

THE WOLF'S INSIDE THE DOOR!

When blond Claire Luce of the stage returned to New York from eight months on the London stage she expressed surprise upon learning that a Nevada divorce actor had been started by her husband Clifford Warren Smith.

After straying from home, Wolfson showed his joy in being returned to his mistress, Mrs. Carrie Harter of Seattle, Wash., by eating most of a cake lying on the table and pulling down some curtains. The wolf, now in the arms of his mistress, is a household pet. (Associated Press Photo)

U. S. PUSHES NEW CAMPAIGN AGAINST CRIME

President Roosevelt (left) called for a double-barreled attack on lawlessness in what was described as the greatest campaign of its kind in the nation's history, when he addressed the attorney general's crime conference in Washington. J. Edgar Hoover (right), head of the department of justice's bureau of investigation and nemesis of the underworld, is shown as he told the conference that "political pressure" must be eliminated if gangs are to be permanently exterminated. Shown (upper center) are Secretary Morgenthau, director of the treasury department's new drive on lawlessness, and Attorney-General Cummings. (Associated Press Photos)

ROSE FETE QUEEN CANDIDATES

One of these Southern California misses will rule over the annual Tournament of Roses in Pasadena, Cal., Jan. 1, 1935. They are: Emily Bettanier, Catherine Butler, Lynn Smith, Lucille Speits, Dorothy Bruce, Muriel Cowan and Shirley Chamberlain. (Associated Press Photo)

SNOW HALTS MISSOURI TRAFFIC

A typical mid-winter snowstorm arrived several months ahead of schedule in Missouri and tied up more than a thousand motorists on U. S. Highway No. 66, a few miles east of Springfield, Mo., before snow plows could be rushed to the scene to open the road. Most of the stranded motorists sought aid at the nearby town of Strafford which has a population of only 125. (Associated Press Photo)

BRUNO DENIED ELEVEN REQUESTS

Eleven of twelve defense requests for particulars on the indictment against Bruno Hauptmann (right) in the Lindbergh kidnaping case were denied by Supreme Court Justice Thomas W. Trenchard, who commanded the prosecution to disclose what it would charge caused the death of the Lindbergh baby. This picture shows Hauptmann leaving the courtroom in Flemington, N. J. (Associated Press Photo)

SHIP SEARCH YIELDS NARCOTIC HAUL

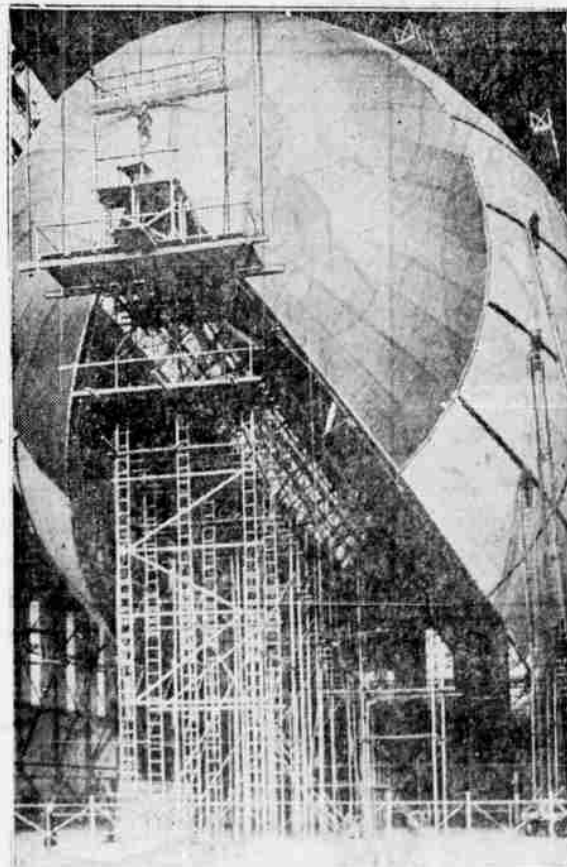

Customs inspectors of Seattle, Wash., examining narcotics seized after a search of the liner President Jackson as it arrived from the orient. R. S. Ballinger (left), chief inspector, and R. A. Leonard said the illicit cargo weighed 297 ounces and had a value of $47,000. (Associated Press Photo)

