BRITISH COACHES ON SOCIAL PLANE WITH WATER BOY

Lucky to Draw Down $750 Per Year — Not Among Those Present When Athletes Are Banqueted

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—(AP)—It may be possible to sympathize with the plight of an American football coach who has his salary sliced to $7500 a year, or even one who has a run-in with a senator, but its difficult for the average British athletic mentor to share that feeling.

He would feel extremely lucky, in the first place, if he were drawing down even $750 a year, and if some fellow corresponding to a senator in importance ever condescended to bawl him out he probably would cherish it among his fondest memories.

They Rank Low.

You may gather (and correctly so) that the gentlemen who bear the title of "coach" at England's institutions of learning do not rank very high, either socially or financially.

They do not go around addressing civic clubs—extolling the virtues of a sound body and getting their metaphors mixed—nor do they presume to tell the headmaster that Joe Blinks should receive a passing grade because his trusty toe is needed in Saturday's game.

An American Rhodes scholar at Oxford, formerly a star athlete at an American university, still feels a trifle guilty about what happened to the coach after Oxford and Cambridge held their most recent track meet. There was a big dinner for the rival teams, with pheasant and speeches of mutual admiration. But let our Rhodes boy tell it:

Coaches Eat at Pub.

"They gave me the banquet tickets to distribute among our fellows, and I went around the dressing room handing them out. Gosh, I felt like ten cents when I had to pass up the coach—and me with a handful of tickets. I'd almost rather have given him my ticket if they would have let me.

"Anyway, when we got together with the other team to go into the banquet room, the two coaches drifted down to the corner pub for their sandwiches and beer."

GOVERNOR'S PAY TEST ARGUMENT DELAYED

SALEM, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Due to the failure of Rodney Alden, attorney for Edward Jory of Salem in his suit brought in circuit court here to test the validity of the governor's salary, to appear in court yesterday, arguments of the attorneys were not heard before Judge L. G. Lewelling as scheduled.

Ralph Moody, assistant attorney general and attorney for the defense, was on hand and filed a brief in defense of the legality of the existing salary. It was stated that Alden had 15 days in which to file an answer to the state's argument.

TWO INMATES SUICIDE BY BED SHEET NOOSE

SALEM, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Two inmates of the state hospital here, Robert Baumgartner, 26, Marion county, and Martin Grady, 43, Multnomah county, making use of bed sheets hanged themselves early this morning, the former from a window guard and the latter from a water pipe, hospital attendants announced.

Both men were dead when found hanging. It was reported as Grady's third attempt to take his own life.

Oregon Weather.

Snows east and showers or snow flurries west portion tonight and Thursday; heavy snows in mountains; little change in temperature; fresh west and northwest wind off the coast.

Dad, I've resolved not to eat between meals; a stick of Wrigley's Juicy Fruit is just as good and does not spoil my dinner.—Bud.

PROCLAMATION
