Class to Meet—The SERA interpretive geography class will hold its meetings this week on Friday and Saturday evenings, at the Girls' community club, 229 North Bartlett street. The hour is 7:15. An invitation is extended to the general public, and all members are urged to attend. Some interesting activities are being planned.

Lieut. Harrell Visits—Lieut. Ned Harrell of the U. S. S. Northampton, stationed at Long Beach, Cal., is enjoying the holiday furlough and is visiting his father, J. E. Harrell, and brother, Lieut. Ben Harrell, wife and son, who are also visiting here. Both graduated from the Medford high school. Ned graduated from the U. S. Naval academy at Annapolis in 1933, and Ben graduated from U. S. Military academy at West Point in 1932.

Takes Sketching Trip—Alice D. English, local artist and instructor of the SERA interpretive geography class, has returned from a Christmas vacation spent on a sketching trip alone in the mountains about midway between Medford and Klamath Falls. It was a rather lonely Christmas, but a profitable one, for three interesting oil snow landscapes were obtained. Miss English said: A detailed account of the artist's experiences, some of them quite amusing, will be given Friday night at the meeting of the geography class in the clubhouse of the Girls' Community club, 229 North Bartlett.

PLAN TO HOLD UP LIQUOR STORE IS NIPPED BY POLICE

What is believed to have been a plan to rob the state liquor store was forestalled by the presence of state and city police here last Saturday night, it was learned today. Manager Foy, of the liquor commission, stated that two suspicious-looking men, driving a car with a California license, had been driving the store a careful scrutiny for over a week, and on Wednesday a prominent Medford business man, whose name was not divulged, overheard the men laying plans for the hold-up. Manager Foy was notified, and he gave the information to city police. City and state officers in uniform were present during the evening rush, and stayed to escort the money messenger to the bank at closing time. No trouble was encountered and the incident was thought closed. However, on Monday night the liquor store at Eugene was robbed, according to unofficial reports in Medford, although it was impossible to learn any details here today. It is believed that when the men learned of the close surveillance of the Medford store, they drove north and committed the robbery at the northern city. Local police refused to make any statements today. Had the robbery not been foiled by vigilant police, a large amount of money might have been taken. Inasmuch as the store took in $1,800 Saturday, the largest amount taken on any one day up to that date. Monday, Christmas eve, the store did the greatest volume of business since it was opened taking in over $2,500. It is anticipated that on Saturday of this week and Monday next, these two record days will be equalled or surpassed. According to the local store employees there was more whiskey sold than any other variety of liquor, with rum a close second and gin a good third. The entire supply of rum, which is used in the evidently popular "Tom-and-Jerry" was sold. In order to supply the New Year's demand, 350 cases of liquor are to be delivered tomorrow, they said. The liquor store will remain open until ten on Saturday night, but will be closed promptly at eight on Monday, New Year's eve, it was announced.

PARK OFFICIALS ARE INDICTED BY U. S. GRAND JURY

The statement in the above dispatch, intimating the exact whereabouts of Solinsky are unknown, will be puzzling to his many friends in Medford, for during the past few days several Medford people have been in communication with Mr. and Mrs. Solinsky by letter and phone. They are at present living with relatives in Berkeley, Cal., and only Monday of this week informed Medford friends that they had heard nothing officially of the reported legal action and were at a loss to explain the rumors and printed reports emanating from this city. From the start a great deal of mystery has surrounded the case, which will no doubt be cleared up when the case comes to trial. It is known that a large number of officials and employees in the Crater Lake park service will be called upon to testify, while Mr. Solinsky's defense will be handled by a well known Medford attorney. While superintendent of Crater Lake park, Al Solinsky made many friends in the city, where his family was prominent and popular socially. The first news of his discharge because of alleged irregularities in his department, came as a shock and complete surprise to the entire community.

LIBBY REYNOLDS' SON ACCEPTS $7,000,000 ESTATE SETTLEMENT

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Dec. 27. (AP)—Counsel for Christopher Reynolds, posthumous son of Smith Reynolds, today filed formal notice of acceptance of a proposed settlement of the tobacco fortune heir's estate under which he would receive $7,000,000. The acceptance was filed by R. C. Vaughan, as "next friend" of the infant son of Libby Holman Reynolds. The proposal in question was made by the surviving heirs of E. J. Reynolds, founder of the vast cigarette industry bearing his name, and approved by the Cabarrus Bank and Trust company, co-guardian of Anne Cannon Reynolds, second, Smith Reynolds' daughter of his first marriage to young Anne Cannon, member of the wealthy Concord and Annapolis manufacturing family. Anne and her mother, Mrs. J. F. Cannon, who is co-guardian with the trustee for little Anne, have filed answers bitterly attacking the proposal. Under its terms, little Anne would receive $9,000,000 minus a $2,000,000 "release" settlement made at the time her mother obtained a Reno divorce. ## "Now I'll Tell" Is Exciting Picture