BRINGS REPORT TO PRESIDENT

William C. Bullitt (right), United States ambassador to Russia, was greeted in Seattle by Senator Homer T. Bone upon his return from the soviet. Bullitt was en route east with a personal report for President Roosevelt. (Associated Press Photo)

RUSH WORK ON NEW ZEPPELIN

Germany's latest bid for supremacy in the air, the new zeppelin LZ-129, which is scheduled to inaugurate passenger and mail service between Germany and the United States, is shown in its hangar at Friedrichshafen where it is rapidly nearing completion. (Associated Press Photo)

Gets Two Years

Mrs. Ida Schaefer, wife of "Gloomy Gus" Schaefer who is serving a term in Illinois for kidnaping, was sentenced in Sacramento, Cal., to two years in a federal prison on charges of participating in the $234,000 Sacramento postoffice robbery.

'Muss 'Em Up'

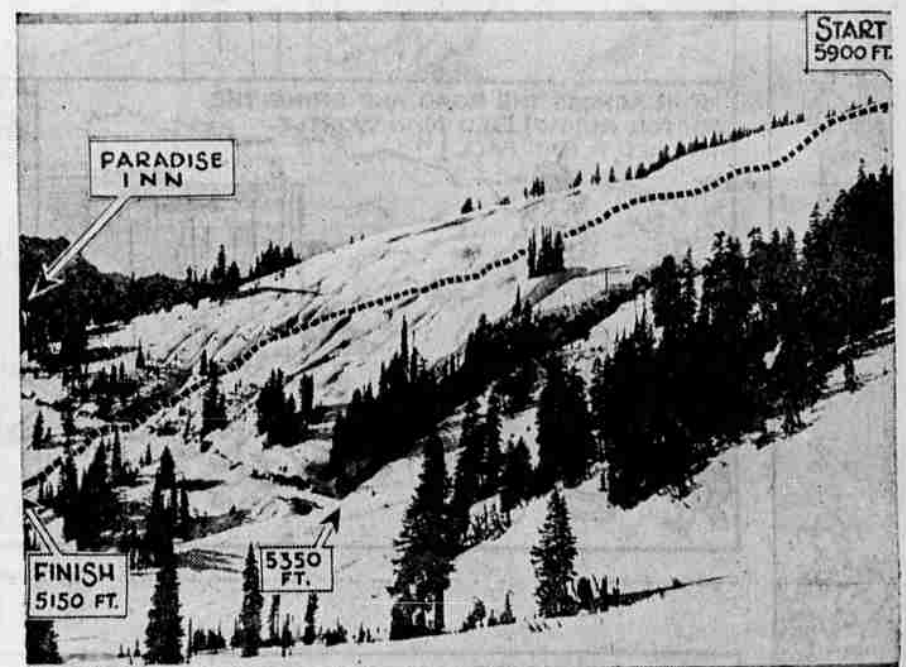

Orders of Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine (above) to New York City policemen to "bring in these known criminals mussed up a little" has evoked varying comment from other police heads of the country on the subject of "police brutality." (Associated Press Photo)

