

POWER MEASURE OPENS OLD FEUD IN LEGISLATURE

defeated in the legislature last session as a result of the conflicting measure brought in by John H. Lewis, former state engineer. Those who studied the bill here today declared the new measure appeared to have the support of the same interests.

State Grange Master Ray Gill, and Morton Tompkins, grange leader, stated, however, they would first introduce a memorial to congress urging federal construction of transmission lines, but the power bill would be brought in to provide state control should it be necessary for government control of the system.

Corrects Faults
Tompkins declared their bill would correct some objectionable features which he declared caused the defeat of the grange power bill by the electorate at the last election. In other features, including the creation of a power commission and exempting expenditure of unvoted bonds, it would be similar to the measure brought in today by Henry Olsen and a group of other members of the house and senate.

The bill which was brought into the house on the 13th day of the session neared the close and prior to the week-end adjournment tonight would empower a commission of three members to construct a 2,600 mile system of lines, appropriate $10,000 at the outset until $25,000 bonds could be sold. In construction of the lines the state would sell bonds up to $10,000,000 without vote of the people. Later, if more funds are required the state, upon vote of the people, could sell additional bonds up to six per cent of the assessed valuation of property in Oregon.

Martin Not Favoring
Both proposals will go in without administration support, as both provide that Oregon construct the lines. Governor Charles H. Martin in his campaign declared himself adam-out the country. More than four million persons and every important orchestra in the country are expected to take part. Above (center) is a typical Birthday Ball gathering, assembled under the auspices of Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas at Kansas City last year. Inset (upper right) some New York social registrars lay plans for the Waldorf Astoria Birthday Ball in New York City. # HILLAH OFFICIALS ARE RETAINED IN ANNUAL ELECTION

The annual meeting of the Hillah Temple Shrine patrol was held at the Caves Shop in Grants Pass Thursday night at which time officers for 1935 were selected.

Members of this well known marching unit, substitute patrolmen, Potentate Floyd Whittle, Past - potentate A. K. Cass, R. E. Detrick, recorder of Hillah Temple and other Shrine officials enjoyed a banquet Barnett and participated in a business session and round table talks. Patrol Captain Rex Barnett of Grants Pass presided as toastmaster for the occasion.

The entire list of officers, who so capably supervised the activities of the patrol during the past season, were unanimously elected to serve again during the 1935 season. Leadership of the organizations will be in the hands of Rex Barnett who has served in this capacity for several years.

Under the direction of Barnett, the Hillah patrol has appeared in Shrine parades in San Francisco and Los Angeles, Cal., Reno, Nev., Portland, Ore., and various southern Oregon communities, bringing considerable publicity to both the southern Oregon Shrine temple and this section of Oregon. The patrol's most recent out-of-state appearance was in Sacramento, Cal., last November.

Paul B. Rynning of Medford will again serve as first lieutenant of the patrol, while the second lieutenant position will be held by Sam Stinebaugh of Grants Pass. Four Medford men will fill the other offices in Hillah's marching organization. Members of the new power commission would at first be appointed by the governor, one to be named from each congressional district, and from then on would be elected. The new commission would abolish the hydro-electric commission set up in 1931. The 1931 commission act had abolished the former hydro-electric commission set up in 1921.

county, its indebtedness had increased, and that the tax burden was too great to be taken care of. Senator Dean Walker declared that conditions in other counties should be examined as well before the passage of such a measure. Senator Henry Hess objected to its passage on the grounds that it would be setting a dangerous precedent.

The front of both the Main street and Central street sections will be rebuilt. The Central street section to have arcades, with a double row of show windows with walk between. The offices, show rooms and floor space will be enlarged and improved, and the partition work between the Mann store on the east, and the Hutchison section will be removed. The store now occupied by the men's department will be vacated.

The work of remodeling the building is being financed by Davis at a cost of $15,000 to $17,000, the additional cost of the fixtures and equipment will be borne by the store. The entire second floor of both buildings will be air-conditioned. Asked how long the work will take, Manager Moffat stated that it would be 90 days or more before the project was completed, but that the store would be open for business during that time. He also stated that the new fixtures, while not radical in design, would be ultra modern and in close harmony with the other improvements.

Ten thousand additional feet of floor space will be acquired, and a new arrangement of departments will be made with several new departments added, although plans are not yet completed.

Frank C. Clark is the architect of the new building plans. Contracts for the work will be let in the near future, and work will be rushed. Mann's store has been one of the most progressive in the city, improving constantly in every way possible in past years and the new project is in keeping with the policy of giving to the public the best service obtainable in the most pleasant of surroundings.

REVIVAL PROGRESSING AT FREE METHODIST
The revival at the Free Methodist church is progressing in a very satisfactory manner, says the pastor, Rev. E. N. Long. "The evangelist, A. L. Haywood, is not afraid to present gospel truth. The messages are being received and the congregations come back to hear more. The messages in song by Mrs. Haywood are much appreciated." There will be no services Saturday night.

Bride a Truant
SPRINGFIELD, Mo.—(UP)—Titham-haired, 13-year-old Marguerite White Tate found that even a marriage certificate won't exempt her from going to school, at least for a while. After the young bride had "played hooky" to go honeymooning for a week, truant officers told the 21-year-old bridegroom, Deward Tate, that she must attend until she is 16 or passes the eighth grade.
