Miss Landen Stirs Admiration in Her Violin Presentation

In presenting Lucie Neale Landen, violinist, in recent Friday night, the Southern Oregon Normal is to be congratulated on the vitality with which it is building up its music department and the interest that is being focused on the importance of having good music.

Miss Landen has been added to the faculty this year and comes from New York, where she has had successful teaching experience, as well as an interesting career as concert violinist.

Opening her program with two movements of the Handel Sonata in E major, and following with the Tartini variations on a theme by Corelli, she showed a delightful mastery of that most difficult classic school and delighted her audience.

The Symphonie Espagnole by Lalo (now 40 years dead) was most satisfying in both style and interpretation. Two groups of charming shorter numbers lent variety to an otherwise heavy program, and held a touch of individuality in that one of these numbers was Miss Landen's own composition, The Hindu Cradle song, by the American composer, Harriet Ware, was arranged by Carl Wecker and dedicated to Miss Landen.

The Valse Bluetie, immortalized by F. Kreisler, was played with grace and enticing rhythm. The closing number, Dance, by de Walla, brought forth the encore "From the Canabrake," which was repeated.

Miss Landen's playing is characterized by intellectuality, deep feeling for the inner meaning of music and by a tremendous sweep in rhythm that is typical of all artists. It is hoped that her year's schedule will afford many more concerts and recitals.

Miss Alice Holmback, who after graduation from the University of Oregon, spent two years in Seattle, was an artistic accompanist, giving adequate tonal and emotional support at all times.

The recital is to be given soon in Medford.

The program follows:
Andante and Allegro.....Handel
Theme and Variations.....Tartini-Corelli
Symphonie Espagnole.....Lalo
Allegro non troppo
Andante
Scherzando
Romance.....Wieniawski
Nocturne.....Liszt
Capriccio.....Mendelssohn
Tango.....Ware-Wecker
(Dedicated to Miss Landen)
Valse Bluetie.....Drigo
Dance (La Vite Breve).....de Falla
