BIRTH CONTROL LEAGUE LOOKS FOR TIME WHEN QUALITY WILL BE AIM

CHICAGO, Jan. 18. (UP)—The American Birth Control league, ending its two-day conference last night, looked forward to an ideal day when population would be static and the world could give its attention to improving the quality, instead of the quantity, of the race.

"What are we going to do," Henry Fraxey Patchin, sociology professor at New York university, inquired, "with young married couples who are so intelligent as to ask, 'Why should we bring a child into this kind of a world?'"

His reply was that, two decades hence, birth rates and death rates would coincide, leaving the population unchanged, and "that it would then become necessary to create a favorable differential in the birth rate between families of good stock and those of poor stock."

He suggested the immediate incorporation into the birth control movement of clinical advice to families of good stock seeking to achieve higher fertility.

PORTLAND GROCERIES TO EXPERIMENT WITH 63-HOUR OPERATION

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 18. (AP)—An experiment with 63-hour-week operation of food stores in Portland, suggested by the NRA authorities, will be made here beginning February 1, recovery headquarters announced today.

Carl Walstrom, vice-president of the Portland Grocers and Merchants' association, said the reduction of operating hours will require services of additional men to handle the volume of business in the restricted time. He estimated the number required at 600.

Wilford C. Long, head of the code authority, said Portland was selected by the national recovery administration as one of the five cities in which to experiment with regulated hours of operation. He said the program has been endorsed by 85 per cent of the food dealers in the city, including some of the large chain groups.

Hours for employees will remain on a 48-hour-week basis except for managers.

Walstrom said "there is no reason why grocery stores should be required to keep open such outrageous hours as at present."

ENJOY MORE SUNNY DAYS

Your mood, your actions, your very personality—all are influenced by the state of your health. Avoid common constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in meals. This ailment may cause headaches, loss of appetite and energy. It takes the color out of living.

Kellogg's All-Bran, a natural laxative food, furnishes you with this needed "bulk." Within the body, it absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass. Gently, this clears out the intestinal wastes.

The "bulk" in All-Bran remains effective with continued use. Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor. Isn't this cereal food better than patent medicines?

All-Bran also provides vitamin B and iron. Serve it as a cereal with milk or cream, or cook into muffins, breads, waffles, etc. It's much more satisfactory than part-bran products. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

SAN QUENTIN BREAK STARTS ACTION FOR BETTER CONDITIONS

SAN QUENTIN PENITENTIARY, Cal., Jan. 18. (UP)—An aroused state legislature planned quick action today for relieving overcrowded conditions in San Quentin prison, where four desperate convicts staged an armed reign of terror and bolted to short-lived freedom Wednesday.

Clyde Stevens, paroled bank robber, who allegedly smuggled guns to the convicts, and Albert Kessel were held meanwhile by San Francisco police, as authorities claimed the two-way prison break had nipped the rise of a death-dealing bank robbery gang.

As the legislature in Sacramento received bills and resolutions aimed at correcting prison difficulties, District Attorney Albert E. Bagshaw planned vigorous prosecution of the three remaining escapees.

The fourth, Rudolph Straight, 35, was fatally wounded by officers who surrounded the complete 34 miles north of here, after they abandoned their hostages—the entire board of prison terms and paroles and two guards.

Warden James B. Holohan, brutally beaten in the prison break, reported recovering at his home here, while solitary confinement cells held Fred Landers, 27, Joe Kristy, 26, and Alexander Mackay, 26, other convicts in the escape.

Anna Roosevelt Dall Weds John Boettiger

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18. (AP)—The president and Mrs. Roosevelt today announced the marriage of their daughter, Anna Roosevelt Dall, to John Boettiger, former Chicago newspaperman.

The ceremony took place this morning about 9 o'clock at the president's home in New York City on East 53th street. It was performed by Judge J. Frederic Kernochan of New York, intimate friend of the family.

Mrs. Roosevelt and members of the family attended. The others present included Mrs. Roosevelt, Sr., mother of the president, Mrs. James Roosevelt, Jr., Elliott, a brother, and his wife, Ruth; John, another brother, and Harry Hooker, a close friend of the family.

The couple immediately left for an unannounced destination.