Suit Is Ordered

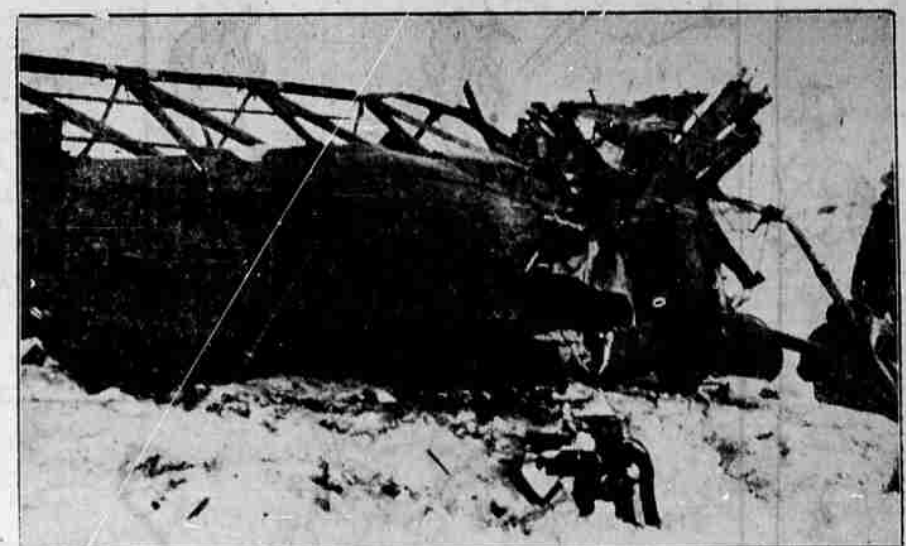

Mary Pickford (above), movie actress, instructed her attorney in Los Angeles to go ahead immediately in court with her long pending divorce suit against Douglas Fairbanks. A trial date in early January is expected.

SKI COURSE PROPOSED FOR OLYMPIC TRIALS

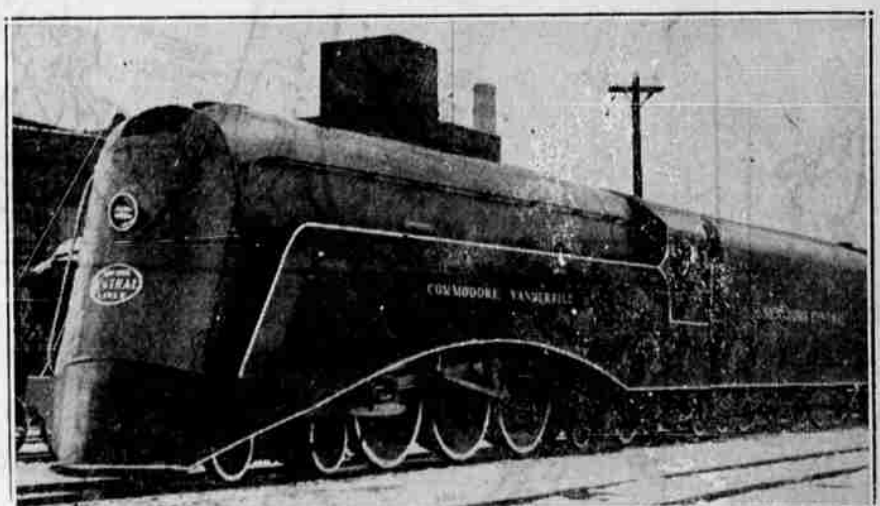

Down this long, steep snow field, or one similar to it on Mt. Rainier in western Washington will be held the U. S. Olympic trials and national championships in slalom and downhill racing next April. The dotted line shows the proposed course with elevations. (Associated Press Photo)

PILOT, THREE CHILDREN DIE IN PLANE CRASH

This mass of wreckage was all that was left of an airplane which crashed in the snow-covered mountains north of Elko, Nev. Pilot Floyd De Long and three children were killed. De Long was flying Donald Stinton, 13; his sister, June, 16, and Ruth Womack, 13, to their homes at Mountain City, Nev., from Elko where they had attended the funeral of a brother of the Stinton children. The parents reached their home safely in another airplane. (Associated Press Photo)

AN IRON HORSE GETS A STREAM-LINED BLANKET

Here is the New York Central lines' first venture into the popular custom of stream-lining railroad rolling stock. It's a regular steam engine—of one of the lines' biggest and fastest types—almost completely sheathed with a stream-lined "overcoat" of thin steel. It is shown as it was wheeled out of the West Albany, N. Y. shops for a few warm-up spins. (Associated Press Photo)