65 DOGS LICENSED FOR CURRENT YEAR

Dog licenses are being procured by dog owners at the rate of approximately 30 per week, and the total number of 1935 licenses issued today by the county clerk is 65, principally in this city and Astland.

Last year 716 dog licenses were issued. It is estimated that the dog population of the county is 1220. Last year the county paid out more money, $1,000, for dog licenses than was taken in for dog licenses. The fee is $1 for males and $1.50 for female dogs.

The county clerk has announced it will make a drive for the collection of dog licenses this year. The sheriff's office will have charge of the work outside of incorporated towns. A number of dog owners have been interviewed and have promised to purchase licenses before March 1, the final date.

Rialto Tuesday

Sylvia Sidney appears in a new characterization—that of a full-blooded beautiful Indian girl—in her new starring film, "Behold My Wife," coming tomorrow to the Rialto theater.

First seen in the native New Mexico background of the Apache Indians, of which she is a member, Miss Sidney meets Gene Raymond, pampered son of wealthy New York parents, who fled from the metropolis when his family halted his marriage to a girl he loved.

Raymond, wounded in a fight, is nursed to health by Miss Sidney and, realizing she is in love with him, marries her and takes her with him to New York to humiliate his parents. Plans miscarry and the family takes the Indian girl to their heart, but in the meantime, a murder is committed and before everything is cleared, the action moves to a rapid climax.

TAX FORECLOSING ACTIONS STARTED

Delinquent tax foreclosure proceedings containing the names of 1263 Jackson county property owners were formally filed by the district attorney's office today. The proceedings are mandatory under state law. February 4 is the date of first publication.

The delinquent tax list is for the years 1928, 1929 and 1930. The amounts range from 20 cents, the smallest, to $1100. There are a number of sums listed under $5. The second lowest foreclosure amount is $1.41, and the third lowest is $1.48.

The proceedings, the district attorney said today, are directed against a number of property owners who failed to take advantage of the revised Oregon tax laws that provided a 10-payment plan for delinquent taxes.

SCREEN REVIEW

(By Dick Applegate.) A striking drama based upon the lives of student nurses, portraying their work, difficult hours, and lack of opportunity for love and companionship with the outside world, and the heavy responsibility placed upon them, is the "White Parade," which opened at the Craterian theater to a large audience last night.

The play is one with a delicate touch that needs the artistry of Loretta Young to make it a success, and that young lady adds considerably to her already long line of hits by her work in this vehicle. Miss Young is to me, one of the most charming of the younger actresses in Hollywood, with talent and grace that few possess.

John Boles seems well cast as the rich polo player who is in love with Nurse Loretta. The play doesn't have much plot, but carries one in detail through the whole career of a nurse in training. When it played in San Francisco recently, tickets sold at a high price, and the production was hailed as one of the finest of its kind ever filmed. A bit heavy for the kids.

TOWNSEND GROUP CORRECTS ERROR IN RECALL PLEA

SALEM, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Signatures of 2945 registered voters in Lane county, or 25 per cent of the highest votes cast for a justice of the supreme court, will be required to bring about a recall election against Howard Merriam, representative from Lane county.

Petitions for recall can be circulated in the county today as the corrected petition was filed this morning. A preliminary petition was filed last Saturday but was sent back because of error.

The recall movement was started by Charles L. Paine, state divisional organizer of the Townsend clubs, and the petition was signed by E. L. Brown and Niels Pedersen of Eugene and S. Jacobson of Springfield.

The signers declared they took the step because they were "aggrieved on the action in office of Howard S. Merriam." And set out that he had "failed to support and has opposed measures which were initiated in the interests of the people of Lane county." And that he cast his vote against the Townsend old age revolving pension fund plan memorial and by his vote had delayed action on the memorial.