Boettiger has been residing in New York City and they will make their home there.

He recently left the Chicago Tribune and is now employed with the Motion Picture Producers of America.

For months before the marriage, the capital has buzzed with rumors of their romance.

The two were seen riding together out at Fort Myer, where the Roosevelts keep their horses, in the early morning, and dancing together at the fashionable Washington hotels at night.

They became friends during the Roosevelt campaign trans-continental tour when Mrs. Dall was with her father and Boettiger covered the trip for the Tribune. Later he was assigned to the Washington staff of the newspaper.

In a ten-minute court proceeding, Mrs. Dall was divorced from her first husband—Curtis B. Dall, a broker—last July 30 at Minden, Nevada. She charged "extreme cruelty."

They had been married eight years.

TRAVEL MENU NO. 2

Russian

The winter season seems ideal for trying a menu of Russian dishes, which are often just the kind one could relish after having been out of doors in the snappy, cold days of January.

Borach (Soup)

Place a soup bone in a large kettle and cover with cold water. Boil for several hours. About half an hour before serving, remove bone and add ten cooked beets, grated into the soup. Season with salt, pepper and onion. (For a heavy soup add diced potatoes and sliced cabbage). Strain into bowls and place a spoonful of sour cream in center of dish or pass a dish of the cream to be taken if desired by each person.

Sturgeon (or Halibut) a la Russe

Wash four pounds of fish thoroughly, then let stand covered with a layer of salt for about one hour. Place in a large saucepan 4 tablespoons of butter, 4 tablespoons of cooking sherry, 1/4 cup water, 1 bay leaf and 2 tablespoons minced parsley. Wipe the fish so as to remove salt and put in the saucepan. Cover and cook slowly until tender (about 1 hour). Make a sauce of the liquid left by adding 1/4 cup of chopped celery, 2 tablespoons chopped cucumber (if available), 6 chopped olives, 1/4 cup mushrooms, 2 tablespoons tomato catsup, 1 tablespoon butter and 1 tablespoon flour. Let boil up once and pour over the fish. Decorate with bits of horseradish.

Greens

Cut fresh tomatoes in large sections. Sprinkle with a little finely cut chives, parsley and oyster. Serve with dressing:

Shake until thick—
1 cup olive oil.
Juice of 1 orange.
Juice of 1 lemon.
1 teaspoon grated onion.
2 tablespoons catsup.
Salt to taste.
Cranberry Pot Pie

1 quart water.
2 cups sugar.
Cook until tender then, when still boiling, drop into this by spoonfuls:

HAT MILLIONAIRE SUED FOR DIVORCE

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 18. (UP)—Charging that he once said a colored maid was "the best looking woman in the room"—a room containing herself and many of her friends—Mrs. Lucretia Haughman Stetson today filed suit for divorce against G. Henry Stetson, heir of the hat millions.

In a 29 page complaint containing dozens of instances, Mrs. Stetson made a general allegation of cruelty. Contending that Stetson is many times a millionaire, she asked alimony of $1200 monthly.

She complained that Stetson showed great affection for her during the first two years after their wedding—a society event of May 18, 1928—but after that "became morose and sullen, and fell into the habit of remaining away from home during the night, drinking excessively."

Quotes Dunne Letter

Quoting excerpts from one from ex-Senator Joe Dunne, Portland, he read: "You have heard the howl of the coyote—just you wait, old boy, and you will learn of more wild animals than you ever heard of."

Haight quoted Dunne as declaring there were too many bills introduced, and added that "if there is a man in the state that ought to know about the evils of introducing laws, he is the man." Dunne, almost every session he served, held the individual record for the number of bills introduced.

Permanent improvement of all the highways of the state system designated by the Oregon laws of 1917 is asked of the highway department in a joint resolution (introduced in the house Friday morning by Representative Spitzer, of Deschutes and Lake counties. For the purpose of this resolution the term "permanent improvement" is made to include one of the types of oiled surface developed by the commission in connection with highway construction and maintenance, he stated.

Oregon would be given another holiday under provisions of a joint resolution introduced in the house by Representative Warren Erwin, Multnomah. It directs the governor to proclaim October 11 of each year as General Pulaski's memorial day.
