24,000 Pounds of Local Turkey Meat

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hammel of Eagle Point shipped this carload of fancy dressed turkeys just before Christmas. This shipment, which is reported as the valley's largest from an individual grower, was only a portion of their 1934 turkey crop.

birds are well known in the San Francisco market for their prime quality in most flavor and texture. Hammels obtain this demanded high quality by feeding special turkey rations from the time the poulters are hatched until they are dressed for market. They never stint on feed.

and as a result they have realized a profit, even during the years of low prices. Mr. and Mrs. Hammel have fed Crown Complete-Komprext turkey feeds for three years, which they purchased from the Monarch Seed & Feed Co., southern Oregon dealer and distributors for Crown feeds and flour.

BROPHY IS NAMED

HEAD OF FARMERS LOAN ASSOCIATION

Col. Voorhies, Retiring President, Stresses Need of Confidence in Borrowers—Work of Year Reviewed

At the first annual meeting of the stockholders of the Medford Production Credit association held January 11 at the court house a board of directors was elected consisting of V. D. Brophy of Jackson county, president; Ben Hilson, Josephine county, vice-president; L. Miller, Douglas county, Jess D. Clinton, Coos county, and Clarence Zumwalt, Curry county. L. J. Deuel was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Col. Gordon Voorhies, retiring president, reviewed activities of the association for the past year, pointing out that it is to the interest of every sound borrower that the association make only good loans, as each borrower is required to take out stock, and unsound loans would impair the value of that stock. It was also stressed that the money loaned is not government money but is obtained through the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Spokane, which discounts the notes offered by the Production Credit association and sells debentures to the investing public.

Depend on Confidence Col. Voorhies pointed out that, since the present low interest rate of 5 per cent depends upon the confidence of the Intermediate Credit bank and investors place in the quality of the paper the Production Credit association offers for discount, unsound loans would result in an increase in the rate of interest.

A. B. Robertson of the Production Credit corporation of Spokane presented the financial statement of the association, showing that, because of the profit made since organization last March, the class B stock now has a book value of $5.52 against a par of $5 and, therefore, a borrower's investment in stock of the association represents a real asset of an added cost of obtaining a loan.

Robertson also explained the purchase and set-up of the Farm Credit administration, pointing out that the present organization was intended to coordinate the many loaning agencies previously in existence and to fill the long felt need for a permanent source of credit designed especially for agriculture. He said that, through the Production Credit association and the Federal Intermediate Credit bank, a farmer may now enjoy the benefit of credit in the financial centers which would not be available to him as an individual, explaining that the Intermediate Credit bank discounts the farmer's notes offered by the Production Credit association, deposits them and sells debentures to the investing public. "The last issue of Federal Intermediate Credit bank of Spokane was over subscribed five times," stated Mr. Robertson, "and sold at the very low interest rate of not to exceed 1 per cent."

Low Interest Promised "While money may not always be available through the Production Credit association of 5 per cent," he continued, "because money is like any other commodity and the value changes with the demand, the rate will always be as low, comparably, as the rate of interest any other line of business has to pay. The low rate of interest depends upon the soundness of the loans made by the association, since the investing public must have confidence in this type of financing."

Mr. Robertson stressed the fact that, while the money loaned is not government money, the government aided in establishing the Production Credit associations by furnishing the initial capital, and still maintains a strict supervision over the activities of the associations. He also pointed out that, although the Production Credit association is essentially a non-profit organization, any profit made will eventually accrue to the borrowers who make up the association.

Secretary Deuel read the report of the executive committee, stating that the committee had held 34 meetings and had acted on 209 applications, of which 87 were approved, passed and completed.

"Of the 87 loans completed," stated Mr. Deuel, "36 are in Jackson county, 17 in Douglas county, 4 in Josephine county, 3 in Curry county and 7 in Coos county. Forty-four are fruit loans, 12 range livestock, 21 general purpose, 1 dairy and 1 crop production. The total amount of loans made is $230,728, of which $158,802 has been repaid, leaving $74,926 outstanding. However, we expect this figure to be greatly increased in the very near future, as new loans are being made all the time."

Lucille Walker charged that Ernest Greenidge threatened her with bodily harm. The judge asked her who the man was and she explained that he was her "gentleman voucher."

"What do you mean by 'voucher'?" demanded the court. She explained that he bought her clothes.

"Why, you're a gold digger," the judge replied, and found Greenidge not guilty.

CCC CAMP COOKS

GIVEN TRAINING

With an enrollment of 25 cooks from all camps in the Medford CCC district, a course is underway at the Fairgrounds headquarters detachment in which camp cooks are being trained to become mess sergeants.

The course, under the supervision of First Lieut. Charles H. Jeffers, QM-Ret., is the first of its kind to be started in any CCC district.

Under the instruction of Lieut. Jeffers, the cooks enrolled are taught proper methods of preparing a complete company mess. Balanced menus are prepared, and the proper proportions of vitamins are stressed, so that the enrollees will be able to supervise work of the cooks themselves.

A course for the preliminary training of cooks has been organized at Camp Wimer, where a group of CCC enrollees is being taught butchering and the fundamental principles of preparing food. The fair grounds course takes up the instruction after the enrollees have become thoroughly acquainted with these principles.

The course, underway since Monday, will be brought to a close at the end of this week.

KIWANIS WILL INSTALL

NEW OFFICERS MONDAY

The annual installation of officers for Medford Kiwanis club will be held at Hotel Medford Monday evening following a banquet to be served at 6:30 o'clock. Members and their lady guests will attend.

After the officers for 1935 have been installed, cards will be in play throughout the evening. Ted Geisler is chairman of the committee in charge, and will be assisted by Sebastian Apollo, Frank Perl and Charles Butterfield.

CHICAGO (UP)—Concentrated police action and vigorous prosecution are responsible for the "lowest number of bombings in 10 years," a report of the bomb squad says.
