DROUTH REFUGEES WILL NOT STARVE SAYS RELIEF HEAD

HILLSBORO, Ore., Jan. 22.—(AP)—Despite the gloomy and despondent attitude taken by some of the relief bureau workers here, no one in Washington county is going to starve to death. This was the declaration today of R. W. Well, chairman of the county relief committee.

Well was busy all day answering queries about 80 families, refugees from the midwest drouth area, who came here and are classed as transients. Because transient funds have been slashed drastically, some relief office workers declared Saturday that "we can't do a thing for them. There's nothing for them to do but starve."

Today Well said it appeared additional money would be available from other sources; the Red Cross will help, and lodges and churches will see that no one goes hungry. Meanwhile, every family in the county is being supplied with necessities of life.

At Portland, Elmer Goudy, head of the state relief administration, said he had not even been consulted about the reputed plight of the refugees. "In any event," he said, "it is certain no one will starve."

CLAUDE L. MANKE NAVY HONOR MAN

Claude L. Manke, son of Julius A. Manke of Medford, has been designated weekly honor man in company 34-42, at the naval training station at San Diego, Cal. It was made known here in a letter received from Commander F. J. Lowry, training officer.

The designation of "honor man" means that during the week just past Manke was chosen as outstanding in a group of 137 men in his company. Honor men are selected because of their neat personal appearance, initiative and their ability to profit from instruction received during their recruit training.

Manke, well known in Medford, where he attended high school, was enlisted last November 21 by Officer C. E. Yonque of the local recruiting station, and given final examinations by Commander G. W. Crose at Portland.

Having received the required preliminary training, he will graduate with his company from the training school at San Diego in the second week of February, when it is expected he will return home on a short leave before continuing his service.

NEW PARDON PLEA FOR ALBERT REED REQUIRED

Word has been received here by state and county officials, that the petition of Albert W. Reed, for a pardon from a life sentence in state prison for the murder of Victor Knott, Asahland policeman on the night of November 18, 1931, is null, due to former Governor Meier taking no formal action upon it, before the expiration of his term of office, Jan. 14.

To receive consideration the pardon plea would have to be formally presented to Governor Martin. Attorney Gus Newbury has stated that he would do this as soon as the confusion of the legislative session had passed.
