know he was unemployed and far away. Anxiously waiting and watching the fire burn. Thinking of mother who could never return.

With grandmother they were alone in the house. And she was busy and still, as a mouse. Perchance her heart filled with sorrow. Sadly thinking about the grief of tomorrow.

With faith and smile on each little face. They hung their stockings by the old fireplace. Being very careful to fix them just right. For old Santa would come that night.

Early next morn they came down the stairs. Going very quietly past the table and chairs. The room was cold, the light was dim. There hung the stockings all empty and slim.

Not even a nut, no candy or toys. For the lonely little girl and the boys. There is no heart ache like unto this. For the child that receives not even a kiss.

Then let us help with our store of treasure. Make it a duty, as well as a pleasure. And work with our hands and our mind. To help old Santa every stocking to find.

—SANTA'S FRIEND.

APPLAGATE IRRIGATION PROJECT TO BE TOPIC SERIES OF MEETINGS

BIG APPLAGATE, Dec. 22.—(Sp.)—A series of meetings will be held to acquaint farmers of the valley with the plan for securing government funds for the proposed irrigation storage reservoir at the Barr ranch at Watkins. The next meeting is scheduled for the evening of December 27 at the Missouri Flat school house.

The Applagate Valley Irrigation and Improvement district, a temporary organization with Miles Cantrill as president, was formed at a meeting of valley farmers held at the Applagate hall Wednesday. W. N. Carl was named secretary, and E. H. Taylor, George Herriott and C. R. Hill appointed as board of directors.

An effort will be made to obtain a PWA grant on the project and the next step toward this will be a preliminary estimate on the reservoir and virgin soil to determine cost of the dam, promoters of the plan say. This report will be referred to C. C. Hockley at Portland, PWA engineer for this district.

It is expected that Paul B. Rynning, county engineer, will make the preliminary estimate in a short time, which also will include the amount of water going to waste at the present. Application blanks for water have been received from Charles E. Stricklin, state engineer, at Salem.

The proposed high line ditch to extend approximately 25 miles to Missouri Flat would be used only to supply virgin soil. The state engineer has informed the local committee that under present conditions the dam would cost only 60 per cent of the normal amount. Although the reservoir would be constructed principally to supply dry land below Ruch, a government report made several years ago shows that 750 acres of

COMMITTEES TO JUDGE CHRISTMAS LIGHTING ENTRIES ON FRIDAY

Interest in the Christmas lighting contest sponsored by the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce is being shown by residents of the city, and a number of registrations have already been made at the Chamber of Commerce.

First and second prizes will be given in three divisions this year, namely, for lighted homes-exterior; lighted Christmas trees, and lighted shrubbery. A committee of three has been appointed by Mrs. J. H. Woodford, president of the Medford Garden club, to do the judging. Judging will take place on Friday, December 28. Symmetry of design, and the difficulty in arranging the lighting effects, will be some of the points considered by the committee in making its decision.

The committee has decided to eliminate from competition those persons who won first prizes in the lighting contest last year. Also, all persons engaged in the electrical lighting business are not eligible to compete.

Mann's Cosmetic Head Wins Prize Cosmetic Course

A worth-while Christmas gift was received recently by Mrs. Alto Pruitt, head of the cosmetic department at Mann's store, who was awarded a $25 cash prize for outstanding achievement in a Dorothy Gray cosmetic course. With an enrollment of approximately 1850, the Dorothy Gray organization presented similar cash prizes to only 25 women at this time. Mrs. Pruitt has been recognized previously by the Dorothy Gray company during her management of Mann's extensive toiletry department.

BREWERY CHARGES CODE BOARD PLOT TO ENTRAP THEM

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Charges that the regional code authority for breweries used instigators and stool pigeons to encourage and procure violation of the code, were made today by the Northwest Brewing company.

The company filed a motion in Federal court asking dismissal of government charges that it violated fair trade practices of the code. Accused of giving away additional beer with sales, the company answered that all deliveries were paid for in full. The company declared the suit against it was a scheme to injure it.

The dismissal alleged that the regional board spent money obtained by taxation of the member brewers to hire "instigators and stool pigeons" to encourage, induce and procure violation of the alleged code of fair competition by the employees of the Northwest Brewing company.

The motion further alleged that the evidence procured was "hearsay, which, together with the fact that it was admittedly secured by an attempt at entrapment, wholly fails to show probable cause for leave to file the information herein."

The alleged attempt at "entrapment" was "arbitrarily discriminatory," the motion said, and was "designed to hinder and injure" the company and "lay the foundation for the destruction of its business by revocation of its federal license."

It also was charged that "the prosecuting officers and witnesses were in the employ and under the pay of said alleged board, composed of the bitter competitors of your said petitioner."
