

BETTY GOW UNDER HEAVY FIRE WHEN CROSS EXAMINED

was summoned by Mrs. Lindbergh. During her testimony for the state the nurse related that when Colonel Lindbergh was apprised of the fact his baby was missing, he procured a rifle, ran into the nursery, and cried: "Anne, they've stolen our baby!"

Hint "Inside Job"

The cross-examination was pointed to the line announced previously by the defense, which is an attempt to show that the kidnapping was plotted in the Lindbergh home by others than the family members and carried out by two men and two women.

"Red" Johnson was a sailor on a yacht owned by one of the Morgan partners. He was acquainted with Betty Gow and she acknowledged on the stand that she went to movies with him.

He was questioned during the investigation of the kidnapping, but was released and deported for illegal entry into the country. Investigation of him at the time centered about the fact that a milk bottle had been found in a car which he drove to Bridgeport, Conn.

Reilly, booming questions at the little nurse, brought out the fact that she was the first person in the Morrow home to know the Lindberghs were not returning from Hopewell on Monday, February 29. (It had previously been testified that Betty Gow did not usually accompany the filers to Hopewell, Mrs. Lindbergh preferring the role of nursemaid herself on these occasions.)

Informed Help

"Did you tell any of the help she was not coming back?" Reilly asked.

"Probably I did," she replied.

"Now, what members of the establishment did you tell that Mrs. Lindbergh was not returning with her baby?"

"I cannot recall now."

"Did you tell 'Red' Johnson?"

"I believe so."

"Why did you tell 'Red' Johnson Mrs. Lindbergh and the baby were not returning?"

"I cannot recall exactly telling them, but I probably would in conversation."

"Well, he didn't work on the estate, did he?"

"But I saw him that night, that evening."

"You saw him Monday evening?"

"Yes."

"Were you out with him Monday evening?"

"Yes."

"Where did you go with him?"

Went Riding

"I just don't recall; riding, I believe."

"You were supposed to be very fond of the baby, weren't you," Reilly asked a bit later.

"I was very fond of the baby," she replied.

Then Reilly asked her why she didn't volunteer to go to Hopewell and care for the baby when she learned it had a cold. She replied that Mrs. Lindbergh didn't ask her.

"But you went out Monday night with Mr. Johnson?"

"I did."

"And you told Mr. Johnson that the Lindberghs were not coming back Monday night, is that correct?"

"I just don't recall if I told Mr. Johnson that."

"Did you tell anybody else?"

"I probably did."

"Why?"

Told No Tradesmen

"For no reason. In the house, I mean, I suppose it was a natural thing for anyone to ask me why the baby wasn't coming back and I would reply that he had a slight cold and that Mrs. Lindbergh was bringing him back."

"But you told no tradespeople, did you?"

"No."

"And you told no outsiders?"

"No."

"And you told no strangers?"

"No."

"And you did not tell this defendant, did you?"

"I did not."

MEIER TO DECIDE REED'S CLEMENCY PLEA IS BELIEF

Action by Governor Meier, before he retires from office next Monday, is predicted on the pardon application of Albert W. Reed, former Denver, Colo., resident serving a life term in state prison for the slaying of Victor Knott, Ashland policeman, on the night of November 18, 1931.

Attorney Gus Newbury of this city, counsel for Reed, presented the petition to the governor at Portland last Friday. The chief executive gave assurances that he would make a decision, the coming week.

The brief of the district attorney of Jackson county, opposing granting of executive clemency was filed with the governor two weeks ago.

Reed's petition is based upon the claim of finding of new evidence showing that he was approximately half a mile from the murder scene, at the time it was discovered, and that Roy Laymon, Ashland policeman, failed to make a positive identification of Reed immediately following the murder, though he did at the trial. The defense has introduced affidavits from a number of Ashland residents and Moore Hamilton, now representative in the legislature from this county, stating that Laymon told them immediately following the killing, he could make no positive identification. Laymon was the star witness of the state at the trial.

The defense petition also charges errors at law of the court in admitting testimony of a California burglar, and alleged misconduct of a juror in visiting the scene of the crime, contrary to court instructions.

Paul McQuade and Lee Jackson, indicted jointly with Reed for the murder have never been apprehended.

JOHN A. MARSH OF 'VILLE PASSES

John Alexandre Marsh, a resident of Jacksonville for the past 41 years, passed away at his home Sunday evening at the age of 78 years. Mr. Marsh was born at Williamsburg, N. Y., and at the age of 17 came west with his parents, and settled at Eureka, Cal. In 1889 he was united in marriage to Addie Hill, in Eureka, and after living there a few years moved to Jacksonville, where their home has since been.

Besides his widow, Addie Marsh, he is survived by one daughter, Mrs. G. F. Shafer of Jacksonville, two grandchildren, Genevieve and Stanley Shafer, one brother, Harris T. Marsh of Eureka, Cal. He leaves a wide circle of friends.

Funeral services will be held from the Conger funeral parlors Wednesday at 2 p. m. Rev. Jones of Jacksonville will have charge of the service at the chapel and the Jacksonville Grange will conduct the services at the grave in the Jacksonville cemetery.

Our "Recovery" Program

I been feelin' sorta rotten
Since I got this case of flu
And my doctor jes now told me
Lots of others had it too.
I hate this dern monotony
A bein' laid up on the shelf
Cuz all I do the whole day long
Is jes feel sorry fer myself.
They say I got a temperature
They made me go to bed,
Mustard plaster on my chest
And cold packs on my head.
I gargle every hour
And take aspirin by the ton,
I got an ache in every joint
This flu sure aint no fun.
For all the neighbors have it
They console me and advise
We think that we might start a club
And sorta organize.
I wouldn't mind the flu so much

$695 AND UP F.O.B. DETROIT

Also new Airflow Models, brilliantly restyled

THIS YEAR, De Soto again makes news... by announcing not one new car, but two!

First—De Soto presents a companion to the famous Airflow, the new Airstream.

Its 93-horsepower engine has a cruising speed of 85 miles an hour... yet it gives an amazing new gas and oil economy.

And you've never had such a ride! Independent wheel suspension gives the front springs slower action. Redistribution of weight eliminates the "double bump." New tapered leaf rear springs are more flexible.

Now the second chapter of the story... a new Airflow... brilliantly restyled!

The front end is smartly improved. Interiors sparkle with handsome new fabrics.

Drive the new Airflow... with its thrilling performance. See both new De Sotos, then ask yourself, "Which De Soto will it be?"
