

VIRGINIA TO GET GANG CHIEFTAINS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—(AP)—The department of justice plans to turn Robert Mals and Walter Legenza, tri-state gang leaders captured today in New York over to the state of Virginia for execution.

The two broke jail in that state while awaiting fulfillment of the death sentence for murder.

Also arrested today with Mals and Legenza were Mary McKeever, a man named Farrell and a third person named Gale.

They will be charged with various federal offenses.

Gale is understood to have escaped from a Florida chain gang on Christmas day.

There was no shooting in the New York raid.

"Those fellows are too yellow to shoot," an official said.

CCC CONTINUANCE FOR ANOTHER YEAR ROOSEVELT'S PLAN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—(AP)—More money for the Home Owners Loan corporation and extension of the Civilian Conservation Corps are planned by President Roosevelt.

At his press conference today he said additional funds for the home corporation to meet applications already on file, would be sought but the amount had not been decided upon. A billion dollars has been mentioned in administration sources.

The president said he favored continuing the CCC another year.

On the proposal for old age pensions, he emphasized that while the federal government had limited its share to $15 a month there was no limitation upon the amount the states might provide.

He said the federal limit was necessary to keep the old age program within sound financing.

As for the unemployment insurance proposal Mr. Roosevelt said he assumed the states would adopt a uniform system of providing for workers who change from one job to another so their contributions to the insurance fund would be safeguarded.

Hope was expressed by the president that the social security legislation would be put through quickly so it could get to the state legislatures before most of them adjourn at the end of March or first of April.

These Principles may not be written in the 1936 Republican or Democratic Platforms but will become a National Issue. Ability to Buy must be provided for.

Whistling Buoy Woos Cow With Plaintive Moo's

KODIAK, Alaska, Jan. 18.—(UP)—Convicted that a new whistling buoy off Kodiak Island is a boy friend of romantic inclinations. Beside, a cow paced the sands of Long Island restlessly today.

A. W. Bennett, fur farmer, said he could not prove to Besse that it was only a buoy friend.

Since the United States lighthouse service installed the buoy, Besse has refused to leave the beach. She neglects milk production and walks back and forth, muting encouragingly to the distant sailor.

Bennett said he was considering an alienation suit against Capt. Leadbetter of the lighthouse tender Cedar.