"Now I'll Tell," by Mrs. Arnold Rothstein, starring Spencer Tracy, opened at the Romy theater this afternoon and proved to be a tense, exciting and dramatic 87 minutes of entertainment. Tracy does a masterful portrayal of the sportsman who is the main character in the drama, Alice Faye, as the "other woman," and Helen Twelvetrees as the wife are both splendid. The picture skillfully reveals the romance, drama, comedy night life and sporting events of New York city during the exciting years from 1910 to 1932. Tracy advances rapidly until he becomes a dominant figure in the sporting world. WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—(AP) The treasury today announced bids for construction of the new Baker, Ore., postoffice would be opened here February 13.

West Point Scene Craterian Picture

There were tears very close to the laughter that it evoked; there was a pulse stirring, nerve tingling quality to its thrilling scenes and gorgeous spectacles; it had a plot that rivaled those of serious dramas, and never has a happier combination of youth, talent, music, suspense and beauty been brought to the screen than in "Flirtation Walk," the first military musical ever filmed.

The audience that filled the Craterian theater at the local premiere of this greater and better musical last night, did not hesitate to show its appreciation, even though Dick Powell, Ruby Keeler and Pat O'Brien could not hear its applause. There are two spectacular dance numbers. One is the first screen reproduction of an Hawaiian hula, or "Feast of Love," in which scores of native Hawaiian dancers and musicians participate. The other was filmed at West Point's historic "Flirtation Walk" in which additional scores of the most beautiful girls in Hollywood are seen.

Another enchanting West Point spectacle presents the traditional "Hundredth Night Play" of the academy, and the June graduation ceremonies are worked into the plot as well as scenes on the parade grounds, the famous promenade "Flirtation Walk," from which the picture takes its title, and the Kissing Rock where no maiden dare deny her lover.

These scenes were all taken at the academy under the supervision of the war department.

Powell sings three catchy songs in the West Point spectacle, written especially for the production.

At Rlaito

Florence Rice, charming daughter of Grantland Rice, famed sports writer, makes her motion picture debut in "Fugitive Lady," coming to the Rlaito theater tomorrow. After scoring sensational hits in her last three stage plays on Broadway, Miss Rice was brought to the coast for film work and has been given an unusual drama for her initial effort. What happens when one woman assumes another woman's identity to save her life! And then finds that the other woman's husband welcomes the change!

This unusual circumstance provides the exciting and romantic theme of "Fugitive Lady."

T. B. DEATH RATE CUT BY EFFORTS HEALTH WORKERS

Miss Mildred Carlton, president of the Jackson County Health association, counting the gains of the old year, and reviewing the hopes for 1935 in health work throughout the county, said today that it is well to dwell upon at least one aspect, that during the past year there has been seven deaths from tuberculosis in the county. Miss Carlton said the association is now working hard to reduce this death rate.

When asked whether there were more cases this year than during the previous year, Miss Carlton said, "Yes, but there were fewer deaths resulting from tuberculosis in the past year because of the efforts of the association in teaching early diagnosis. The fact that doctors now report cases more quickly also tends to put more cases on record."

Miss Carlton said it is encouraging to feel that the story of the Christmas seal campaign is spreading with united effort, and said that she is pleased with the returns of the seal this year. Several hundred dollars worth of seals more than were sold during 1934 have been sold during 1934, but the quota has not yet been reached, Miss Carlton said. She urges all to whom letters were sent in November to make a return as soon as possible.

"The fund is still short several hundred dollars of the amount needed in carrying on the increased activities of the association planned for 1935," Miss Carlton said. The association will send postcards soon to those who have not returned either the seals or remittance for them, as a reminder that one or the other will help the workers to know definitely what the 1935 budget will be.

As early replies save the health association time, energy and money, Miss Carlton hopes everyone will continue the cooperation that has been rendered in the past.

ELKS MUST GET DANCE TICKETS

Secretary Ernest Scott of Medford lodge, B. P. O. Elks, stated today that if members of the lodge do not purchase the 200 tickets which have been set as an attendance limit to the New Year's eve dance, they will be sold to outsiders, beginning Sunday.

Scott said that although at least 200 Elks and their guests are planning on attending the dance, it is necessary that members make reservations or get tickets immediately. A letter recently received from station KSL, Portland, reveals that Marie Carlson and his orchestra, which have been secured for the dance, are the most popular group of entertainers yet to broadcast over the station.

The Elks club will provide two Baldwin grand pianos for the dance, loaned through the courtesy of the Baldwin Piano Shopp.
